Dear Mr. Hoover:

I am of the opinion that the Bureau could benefit tremendously public relations-wise and at the same time perform a vitally needed service to the country through a nation-wide public education program on the "Dangers of Communism." The program which I envision would consist of speeches made before church and civic groups, schools, colleges, fraternal and social organizations, trade associations, conventions and the like.

It is not my suggestion that Bureau employees give these talks, but rather that the Bureau simply grant its blessings in the way of "subtle cooperation" with the Society of Former Special Agents of the F. B. I.

Members of the Society are not strangers to the Bureau. The Bureau knows more about them than they know about themselves. There has been installed in them a feeling of loyalty and pride which does not diminish with years of separation. They still get just a little "chesty" when Bureau activities are headlined. They cannot forget that the Bureau officials, more than any other group of important government officers, were the first not only to recognize the danger of Communism but to do something about it.

The Society is made up of a group of men, the majority of whom have attained positions of authority and responsibility in their fields of endeavor largely through their training and experience with the Bureau. These men are prideful of the fact they have been in Bureau service or they obviously would not continue to maintain their membership in the Society.

At the same time, their appreciation of the dangers of Communism, I am sure, is much greater than that of the average citizen. They would leap at the opportunity to be of service to the Bureau in the manner I have suggested.

By "subtle cooperation" I mean Bureau participation only to the extent of furnishing that information which the Bureau is at liberty to disclose. The Bureau has an interest in seeing that the subject matter is accurate and is extremely well presented. I have not discussed this suggestion with any officer or even any member of the Society. Rather than proceeding along that line, I think that much greater enthusiasm for the program would be engendered by a request from you to the Society for their cooperation in a program of this nature.

One of the reasons I feel so strongly about this matter is that it is my responsibility to negotiate contracts with a local union of the United Electrical Radio and Machine Workers of America - C. I. O. I fully appreciate to what lengths a Communist-dominated organization will go to further its objectives.

I would be pleased to have your reactions.

Very truly yours,

Dear Member:

The Washington Chapter will hold its annual dinner Monday night, December 6, 1948, at the Touchdown Club, 1414 Eye Street, N. W. Your officers, and the Dinner Committee, headed by John Philip, have planned a full evening for you enjoyment.

Guests of the evening will be the United States Attorney George Morris Fay, John Vincent, the Society's National President for the coming year, and Mike Hunicutt, well known radio entertainer. Invitations have been extended to several Judges of our local Courts and to Major Robert J. Barrett, Chief of the Metropolitan Police Department who has been asked to discuss the newly formed police reserve corps at this meeting.

To top off the evening, our Chapter will hold elections of officers for the coming year. The nominating Committee, consisting of Joe Cannon, Aaron Jacobson and Kenny Collins have nominated the following for various offices:

Chairman:	Edward P. Guinane James R. Sharp
Vice Chairman:	John W. Phillip Francis D. Flanagan ✓
Secretary:	Daniel L. O'Connor Sterling F. Stoudenmire
Treasurer:	Raymond F. Newkirk Leonard R. Viner

The success of our last meeting shows the popularity of the buffet style supper. Your Dinner Committee has arranged for another buffet for December 6th and this will consist of turkey, ham, chicken salad, potato salad and all the trimmings. Again all liquid refreshments will be "on the house" and the nominal price of $5.00 will again prevail.

This is our last meeting of the current year and the last over which your current officers will preside. Let's have a big turn out and make it a success.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. NICHOLS

SOCIETY FORMER SPECIAL AGENTS

While calling the Bureau on other matters on January 18, SAC Abbaticchio of the Cleveland Office talked with me while you and [redacted] were tied up concerning an invitation to address the Quarterly Meeting of the Society of Former Special Agents of the FBI of Northern Ohio. Mr. Abbaticchio was told that he should not do this but should present some ~~thoughtful~~ excuse for not being available. He indicated that he would do so.

SOCIETY FORMER SPECIAL AGENTS
OF THE
FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION
INC.

ROOM 903, 70 PINE ST., NEW YORK 7, N. Y.

F. M. HICKEY SOCIETY'S EIGHTH PRESIDENT

Francis M. Hickey passed away on Friday, December 31, 1948 in Washington, D. C. Several months ago he had undergone an operation at George Washington University Hospital there and it was understood he had had a good recovery. He had returned to work and had been returned to the hospital for only one day at the time of his passing. Burial was at Stillwater, Saratoga County, New York on Tuesday, January 4, 1949. Mr. Hickey is survived by his widow.

"Jerry" as he was affectionately known in the Bureau and, his friends was the Society's eighth president serving the year 1945-46. He served in the F.B.I. from 1923 to 1941 where he made a host of friends. After leaving the Bureau he was with Army Air Forces Intelligence Section and American Airlines in New York City. A year or two ago he went to Washington, D. C. with the Central Intelligence Agency where he was employed until his death. He served in the Navy from 1912 to 1916, was a Lt. Commander U.S.N.R. from 1934 to 1941.

The passing of "Jerry" Hickey is a loss to the entire Society because he was a man of friendly understanding and had always been an active interested member. The news of his untimely passing was a distinct shock to his many friends.

Keeping Up With Those You Know

Ray Sullivan with Arabian American Oil Company attended annual meeting. He is interested in men wanting to sign a two year contract. Says you can save money.

Lew Nichols has left Kansas City for Manhattan Beach, California.

H. J. Washington is with Dodge Bros. Corp. St. Louis, Missouri.

Looks like Willard Max moved a couple of blocks down the street out of St. Louis into Clayton, Mo. Hey, Willard, did you ever get your picture?

Fred Ragsdall moved from Dallas, Ga. to Atlanta.

E. R. Landsnaes has removed from West Coast to 31606 Auburn Drive, Birmingham, Michigan. In long epistle changing his address he claims he went to a certain university which we don't dispute. We raise an eyebrow on his assertion that he was in attendance there with Tom Myers. We never asked Tom but if certain Tom didn't go to college—or if he did—why is he working for a living?

Hubert O'Malley is an attorney with Creole Petroleum Corp., New York City.

J. Anthony Marcus of 205 E. 42 Street, New York is with the Institute of Foreign Trade and if you are interested in an article on "How The Soviets Steal Our Industrial Secrets" write him and he will send you the six page article.

Dan McCain is with Chicago Crime Commission.

Patrick Condry is an attorney in Clarksburg, West Virginia. Pat, your Grapevine Editor travelled West Virginia for many years and will never forget the fine restaurant your town could boast. Incidentally if any member finds himself sick in Charleston, W. Va., Pat's father John C. is a doctor there.

Keith Angell is with Economic Cooperation Administration and expects to be assigned to their Paris office.

Horace Duffy formerly Waukesha, Wisc. is with R.C.A. Victor, Indianapolis, Ind.

Bill Carroll is Attorney for the Air Pilots Association, Chicago, Ill.

Doug Gessford is at 1 Brookwillow Rd., Long Branch, N.J.—Long time—no see Doug.

John E. Julsrud has returned to the F.B.I. and is reported working in the Chicago area.

John Manning was in Los Angeles at time of annual meeting in New York.

Mort Jones is it our fault or yours?

John Drury of Schenectady, N. Y. we are afraid you are suffering with itching feet or wanderlust. Maybe you only wish to escape New York winters?

Jim Fogarty attended annual meeting.

What's this? W. Edmund Peters is at 4108 Stanhope Ave. Dallas, Texas. Last we heard of him he was playing bridge in Japan.

Al Muzzey with Air Forces, Washington, D. C. Best wishes Al!

Emmett F. McCarthy is operating his own agency under his own name at San Francisco, Calif.

J. Harrod Berry is a member of the firm Talley & Berry—Attorneys—North Little Rock, Ark.

A. Bruce Bielaski, former President of the Society is mentioned in article in the Saturday Evening Post of January 8, 1949—page 57.

Did we ever report Daniel P. Sullivan of ten years Bureau Service was appointed Director of Law Enforcement Institute, Dade County, Florida about July 15, 1948. It is to be similar to the Chicago Crime Commission. Also that about the same time Virgil W. Peterson, Director, Chicago Crime Commission visited Miami, Fla. where he appeared before a large number of civic organizations and spoke to overflowing crowds.

Henry Martin is with Al Pike and Bruce Bielaski of the National Board of Fire Underwriters working in the sunny south.

Incidentally there was quite an article on Bruce Bielaski and the Arson Dept. of the National Board of Fire Underwriters in Coronet Magazine for June 1948.

Charlie Scully, first president of the Society is a busy man, as late as July 20, 1948 had not found time for his summer vacation. Remind us to ask him if he ever took it. If we didn't know he liked a good glass of beer we would ask him what he was doing in Milwaukee in July.

Tom McDade you better kick that dough you got from Ellory Queen into the Society Treasurer. We know you sold them a story on the Society—

We do not know of anything more surprising nowadays than to receive a visit from James E. Fitzpatrick.

Glenn Gannon a member of the Buffalo Chapter got himself admitted to New York Bar July 8, 1948.

Ed Diemer of St. Louis was in New York City in December. Ted Conroy, Bill Seery and Bob Dick listened to him tell of the advantages of living in St. Louis. We are afraid we were a little rough on Ed when Conroy told him how quick he could get to a golf club and Bob Dick told him how quick he could go deer hunting—Seery what did you tell him—All had a good time regardless—

Did you know we had 23 Chapters in the Society?

Jack Buckley! We will never understand it—Frank

Garbarino's daughter won the Miss Atlantic City title a year or two ago. Jack Buckley's daughter is a Conover Model—All we can say is that we would like to hear the explanation you and Garbarino would make—a couple of old gizzards that you both know you are.

Jack Buckley! Your christmas card was such a pleasant surprise we won't get mad about it. Confidentially Buckley clipped heading from Grapevine "Expecting" "By Bob Dick" and then inquired if we were bragging—Why should we rib Bill Rooney for writing in the Grapevine thatgave birth to a baby girl.

George Storck wants us to go back to the previous magazine form of the Grapevine! How about the rest of you?

Joe Bishop—Did our letter burn your hand or did it burn you up?

Wayne Listerman was a New York visitor a few days after the annual meeting in November.

Joe Bishop attended the annual meeting in New York. Joe woke up in Cleveland and wrote a letter wanting immediate release with account of happenings at annual meeting. Minutes of meeting reflect Mr. Bishop spoke "Fluidly" to members assembled at meeting while experiencing difficulty in remaining on feet. This difficulty attributed by some members to new atomic ray.

Flash—Bill Seery is on the wagon!

Ted Conroy gets honorable mention in Police Chiefs News but we have yet to read account about him playing Santa Claus for a bunch of unfortunate kids.

Harvey Rath did a grand thing through connections by making more presents by reduced costs to the same children.

George R. Blue of the Society and Secretary of New Orleans Chapter is in the law firm of Beard and Blue—Of course we will never quite understand why they didn't adopt the firm name "Blue-Beard." Certainly should have attracted a wealth of feminine clients.

Lee Seward attended the annual meeting coming from Pittsburgh. We haven't forgotten your request Lee!

Floyd E. Chalkley is a hard man to keep track—we hear he lives in Virginia and does business around Washington, D. C. Then we hear he is in Chicago.

W. C. Dannenberg could write a good history of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Joseph Bayliss made every attempt to be in New York for the annual meeting on November 19th. Joe has not been feeling quite up to par the last year or so but he and Mrs. Bayliss arrived in New York several days after the meeting. We think Joe thoroughly enjoyed himself in his visits with old friends of Bureau days. Your editor had a most delightful visit with Mr. & Mrs. Bayliss at their hotel. We were swapping memories like a couple of old horse-traders.

Dick Johnson is with Licensed Beverage Industries, New York.

Did Jack Harrigan ever tell you about the Society Secretary making reservations for he and his wife at a local hotel? Paging Miss Keogh;

The Boston Post Magazine for November 14, 1948 carried an article on Society and several members of the Boston Chapter entitled "What Happens to Ex-G-Men?" Considerable space to three but we won't mention their names because they didn't get your old editor an honorable mention even. Now don't get too sore Mr. M., Mr. C. and Mr. M.

Society Membership Privileges

Many ask, "What does a fellow get out of belonging to the Society of Former Special Agents of the F.B.I.?" We quote herewith a few of the many. Members are privileged too:

Become a member in October and write a bang up letter giving us H..... because their name does not appear in membership directory published the preceeding January.

Pay their dues any old time while we pay Society expenses with other fellows dues.

Look in vain for mention of your name in the Grapevine.

Criticize anyone who works for the success of the Society and claim they are trying to run it.

Complain that your name has been misspelled in Directory.

Suggest the Grapevine be published weekly.

For five dollars own a part of a $20,000 business

Be expelled for non-payment of annual dues.

In New York see an ancient landmark four times a year without paying guide fee e.g. Martinique Hotel.

Call Bowling Green 9-4630.

Ask when the next Grapevine will come out.

Suggest such and such an article should be written and published in the Grapevine with no thought of writing it yourself.

If an old member call the new members "young upstarts."

If a new member call the older members "old fossils."

Where can you get more privileges for five bucks?

Sorry But True!

William F. Seery was arrested on January 9, 1949 and charged with fatally stabbing Jerome Blank a prominent Wall Street broker. Mr. Seery has been operating his own business out of Room 903, 70 Pine Street, New York. Local newspapers report Seery is a former F.B.I. Agent who was with the Bureau for many years.

Tom McDade appeared before the Federal Grand Jury in New York on January 4, 1949. He is presently with the General Foods Corporation. It is reported while in the Armed Forces he had access to highly confidential military secret weapons later found in possession of the Russian Forces. Whittaker Chambers definitely identified McDade as an old friend and acquaintance.

Attorney John Trimble was sentenced to Sing Sing to a term of 3-5 years by Justice Roe on January 29, 1949 for absconding $850,000. of a clients money. When the doors of Sing Sing swing shut on Trimble he still had not divulged the reason for his act or had the authorities located the missing funds.

Lou Juskow was taken into custody by the Brooklyn District Attorneys office for questioning after he was unable to explain to police following a minor traffic accident, the finding of a body in the trunk of his automobile.

John Brennan was arrested at his home after police acting on a tip found six thoroughbred race horses tied in his garage. It is reported authorities have been looking for the horses since shortly before the close of Belmont race track. One horse found at his home is believed to be Citation. The police believe Brennan was able to make away with the horses as a trusted employee of Thoroughbred Racing Protective Association. Local racing authorities quoted Brennan as stating he betrayed his trust hoping to produce a super horse by crossing Citation with Man O'War.

Commander Louis J. Wade a reservist of the U. S. Navy was convicted on January 20, 1949 at the Brooklyn Navy Yard by a Navy Board. Wade was found guilty on testimony given that he was the famous Japanese Admiral Fou Lipschitz.

West Orange police are still trying to solve the major mystery in the history of their department. Early in the morning of November 20, 1948 they were called to the house of Robert W. Dick where they found his body—Nearby they found a scrawled note addressed to his wife; "It was a crooked count." The police are still tracing and questioning all persons known to have been entitled to be addressed as "Count" in European and other countries. Police are also believed to be working on the theory of foul play.

Yes we are sorry but it is true we can't write news with the interest of accounts as above for the Grapevine. We are sure you would find it more interesting than items such as Wayne Merrick moved from 289 Adams Mill Road to 291 Adams Mill Road but the latter is about all we get.

Lest you forget all the above items relating to members, Seery, Trimble, McDade, Juskow and Wade are untrue and nothing but the mad mind of Bob Dick, who won't bring a libel suit.

True Story

By C. A. GANNON

A man sat sipping his beer in the Pen and Pencil Club in Philadelphia after the Army-Navy game. He was approached by a convivial lad who claimed to be from New York City and as one who had spent his lifetime in Police work. The beer drinker asked the stranger whether he worked out of Center Street whereupon the stranger produced a credential card from "another" governmental agency. The beer drinker was unimpressed. The stranger then played his trump card by exhibiting a membership card in the Society of Former Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Inc. The beer drinker was still unimpressed and stated that he also had one of those cards. The stranger offered to wager $50 that this was not a fact. But the beer drinking Pen and Pencil Club member refused to wager on ethical grounds and produced his Society membership card. This resulted in beer drinking-Pen and Pencil Club member Charlie Gannon meeting stranger John J. Sullivan in town to see the Army-Navy game. Needless to add, both men enjoyed the incident, especially when they determined that both had served the Bureau in South America and had many mutual friends.

The Case Of The Dwight-Scott-Smith-K.C. and N. Y. C.

Under date of November 14, 1948 Dwight H. Smith—Let us see—No it was Dwight H. Scott wrote us as follows from Merrick, Kansas—No, it was Merrick, New York.

"Just to set the record straight and also just to prevent either Dwight Smith or myself from being confused with another "Dwight" who is presently connected with Columbia University, (we are all mixed up now the letter must be from Mr. Scott H. Dwight and we thought it was from Mr. Scott. Gee it was bad enough with two of them in it now we have three Mr. Dwights) I present the following facts to clear up that confusion in the October issue." (Editors note: We didn't know there was any confusion in the Grapevine. Will some one please help us! We thought the confusion was over Dwight Smith and Dwight Scott but now it is over three Mr. Dwights. Confidentially Mr. Dwight, we mean Mr. Smith, Mr. Scott will you please write Joe Bishop out in Cleveland and tell him there was a Grapevine in October. Now where were we, oh—yes we were in the quotes) "Dwight H. Scott 1942-1945" (must be three years old says ye editor) "Never practiced law in Kansas City, in fact never been in that fair city. Connected with National Biscuit but didn't have to change my name or domicile to get the job. Presently deeply concerned as to whether Mr. Dwight M. Smith has been able to clear his good name with you. Sincerely Dwight H. Scott."

Late Pickups

Abe Dickstein has opened his own business at 51 Vesey St., New York City selling television sets and electrical supplies. Place your order through Worth 2-4473. Lots of luck Abe! We understand it is a highly competitive business Abe.

John Brennan former member of the Executive Committee of the Society has joined Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau.

Harvey Rath has left the Security Bureau and entered his own business as a manufacturers agent at 200 Fifth Avenue, New York. It is toys for the kids fellows. We learned all the fine points about roller skates from him the other morning. Harvey is an authority on toys in that he is the inventor of that popular toy you see on sale in all department stores and toy shops known as the "Cradle Spin." There is an interesting story surrounding this toy and Harvey and we must tell it to you sometime.

Dick Johnson is with Licensed Beverage Industries and was it a surprise to hear from him the other day and will be a real pleasure if we are successful in helping him along with what he wishes to know.

Tom Moore greets us at the railroad station with "Here is another one," meaning ex-F.B.I. Tom is with Shell Oil. Incidentally did you ever notice how his eyes smile?

President John Vincent returned from a tour of the south and Arizona. Mrs. Vincent has not been feeling a hundred per cent.

"Stay Out Of Indiana"

The Honorable Henry F. Schricker, Governor-Elect of the State of Indiana has appointed Mr. Arthur M. Thurston, Superintendent of the Indiana State Police. This is a four year appointment and Art took over the official duties on January 10, 1949.

Art hails from Shelbyville, Indiana and is a graduate of the State's University. He served in the U. S. Navy during the late war where he was commissioned a Lieutenant Junior Grade after his resignation from the F.B.I. in 1944. After serving in China for one year he returned to the United States and was sent to Tokyo in September 1945. While in Tokyo he resigned his commission as full Lieutenant and immediately accepted employment on General Douglas MacArthur's staff and was assigned with former Police Commissioner Valentine of New York City to re-organize the Japanese police forces. In the fall of 1946 joined the Central Intelligence Agency in Washington, D. C., after which he traveled extensively in Europe in this employment which terminated in January 1948.

Mr. Thurston entered the F.B.I. in April 1938 and has a host of friends in the Bureau and the Society. He travelled considerably while in the Bureau and for a time was assigned as attache in charge of the Bureau office of the American legation in London. For a time he was an instructor at F.B.I. schools in Washington and Quantico as well as the number one man in New York and Detroit, finally receiving the rank of Inspector.

We had a hunch Art was up to something when we heard he had returned to Indiana to become a gentleman farmer and were lulled to sleep when his marriage was announced last summer. We did not understand how such a much travelled young man of 34 summers could remain long as a gentleman farmer. Art's headquarters will be in Indianapolis but we have a hunch with his itchy feet for travel he will be visiting the farthest outpost or barracks of the State Police.

It is our understanding that much of the success of the new administration in Indiana hinges on this appointment and that it was one of the most difficult facing the governor. Those who know Art Thurston know that Governor Schricker can cease worrying because he will find that Art will direct the affairs of the Indiana State Police with an efficiency that will be second to none.

Members of the Society congratulate Governor Schricker and the people of Indiana on the appointment.

Dear

I am in receipt of your letter of February 15, 1949 requesting the dates on which each of the former employees mentioned in your communication entered on duty as Special Agents in this Bureau.

In accordance with your desires, I am listing below such dates of employment for the individuals in whom you are interested as are available in our records:

Name	Date of entry on duty
Harry J. Ventzer	October 6, 1908
Edward J. Brennan	June 29, 1908
Lucien C. Wheeler	October 16, 1914
Clyde B. Ambrose	May 29, 1912
A. Bruce Bielaski	May 1, 1912
Frank L. Garbarino	March 9, 1910
Frederick P. Schmid	March 5, 1909
Charles J. Scully	March 26, 1909

George W. Storck	October 5, 1910
Elton Watkins	March 17, 1911
William C. Dannenberg	January 2, 1909

In connection with the above I wish to point out, however, that inasmuch as many of these employees were in the Bureau's service before the present record system was instituted it is not possible to be absolutely certain of exact dates without a great deal of additional research which probably will not be necessary for your purposes.

Sincerely yours,

SOCIETY FORMER SPECIAL AGENTS

Dear Mr. Hoover:

As editor of the "Grapevine" for the Society of Former Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Inc., I am anxious to preserve some history relative to older Special Agents of the Bureau who are members of the Society. An item of discussion amongst members of the Society that is of considerable interest to former agents relates to who were the first Special Agents and their length of service.

In the preparation of such an article, it would be sincerely appreciated if your office would advise me the exact dates on which each of the following persons entered the Bureau. From my own knowledge of the history of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, many of the earlier agents transferred from the Secret Service, and the following list of persons, I believe, will be found to have entered the Bureau in the period of 1908-9-10.

RETIREMENT ACT

By Ed Guinane

"The U. S. Civil Service Commission recently asked government departments to find out whether they had any employees coming within the provisions of Section I(d) of the Civil Service Retirement Act, which amendment included any agencies having officers or employees whose positions were primarily the investigation, apprehension or detention of persons suspected or convicted of offenses against the criminal laws of the United States (including any officer or employee engaged in such activities who has been transferred to a supervisory or administrative position).

In answer to this, I contended that all Special Agents of the Enforcement Branch of the Office of International Trade would apparently come within its provisions. The Civil Service Commission has recently advised that a Criminal Investigator, CAF-14, (in the Enforcement Branch) in a supervisory position would come within the purview of the Act if he had transferred to such position from a position wherein he was primarily engaged in the investigation, apprehension, detention, etc. The Commission also stated that incumbents of the positions of Criminal Investigator, CAF-13, 12, 11, in the Enforcement Branch would come within the provisions of the Act. The Commission excluded professional positions such as Attorneys and Trial Attorneys, and other positions not designated as Criminal Investigators.

I thought the above would be of interest inasmuch as many members have served with investigative organizations who have performed similar work to that being performed by the Enforcement Branch of the Office of International Trade."

Over The Fence Stuff

By BOB DICK

Lest you not know it Bill Losty did most of this issue of the Grapevine.

We are reliably informed all accounts are on vacation at present and will take up their work around June 1st.

Mr. & Mrs. Harvey Rath are expecting in March or possibly sooner. Now we thought that serious look on Harvey's face was due to his new business venture but we are mistaken. Gee it must be great to be a child whose daddy is in the toy business! Now don't come up with that old one about it is a cobbler's wife who always goes bare-footed.

Here it is three days after January issue hit your desks and Seery, Wade, Juskow and McDade have not filed suit against us.

We met Bill Dunne and Charlie Blaisdell in the Lawyers Club one noon-day. Now isn't that a strange place to bump into a couple of lawyers.

If you know where a fine Collie dog can be obtained will you please advise the writer. We mean reasonable price.

Hey, Ted Conroy, you wanta edit the Grapevine?

We hear John Manning is knocking off over a 100G a year. We also learned Higgins and Murray maybe doing 50 G a year or more. With that annual mad on that we get once a year come March 15th we are envious. We don't say we are not around August and September.

A Society member would like to know if any member in and around New York knows of any opening for a friend who is unemployed, married, two children, an ex G.I., who has no particular training and is 29 years of age. Writer would appreciate hearing from you?

Daily we are resolving we are going to quit this job unless the Society buys us a dictaphone to do this work on.

The best legacy you can leave your children is character.

Felix O. Cox is getting lonely in that he has only two children left at home. Felix says he doesn't know how to buy the groceries any more. It is a case of buying too much.

Joseph H. Bishop, Jr., visited New York City recently to buy a wardrobe. After annual meeting in November he attended Columbia football game and a city slicker stole his luggage from his car.

We believe the books of the Society should be audited.

We also believe every Chapter should be given an opportunity to express a voice to the Nominating Committee.

Major Tyler M. Birch is on active duty with the U. S. Air Force Base, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

Tom Pirnie of Cedar Rapids, Iowa until recently was practicing law independently (whoever saw a lawyer who wasn't independent) has joined the firm of Barnes, Wadsworth, Elderkin & Locher. Mr. John Locher of this firm is also a former F.B.I. Agent.

Royal (Rick) Stauffer who left the Bureau in 1946 is with General Electric in Fort Wayne, Indiana, he is in the Personnel Department there. He is one man who undertook to beat the housing problem. Rick bought 20 acres of soil on the outskirts of Fort Wayne and a year ago last August started to build his own house. He must have been reading a book on Abe Lincoln before hand because to build his house he cut logs from the trees on the land and had them sawed into dimension lumber for the inside and roof framing and sheathing. The rest of the house he laid up with blocks. We like the log part of the story of the house that Rick built, the best. Of course all this hard labor and building his own house on week ends was brought about by looking at the estimate he received from a builder. We have a hunch he spent what he saved on arnica. Rick is an unusual fellow however which can be testified to by Al Johnson the present high police authority around Chicago and Cook County. Al almost swooned when Special Agent Royal Stauffer reported to the Chicago Field Office of the Bureau from Cleveland in his own personally owned airplane. Al was the SAC in Chicago. Oh yes, we almost forgot to tell you Rick intends to move into his new house in April but don't ask us the year.

Herman J. Sticken of Denver took his own poll on the wherefore of the last Presidential election while hunting. Seven of them got an elk each and 14 deer in Colorado. This was not enough and he went to Iowa where he shot the limit in ducks and pheasants. Then off to Minnesota for more hunting. Still not having enough to eat Sticken went fishing and caught 19 waleyed pike in the Mississippi River before returning to Denver. If you wish to know why Dewey lost maybe he can tell you.

On the mere pittance the government pays, Al Muzzey of WASHINGTON, D. C. has managed to buy a new automobile (nothing less than a Cadillac) and get a swanky apartment in Virginia. This certainly qualifies him as an F.F.V., or does it Suh! Mother and Chip expect to leave the cold climate of Michigan for sunny Virginia most any day now.

Open Letter To Daniel L. O'Connor Washington, D. C.

Reference is made to your letter on February 3rd, 1949 addressed to Mr. Blaisdell, Secretary wherein you state you wish someone would do something about the Grapevine and the complete absence of information from Washington appearing therein and throwing of your news items in the waste basket. Also your comment, "in an attempt to offset the continuous publicity received by the local talent in the New York area".

My first comment to you is that your letter may have not carried the sting had it been more properly directed to me than Charles Blaisdell in a behind the back manner.

If you know anyone who knows me, I think they will tell you that I would be the first one to admit the GRAPEVINE has many imperfections. I do not intend however to plead guilty to the indictment in your letter. First I doubt that you have much conception of what transpires in getting out a Grapevine or the headaches suffered with it. You mention items you have submitted about Washington members, that have not been published. I will say I do not recall them and we may have published in part or all of them. Undoubtedly you have copies of the items and I would appreciate your submitting the copies direct to me. What is to be published or not published is something that must be determined always because of space. Some newspapers throw out as much news each day as they publish. This fortunately has not been too much of a problem because we do not get enough news. It has been an age old problem. You do not have to take my word for it. Make inquiry of any person who served on the committee last year. Better yet, ask Miss Keogh, paid Secretary of the Society, who handles all the mail at 70 Pine Street. I refuse to accept responsibility for items addressed to the Secretary. Address your news items to me personally at 60 John Street, New York 7, N. Y., Room 1202 and I will accept the responsibility for them. I will not however if it is addressed The Grapevine, because unfortunately we have not yet acquired the status of the New York Times. There has been mail addressed in this manner, I know because it was returned to the sender and later forwarded to me under proper cover.

You charge in your letter to Mr. Blaisdell you will have to do something to offset the continuous publicity received by the local talent in the New York area. We have at random pulled the first issue of the Grapevine that our hands fell on which happens to be the January 1948 issue. We are sending you a copy of this issue under separate cover and you will find on examination that in the entire issue there is mention of five New York members in space of about twenty five lines. We would like for you to read page three under the heading; "Another Case Not Covered By The Manual". We suggest you read it at the next meeting of the Washington Chapter.

We admit and have long recognized that members throughout the country should be publicized but we cannot do it if Chapter representatives do not submit anything. We cannot pick up the telephone and call you in Washington; if we did it probably would not work because the member called would not have anything for us. I am sure you are fair minded enough to admit when in need of items for the Grapevine it is natural that we turn to members around New York.

We are ready to admit that sometimes items get away from us. Sometimes we get a phone call when we are up to our ears in the job that pays us a salary and we make a note of an item and it gets lost in our every day work notes. We recall one such incident where a member from Miami called while in New York and gave us a couple of items about fellows down that way and told us he was going to Europe for a visit. It never got published and we regret it keenly but do not believe you would expect us to lose our health over it. We will never forget an article Charles Scully gave us on Dick Shanahan that we never published because it got lost in some manner.

There is another little matter relative to the Grapevine and that is free advertising. We know a lot of fellows think we should publish it every time some one commences the practice of law or forms a partnership et cetera. It is our judgment such announcements are sent to practically every member of the Society because of the directory, so in reality they have no news value. We used to publish them when the Society was smaller but discontinued when it reached the point it is almost overwhelming to make mention of each one. We can hardly make mention of 1500 fellows in every issue. We publish items about some members for the reason we know they will take it in stride and will not get mad. Naturally, they possibly are mentioned more frequently. I refer to such articles as appeared in the last issue about Seery, Trimble, McDade & Juskow. We could not do it with some members because they would be angry. Some members do not want anything said about them. Other members are naturally more colorful or are continually doing something that breaks them into the news of the Grapevine. Many may think we write about Bill Seery too much and maybe so but it is brought about by the fact that Bill has been without peer in aiding us with news items about others and consequently we hear things about him. These we publish and we can then poke fun at him and he does not punch us in the nose.

You are to be commended for getting the information to us about Ty Rauber and I do not hesitate to say if everyone was as helpful it would be grand. You cannot appreciate the difficulty we are continually experiencing to report deaths properly. The failure to mention Eddie Guinane with the other Chapter Chairman was due to the fact the information had not been reported at the time the material was assembled for the printer. Your idea of Washington Chapter submitting a column each month in fine. Please keep it separated from the Chapter minutes.

I wish to make another observation for you. It is not difficult to sit down and dash off something the first time for a Grapevine but try and do it month after month and keep it going in time for printing and publishing and you will soon find out you started to run a mile at a speed calculated for the 100 yard dash.

I believe you can appreciate it might be well for you or any others to direct your criticisms to the Editor. It would at least give us an opportunity to consult with you and give our version of the situation.

Chapter News

Washington, D. C.

The Washington, D. C. Chapter held its annual get together on Monday, December 6, 1948, at the Touch-down Club. Edward P. Guinane, Falls Church, Va. was elected Chairman for the coming year. John W. Phillips, Silver Spring, Md., Vice Chairman, Daniel L.

O'Connor, Washington, D. C., Secretary and Raymond F. Newkirk, Washington, D. C. as Treasurer.

Guests of this evening were U. S. Attorney for the District of Columbia, George Morris Fay and Mike Hunnicutt, a well known radio entertainer from Radio Station WOL. John Vincent came down from New York to attend the meeting and his liquid donation warmed the spirits of many.
Boston, Mass.

A regular meeting of the Boston Chapter was held on Tuesday December 7, 1948, at the Smorgasbord. Preceding the business meeting there was the usual cocktail hour and dinner following which Edward Donovan, Chairman, opened the meeting. Elections were held and John Dingwall, Wellesley Hills, Mass. was elected Chairman. Arthur E. Haley, Brighton, Mass. was elected Vice Chairman, P. Joseph Kenney, West Medway, Mass. Secretary, and James W. Coulter, Roslindale, Mass. Treasurer.

Jerry Buckley, Bill Prout and Owen Dooley were appointed to study the possibility of civic activity by the Boston Chapter.
Chicago, Ill.

We had a letter from Lloyd A. Briggs, Secretary, Chicago Chapter. Like true Eager Beavers, the officers are fired with enthusiasm for bigger meetings, bigger membership, and bigger everything. In line with this policy a request was made for a supply of application blanks which we promptly sent.

Lloyd extended an invitation, to anyone who expected to be in Chicago on January 20, 1949, to the next meeting. The Chapter planned to show films on the Rose Bowl Game at this meeting.
St. Louis, Mo.

The St. Louis Chapter held a Christmas Cocktail Party on December 19, 1948 in the Club Room of the Engineers Club. There was food, fun and gifts for the girls. Sam Murphy provided the music.
New Orleans, La.

A delightful dinner party was held on December 4, 1948 at the Metairie Country Club in New Orleans which was given by the New Orleans Chapter in honor of the members' better halves. With the exception of a few mamas and papas who were having sinner trouble, the function was well attended. In attendance were the Charbonnets, Emmett and Katherine, George and Betty Blue, Fernando and Marj Cuquet, Herb and Julia Culter, Dudley Foley and his wife Cecelia, Harold and Martha Judell, the Monaghans, Bill and Eleanor, Forrest and Vickie Pendelton, Bob and Miriam Rainold and Frank and Mary Fort. It was very much like a good old Bureau party, and everyone had so much fun that plans are being made for a repeat performance in the very near future.

Saluting Cedar Rapids

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, has five members of the Society, namely Ed Distelhortst, Don Condon, Robert W. Neff, Don Dodge and Tom Pirnie. There are many other XFBIERS there but still need to be sold on the idea of joining up with the Society. We would suggest that Don Dodge make arrangements for a dinner some evening for all to attend and invite former President of the Society, John Mowry to attend. John can convince them of the errors of their ways and with a couple of converts they could have a chapter. Boys you will find John Mowry over at Marshalltown, Iowa, where it is said he practices law.

We understand there are a total of seventeen former agents there and they have been lunching weekly for social purposes but have in addition undertaken a project of making an award for police efficiency.

In 1947 the group presented a plaque to the Cedar Rapids Police Department bearing an ornate statuette and black name plates on which each year is to be inscribed the name of the police officer whose achievement was the most outstanding. The award is determined by a committee consisting of the editor of the Cedar Rapids Gazette, Chief of Police and Commissioner of Public Safety. The plaque is in the lobby of the police station and has been the subject of much favorable comment from the public and law enforcement officials.

On January 27, 1949 the award was presented by Don Dodge following a dinner at the Roosevelt Hotel, with Ralph V. Harman as Chairman. Patrolman Lester Woodward was named the winner and received an engraved cigarette case and lighter.

Many members of the Society will recall that Arthur Webb of Los Angeles, California, at an annual meeting suggested the Society consider such a merit award through its various chapters.
Chicago, Ill.

The regular meeting of the Chicago Chapter was held on Thursday, January 27 at Martin's Restaurant, 120 So. La Salle Street, Chicago. Dinner was served at 6:30 P.M.—ample facilities were available for cocktails before dinner.

Jack Ryan arranged for an exclusive, premier showing of the Rose Bowl Films. This 60 minute film and the entire game was narrated in person by John Kovatch, head line coach for Northwestern. Kovatch has a colorful delivery for this movie and provided some real entertainment.

Paul Trapani saw Wayne Merrick from New York in January.

Frank V. Martinek—creator of Don Winslow of the Navy—has done it again. He has created a new strip. "Tip Horn" Cowboy Detective.

Al Johnson had a visit from Steve Lawrence and Horace Duffy during January.

This "little" committee had a meeting in the spacious and beautiful offices of Dan O'Connor and Jim Sharp to plan the activities of the Chapter for the year. California & Florida Take Notice

Looking for a nice warm spot to spent the winter months? How about the Virgin Islands. Temperatures vary only five degrees from coldest winter to warmest summer. Never gets below 63° in winter nor above 91° in summer. Never a rainy or dry season. Plenty of Hotels and Guest Houses, American and European Plan, rates reasonable.

Another Poppa

Notice received that Robert W. Neff of Cedar Rapids, Iowa announced that he was the father of a baby girl. Just like a man—wouldn't give the Mrs. any credit. Maybe that is the reason for no details on date, weight, place et cetera.

Headliners

A note from Ed Burns enclosing a clipping from Capitol News, a Record Magazine. We quote "Ever hear of a guy by the name of Joe Dosh? Well, he once was an agent for the F.B.I. back East. Then he trekked to N. Y. seeking a singing career, and wound up as a "standby" baritone on the Hit Parade program. But nothing much happened to Mr. Dosh, and everyone thought he was kidding when he answered to his name.

Came the fall of '48 and Mr. Dosh, with wife, hied to Hollywood. Things couldn't be any worse, they figured it wouldn't be as cold in the winter. Overnight he snared a contract—not as a singer—as an actor at Warner's. And now Mr. Dosh is out on the blue Pacific with Gary Cooper, Wayne Morris, Jack Holt and other famous W.B. stars playing a big part in "Task Force" which Jerry Wald is producing for 1949 release.

But you won't see Joe Dosh listed on the screen credits. Jack Warner gave him a new moniker. From here on out Mr. Dosh will cash fat paychecks bearing the name Brad Evans.

A big writeup by Oscar Smith in the Akron Beacon Journal for December 12, 1948 on our own ex-agent Bob Wilson.

"Ty" Rauber Passes Away In Guam

The Society was shocked to hear that "Ty" Rauber had passed away at Guam on Saturday January 29, 1949. It was first reported he had drowned while fishing but newspaper reports state it was reported Rauber fell overboard from a fishing craft and died as he was being pulled back. Apparently death was due to a heart attack. He was forty three years of age at the time of his death.

Louis J. Rauber was a Commander with the Navy serving as legal officer in charge of the land division and was called to active duty in Washington in 1939. He later went overseas with the naval intelligence. After a year and one half at Guam he had returned to this country and had been visiting in Washington last December. He had been back in Guam only a few weeks at the time of his passing.

He was a native of New York state but had attended the schools in the District of Columbia. An outstanding athlete who was captain of the Central High School football team in 1923 in Washington, D. C. He attended Washington & Lee University where he became one of their greatest football players and in 1926 received mention as an All-American backfield man. He later took his law degree at Georgetown University Law School in 1931. After his graduation he entered the Bureau where he remained until 1934 when he accepted a position with the Home Owners Loan Corporation.

He is survived by a son of his first marriage, Louis J. Rauber, Jr., who is attending Georgetown Preparatory School. His first wife died a few years ago. He is also survived by his widow, Carmen Plumlee Rauber of San Francisco as well as two brothers and three sisters.

Ty had many friends both in and out of the Society and the news of his death will be received as a shock by those who knew him well.

At the time this is written no funeral arrangements have been made. The internment will be in Washington, D. C., and at this writing his remains have arrived on the West Coast from Guam.

True Stories

By BOB DICK

Aboard The Crescent 1/23/49
Enroute Atlanta, Special to Grapevine

Three of us are talking in the smoking compartment of Pullman when somehow the subject of zippers got into the discussion. Our friends, one from Toronto and the other from Atlanta. The gentleman from Atlanta said that a few weeks before in company with his wife, they attended a moving picture show in Atlanta. They had only been seated a few minutes when they noticed the lady in front of them kept nudging her husband, and he was apparently at a loss to understand her reason for so doing and finally she pointed in the direction of his lap. Our friend explained that apparently the man in front of him had left home in a hurry and had failed to zip the fly of his trousers and his wife had just noticed it. She had just succeeded in bringing it to her husband's attention when the couple seated next to them decided to leave the show and the man got up so they could pass in front of him and at the same time pulled the zipper on his trousers. In so doing, in some manner the ladies dress got caught in the man's zipper and try as he would he could not open or close the zipper. All hands worked furiously trying to extricate the dress from the zipper and persons in the surrounding seats began to giggle and laugh. This attracted the attention of the usher who came with his little flash light shining to determine the trouble. He too attempted to release the dress from the zipper without success and ultimately had to lead the man and woman like Siamese Twins out into the aisle and to the Manager's office where they were separated and allowed to return to their respective mates.

One For The Girls

Atlanta, Georgia, Jan. 24, 1949: At lunch today we met a Colonel of some fame in the later war and he recited the following incident. Everyone knows Georgia Tech is located in Atlanta as well as The Coca Cola Company along with a great number of gasoline filling stations and the Lovable Brassiere Co. The ingenuity of college students for pranks cannot be surpassed. It seems the Coca Cola Company, Lovable Brassiere Company and Georgia Tech are located in the same general place on Spring Street in Atlanta. One night some students from Georgia Tech made away with a large sign from a filling station and took it to the Lovable Brassiere Company and placed it under their sign. A couple of other students gained access to a high tower where a flood light is always trained on the Coca Cola sign onto the sign of the Lovable Brassiere Company. Motorists on the heavily travelled Spring Street that night were amazed to see a large sign under flood lights reading:

Lovable Brassiere Company
We Fix Flats

Former G-Men In Atlanta Area Plan to Organize

The Atlanta chapter of the Society of Former Special Agents of the FBI will be organized at 7 p. m. Friday in the Piedmont hotel.

Felix O. Cox, who was one of the founders of the organization in 1938, said the organization has chapters in 20 major cities, but thus far none has been set up here. The national membership is 1,800.

Mr. Cox estimated there are some 30 former special agents now living in the Atlanta area. Many of them are attorneys, accountants, or private investigators.

The organization, he said, is primarily social. It was set up to preserve friendships and associations made while in the FBI.

Mr. Cox said any former special agents is invited to the Friday night meeting.

Office Memorandum • UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

TO : Director, FBI (Attention: Assistant Director L. B. NICHOLS) DATE: April 27, 1949

FROM : SAC, ~~Cleveland~~

wk

Sometime ago, after talking with the Bureau, I declined an invitation to speak on the Bureau's work at a quarterly meeting of the Northern Ohio Chapter of this organization by pleading the necessity of being out of the city on the date set; however, subsequently I have been approached on several occasions by officers of this group, particularly [redacted] with the request that I select the date on which I can be present for this purpose.

Approximately a month ago, [redacted] again contacted me, asking that I attend and say a few words at the quarterly banquet of the group to be held at the Carter Hotel on Friday evening, May 13, 1949, beginning at 6:00 PM and I told him at the time that in so far as I then knew, I would be glad to be with them.

It does appear that if I again invoke an emergency to prevent my being there, the invitation to be present will in all probability again be renewed and I am wondering whether it would not be preferable for me to be there, say a few words and end the matter at that time.

I recall that at one time the Director welcomed the good wishes of this organization, although I am not aware as to the relations between the society and the Bureau at the present time; however, it occurs that unless there is some present policy which would preclude my doing so, it would be preferable for me to attend rather than perhaps to convey the impression that the Bureau does not desire that Agents in Charge associate officially with group meetings of this organization.

The Bureau's instructions in this connection are therefore solicited.

While discussing other matters with SAC Whelan of the New York Office on May 4, 1949, he advised me that he had received information from one of the Agents in the New York Office that former SAC [redacted] now a member of the Society of Former Special Agents of the [redacted] had advised that at a meeting recently held by the Society of Former Special Agents, a discussion was had concerning a magazine article to be written about the FBI men. It appears that a nationally-known magazine is to write an article entitled "The Best-Trained Men in the World" which will be very complimentary of the Bureau and its Agents. [redacted] advised that the Society of Former Special Agents is going to request 4,000 reprints of the article to be sent by the Society to 4,000 outstanding executives throughout the country for the purpose of making contacts for members of the Society. [redacted] informed the Agent of the New York Office that he did not know whether the Bureau had knowledge of this article but he did want to pass this on to the Director.

You will recall that recently the New York Office advised of rumors to the effect an article on Bureau training was being prepared by the Society of Former Special Agents for some magazine. The New York Office at the time did not have any definite information. Assistant SAC Whelan of the New York Office called today concerning this matter and advised an article by former Special Agent Thomas M. McDade entitled "The Most Carefully Selected Men in the World," appears in the May issue of Dun's Review, which, of course, is a publication of Dun and Bradstreet.

Whelan stated that the article was generally very commendatory and that he was sending a copy to the Bureau immediately. Efforts have been made to get a copy here in Washington without success.

Former SAC John Vincent called from New York. He is vice-president of the Society of Former Agents. He referred to an item in Danton Walker's column in the New York Daily News on June 6 to the effect that a group of former agents were trying to get a publisher to publish their memoirs of Red activities. He wanted to say that the Society of Former Agents knew nothing about this, they had no connections with it and would have no connections with it, and his only thought was that it sounded like or some of those people.

 Former Special Agent [redacted] phoned today advising that the Washington chapter of the Society of Former Special Agents is very anxious to be of any aid or assistance to the Director personally or to the Bureau in view of the newspaper reports rumoring the Director's resignation. [redacted] stated that all of the boys that he has talked to felt that while the Bureau may not be in a position to come out and publicly say anything that his group would be more than anxious to take up the cudgels in behalf of the Director in the event anything was felt desirable to get out to the public.

[redacted] also stated that [redacted] of the Post, whom he has met several times, contacted him and was anxious to talk to him and that subsequently during the afternoon today a [redacted] of the Washington Post came around to see him. [redacted] said that [redacted] spoke in very general terms about reading the Bureau's reports and wanted to find out from [redacted] just how the Bureau did operate. [redacted] said he was very cautious, pointing out several times that the Bureau was a fact-finding organization and did not evaluate its reports as that was a function for the attorneys in the Department of Justice, when [redacted] launched into a questioning as to the meaning of symbols used in identifying confidential informants. [redacted] started out with the supposition that SF and LA obviously meant San Francisco and Los Angeles locale, but the one that got him was the symbol T, which he summed after having read some of the stuff in the [redacted] cap must have meant telephone taps.

[redacted] stated that he headed for the [redacted] and covered by saying that the alphabetical designation in and of itself meant nothing as it was merely an indices and not a general term that identified the symbol itself, as there were all sorts of letters of the alphabet used in identifying the Bureau's confidential sources of information. [redacted] said he kept his remarks very general but he felt if the Bureau desired he might be in a position to get out through his contact with [redacted] any particular pitch on recent developments which the Bureau might feel desirable.

[redacted] told [redacted] that we appreciated his call and that there was nothing that occurred to us at the time that we might suggest but asked that he keep us posted in the event he had any further contact from [redacted] He asked that his regards be extended to the [redacted].

THE MOST CAREFULLY SELECTED MEN IN THE WORLD
INFORMATION CONCERNING

SOCIETY FORMER FBI AGENTS

For the Bureau's information, there is attached a copy of "Dun's Review", May, 1949, issue wherein on page 19 appears an article carrying the above title by THOMAS M. McDADE, manager, Accounting, Budgets, and Methods, General Foods Corporation. It tells the story of the selection of Bureau agents and also tells of the success that many of them have had in private employment.

BUSY LUNCH HOUR FOR FBI FINGERPRINT CLERK—ACME PHOTOGRAPH

The Most Carefully Selected Men in the World

THOMAS M. McDADE

General Foods Corporation*

*I*T may come as a surprise to some that the subjects of this article are not members of a learned society, Cabinet ministers, or brothers of a secret order, but merely the employees of a particular government department. They are agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Not long ago the presidency of a 50 million dollar corporation became vacant for the second time in a year, due to the death of the man who had been appointed only a year before. The deceased president had been the vice-president of a competitor company which was making an enviable record and his selection was concurred in by all members of the board of directors who had known of the man only by his public reputation. At his death it was discovered that the man selected had had a bad heart condition, aggravated by increasing alcoholism, facts which could have been discovered if an inquiry had been made when the appointment was decided. With only a little precaution the company could have avoided a year of wasted effort which the selection had meant in changed leadership and altered plans.

That man was paid $90,000 a year and yet his selection was left to the common knowledge and talk in the trade—to his general reputation. That couldn't have happened to an applicant for Special Agent in the FBI, a job which pays only $4,500 to a beginner. Mistakes are sometimes made, but when they do occur they are such as could have been avoided by review of all the known facts beforehand.

Business has something to learn from the way in which the FBI selects its men. There is also a lesson to be learned from what happens to those men in later life when they leave the FBI and go into business.

Aside from the required professional qualifications as a lawyer, accountant, or other skilled fact-finder, the main personal quality sought after is simply character. There is a firm conviction in the FBI, backed up by substantial experience, that technical qualifications for any job are always subordinate to those of personal integrity and character.

This opinion may result from the fact that their work brings them in contact with so many people who have failed because of weakness of character, and the causes of the failure are so apparent. It may be because they have found that skill or proficiency in doing a job is more easily acquired than life-long integrity. Whatever the reason, character is the main test of acceptance and all doubtful decisions are decided against the applicant.

Just how does the FBI select an agent from among the hundred who apply? Here is what happens in the investigation of every applicant before he is appointed a special agent.

At the field office located nearest his home, the applicant takes a written examination and is interviewed. The examination is not difficult considering his education; it is the interview which is the important factor. This interview is quite like any between a prospective employee and the boss except for one thing. Instead of trying to determine how well qualified the applicant is in law, accounting, or reporting, the examiner measures his man in tact, appearance, personality, forthrightness, honesty, self-confidence, native intelligence, and even humor. Each of these qualities is necessary in dealing with people and for a job in which the personal element bulks so large, a good bit of each quality is required.

As part of this "sizing up" process, the applicant will be asked to do a little job for the local office. The applicant is told that the owner of a car which was stolen is at a nearby hotel, and he is asked to interview this man and get the facts of the theft. The "owner" is another agent who carefully observes how the applicant conducts the interview and then he compares notes with the agent to whom the interview is reported. Judgment, common sense, tact, and self-possession are traits rated highly in these tests.

If the applicant passes this first review, a complete investigation is made of his background. The most carefully selected men in the world? Where else is the following investigation made of a man for any reason? Every school he attended is visited personally by an FBI agent who examines his scholastic records, interviews his teachers, and gets as complete a picture as possible of his life and personality at that school. Every neighborhood in which he has lived, in any city, is visited and his neighbors are asked, "What kind of a person was he? What kind of people were his friends and associates? What were his habits—good or bad?"

All references are interviewed. Generally the persons an applicant names would be expected to speak favorably of him and they usually do. But people often react differently to an interview than to a telephone or letter inquiry. They are impressed by the interviewer's remarks that it is unfair to the applicant and to the Government if an unqualified person gets by, only to have his shortcomings discovered later.

One such personal reference, a close friend of an applicant, began by praising his friend to the skies, then, when he saw that his remarks were being written down, he revealed that the applicant was a bigamist and that he was the only person who knew it. With an otherwise perfect record, he just hadn't bothered to get divorced before marrying a second time.

The old adage of judging a man by the company he keeps is still a good one for character investigation. More time is spent trying to see what a man does in his spare time and with whom he does it, than in any other part of the investigation.

Once a model young man, the sparkplug of every local civic enterprise, applied for a job as an agent. He seemed to have every qualification and every civic leader in his town sang his praises. When he wasn't appointed, the local bigwigs asked their United States Senator to find out why their favorite son had been turned down. The results of such an investigation are strictly confidential, but when the Senator threatened a storm in Washington if something wasn't done about his man, an agent visited his office and explained to him, without revealing the source of the information, that the local bright boy, whom everyone admired, owned a half interest in the town bookmaker who covered all race tracks and was arranging to bring a race track wire service into the town. Nothing more was heard from the Senator.

Investigations are not always negative, they often reveal the very thing which may result in the applicant's appointment. One investigator was once told that the applicant was a bully and had been arrested for assaulting a man. This seemed surprising for until then the reported conduct of the applicant had been so exemplary as to make the investigator wonder if he was really a red-blooded man. As a matter of routine local police departments are always checked for an arrest record. The investigator found the record of the arrest for assault, but the case had been dismissed. This was too inconclusive so the agent had to round up all the parties to the original arrest—the complainant, the witnesses, the arresting officer. It soon developed that what had happened was that the applicant, escorting a girl home one night, was set upon by three town toughs. He beat the three of them so badly in a fight that the uncle of one, a local politician, pressed the charge which resulted in the arrest. The result of this investigation was to insure his appointment as an FBI agent.

As in the neighborhood investigation, inquiries of former employers are conducted by personal interview. In trying to get a man's frank opinion about another, there is no substitute for a face-to-face talk. Also, it is interesting to note that the person interviewed is not always the department head who may know very little of the applicant's personal qualities, but the man who supervised his work.

Investigations may take from a couple of days to a week or more, depending on the number of agents used and the localities involved. They cost from $150 to $500, and sometimes much higher. Reports from all investigating offices are sent to Washington where they are reviewed and on the basis of the investigation the decision to appoint or not is made. Endorsements by members of Congress for the man's district may be sent in. They get the weight they deserve, generally much less than the remarks of the corner newsstand proprietor who knows the applicant from seeing him off to work each morning. The last step is a thorough physical examination and, after that, the training begins.

When the newly appointed agent is sworn in, the Government is as reasonably sure he is a good moral risk as one could find. And its experience backs up its belief. Bribery of an FBI agent is unknown—many a man who was foolish enough to try it is in prison today to testify to that fact.

Do they ever quit? Sure, by the hundreds. Why? To accept one of the scores of business opportunities which are offered to every agent from the day he first begins to work for Uncle Sam. It is a natural course of events that one day he finally succumbs to the lure of better pay and the assurance of "settling down" in one spot and of being able to make better provision for his wife and children.

What happens to former FBI men in business is a story itself. Business, big business and little business, has learned from either profitable past experience or observation that hiring "graduates" of the FBI is a guarantee that they are hiring character and integrity. If FBI men as a whole are the most carefully selected men in the world, what would you call the individual men selected from that group?

Former Special Agents' Society

The first surprise one gets in reviewing the careers of former FBI men is the diversity of jobs they fill. It is easier than one might think to see what they do for they have formed an organization, called the Society of Former Special Agents of the FBI, which publishes a roster of its 1,500 members, including the names of their employers and the jobs they hold. The companies which are represented include almost every major industrial firm and the various jobs are representative of almost every skill from research technician to president.

When asked how a G-man came to be president of a corporation employing 1,500 people, one of them remarked, "Why shouldn't I be qualified? I organized and directed an anti-trust investigation of an allied industry, using 40 agents and 25 accountants. I had to know every aspect of that business from buying its raw materials to knowing its exact margin of profit under three different price schedules using four different transportation rates. When we finished our case I knew more about that industry than the heads of the three leading companies. They told me so themselves. That's how I got my present job."

A field in which many agents find success is personnel and training. Modern business is vast, complicated, and ever changing. Not only must it keep staffed with alert, growing young men, but it must constantly train up and down the line for the job ahead. In the FBI training never ceases and it covers all the techniques of modern business such as office management, purchasing, personnel, auditing, accounting, research, and business organization.

For years now, the FBI has run one of the best short-course training schools in the world, the National Police Academy, for retraining local police officers. No wonder then that men who came from the Bureau now serve as directors of personnel and training for leading companies such as the American Airlines and Rexall Drug Company. The allied field of customer education is now opening in certain areas and Johnson & Johnson has a former Bureau man as director of trade and customer education.

Labor and industrial relations, closely allied to personnel, is another area in which former agents do well. The best known, publicly, in this field is the vice-president of Ford Motor Company, John S. Bugas, who by his successful relations with Reuther's auto workers union has kept the Ford plant running when his competitors were closed down. No less successful are the men doing a similar job at American Steel & Wire Company, Reynolds Metals Company, Wright Aeronautical Corporation, and National Supply Company, to name just a few among the dozens of others.

Even in factory production you will find them. The assistant vice-president

Is Operating Cash Your #1 Problem?

You should read this
Book

OUR NEW BOOK presents an enlightening discussion of the financial problems facing an increasing number of manufacturers and wholesalers . . . tells how hundreds of companies are securing the extra cash they need to operate smoothly and efficiently. Companies throughout the country, in a wide variety of industries, are using our Commercial Financing Plan to a total of over $200,000,000 annually. Here are some of the reasons for its popularity:

1. It provides substantially more cash than is available from usual borrowing sources.
2. It continues year after year . . . uninterrupted by renewals, calls or periodic cleanup of loans.
3. The net cost of using the plan is reasonable. You pay interest on a day to day basis . . . only for money you actually need and use . . . instead of for a fixed amount over a fixed period of time.
4. There is no interference with management, no infringement on control.
5. The plan is simple and automatic in its operation, requires no change in accounting methods.

6. Relations between you and your customers are undisturbed.

7. You can start quickly. Through our network of offices it is not unusual for cash to be made available the day a request originates.

To get the complete story of our Commercial Financing Plan write or phone the nearest COMMERCIAL CREDIT CORPORATION office below for our new book, "HOW TO HAVE AN ADEQUATE AND CONTINUING SOURCE OF OPERATING CASH."

in charge of production at Studebaker Corporation, formerly ran an FBI field office. The production manager of the Mid-Western Die Casting Corporation is a former agent.

Department Store Positions

Certain businesses more than others, seem to have recognized early the value of these men. Department stores are in this group. We find former agents at Abraham & Straus, Alexander's, Loeser's, Lord & Taylor's, Macy's, and Wanamaker's in New York, and in other stores throughout the country.

Aviation is another industry in which practically every company has several former agents in varying capacities. There is at least one at Boeing, Chance-Voight, Hughes, Lockheed, North American, Pan-American, and United Aircraft.

Advertising, too, is not without its share of former agents. Erwin Wasey; Shappe, Wilkes, Inc.; Ruthrauff & Ryan; Wildrick & Miller; and Young and Rubicam are representatives.

A not unusual example of how these men serve a single company in several capacities is found in General Foods Corporation where one directs training of personnel, another is auditor, a third is a methods and procedures specialist, a fourth is the accounting manager, a fifth directs protection at a major plant, and until recently, a sixth was a purchasing executive.

The Society of Former Special Agents is small in size but potent through the positions which its members occupy in their communities. It was organized over ten years ago to continue the close association the agents had formed in the FBI and to assist each other in making good business connections. Actually the second purpose has proved to be a very minor one since, in respect of jobs, ex-agents are more sought after than seeking.

Some time ago a placement committee was organized and asked that any members desiring new jobs register with it. It soon developed that there were as many requests from business for agents as there were men looking for jobs, so that there has never been a list to choose from.

The personnel manager of a leading bank once asked if the Society had any members in the banking business.

"Yes," was reply. "We have men with big banks like the National City, in the Irving Trust of New York, or in as small as the Medina Valley State Bank at Divine, Tex. In the latter case it's the president, but we have everything from cashiers up to the top."

Not all the agents went into big business or do the conventional jobs we might expect. There are ranchers, engineers, research chemists, coffee buyers, football coaches (University of Iowa), college professors (Baldwin Wallace, Yale, Seton Hall, Wisconsin, and Marquette), newspaper reporters (St. Louis Post-Dispatch and Milwaukee Sentinel), radio news commentators, hotel managers, and credit men.

Cartoonist to Toxicologist

A former agent is the creator of the cartoon character "Don Winslow of the Navy," another writes a daily poem, syndicated through 100 American newspapers and one in Dublin, Ireland. Two are presidents of casket companies, another is a funeral director, and a third is a State toxicologist.

Outside of the United States they are just as ubiquitous. There is one in almost every major Central and South American city and many in Europe and the Far East. In Havana one runs the office of Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner, & Beane while another handles the affairs of Sears, Roebuck and Company. The manager of Kraft Foods Company in Mexico City was an agent; so is the manager for J. L. Griffith in Nicaragua. One owns a paper factory in Guatemala City, another is Special Assistant to the Ambassador of Brazil in Rio de Janeiro. There are four Society members in Rio de Janeiro; four in Caracas, Venezuela; and five in Honolulu. In Shanghai, Tokyo, Calcutta, or Manila you could find one—doing a job requiring judgment, discretion, and energy.

The directory of the Society of Former Special Agents reads like a register of the leading companies of America. Twenty-two of the leading insurance companies have one or more of its members on their payrolls. For that matter you could begin with Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Company, Armour and Company, and American Distilling Company, Inc., and go through the alphabet to Warner Bros., West Virginia Pulp & Paper Company,

They found hidden TREASURE IN LITTLE TIN BOXES!

When the company put in a postage meter, all departments were asked to turn in their stocks of postage stamps. Although the firm isn't very large, the office manager was dumbfounded—and so was everybody else! —to find $462.32 in stamps scattered around in desk drawers and stamp boxes.

Have you any idea how much company postage is unaccounted for in your offices... in loose adhesive stamps that can be lost, damaged or misused? A casual check might convince you of the economy, as well as efficiency, of a postage meter.

With a postage meter, you buy postage by having the meter set by the postoffice for any amount you want... and your postage is absolutely safe, cannot be lost, pilfered or misused... is automatically accounted for, recorded in visible registers.

Printing postage, as you need it, in any amount needed, for any kind of mail... is far more satisfactory—than stocking and sticking stamps, and manual mailing!

The meter prints postage directly on the envelope, the exact postage needed... prints a dated postmark plus an optional small advertisement, and seals the envelope flap—all at the same time. And the meter prints on gummed postage tape for parcel post...

Metered mail is already cancelled and postmarked, requires less handling in the post office, often makes earlier trains and planes.

And whether you send out ten letters a day, or a thousand... find out now what a postage meter can do in your office by calling the nearest Pitney-Bowes office, or write for illustrated booklet, "So You Have No Mailing Problems?"

It carries no advertising but if it did there would be no better medium for reaching the right men for the right job—"The Most Carefully Selected Men in the World."

DISTRIBUTION

The economy is dynamic, not static. Consequently, when prices creak they stimulate demand which in turn leads to lower costs, higher wages, and dividends. If a product is to hold its market it must either be continuously improved or its price reduced.

Prices must cover not only direct costs but also indirect costs—of better facilities, research, and reserves for the inevitable miscalculations and losses. Frequently the best strategy is to set the price first, then build the best article to sell at that price. Sometimes a lower price does more than increase demand—it opens up a new and hitherto untouched market. A small reduction in price expands the market by leaps and bounds, revealing possibilities of reducing costs by new economies.

The price finally arrived at may prove in practise to be too high or too low. It is too low if it fails to cover the expenses of production and marketing, including reserves for unforeseen contingencies. If these expenses cannot immediately be reduced, and demand or market conditions preclude a higher price, the concern must limp along as best it can until costs can be reduced. An alert management can find more than one way of wriggling out of a difficult situation. It can seek new markets, develop new products, invent new uses for old products. A well equipped

EMPLOYEE SUGGESTION

To: DIRECTOR, FBI

From: Special Agent

Field Office or Division New Orleans

Sugg # 1

b6

I have on several occasions used former Special Agents as sources of information on official matters in New Orleans territory. Their importance as sources is shown by the positions held by the following former Agents whom I have called on at various times:

There are numerous others in this territory, some known to me and many of whom I have no knowledge.

Where two men have the same information and one of them is a former Agent, ~~the one~~ is a much more valuable source because of his Bureau training and his knowledge of what is pertinent to the Bureau. He is of known reliability and more likely to cooperate with and assist an Agent.

In working out this suggestion, I obtained a copy of the membership directory, Society of Former Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Inc., and while this is not a complete listing of former Agents, it is apparent that every section of the country contains some former Agents. I believe that a great many of these could be of value if their names and addresses were known to the various offices of the Bureau.

It is, therefore, my suggestion that the Bureau furnish each office with the names, addresses and business connections of the former Special Agents in their territory. I suggest that the Bureau make this distribution since the Bureau may want to make some additions and deletions rather than have the membership directory itself used by the offices as the source. I would then suggest that these names be carried in the source of information card file under the heading "Former Special Agents" divided geographically.

OFFICIAL

SOCIETY FORMER SPECIAL AGENTS
OF THE
FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION
INC.

ROOM 903, 70 PINE ST., NEW YORK 7, N. Y.

FOR PRESIDENT Charles O. Blaisdell

According to the birth records for the City of Brooklyn, New York, the legal career of Charles O. Blaisdell officially began on the 27th day of November 1915.

Charlie spent his childhood in Brooklyn, and in true Brooklynite tradition became an ardent baseball fan. He attended Brooklyn Friends School, and upon graduation entered Dartmouth College, in Hanover, New Hampshire. Here he was an active participant in various sports and an enthusiastic member of the college football team. He was liked and admired by his fellow classmen for his sincerity, friendship, and all-around ability. He graduated in 1937 with a B.S. degree and a high scholastic standing.

Immediately following his graduation, Charlie entered Columbia University Law School, where he earnestly commenced preparation for his law career. His L.L.B. degree received in 1941.

Charlie was admitted to the bar of the State of New York on April 10, 1942, which admission occurred shortly after his appointment as a Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. His work in the Bureau varied from the handling of internal security cases during the war years to conducting general criminal investigations, and he was assigned to the Grand Rapids, Philadelphia and New York offices. In 1945 Charlie resigned from the Bureau in order to establish his own law practice. In April 1941 married Alla Herkstroter whom he had known since childhood. He presently resides at 325 Clinton Avenue, Brooklyn, with his wife and two children: a junior edition of himself, aged 4; and a 1 year old daughter.

Charlie is presently the Secretary of the Society.

Jack E. Buckley

Jack E. Buckley was born in Washington, D. C., on June 8, 1898. Educated in the public and high schools of Washington he is also a graduate of Pace Institute. By profession an industrial engineer, he holds a certificate as a Certified Public Accountant of New York.

As a career employee he has spent most of his life in the governmental service. He was employed in the Bureau in 1926-1927 as a special accountant. Since 1935 he has been in charge of the New York Field Office of the Federal Communications Commission, directing all field investigations of communications carriers.

His professional career was interrupted by both world wars. In World War I he served on General Pershing's staff in France. In World War II he was a lieutenant colonel in the Chemical Corps. He wears the Army Commendation Medal, Couspicuous Service Cross of New York and has three citations for the Legion of Merit.

He has two hobbies which entail many hours of overtime work each week, army reserve work and finding jobs for unemployed friends. In the army reserve activities he is deputy commander of the Chemical Corps Training Units in New York. When it comes to looking for jobs for his friends he claims to have a private intelligence service superior to the FBI. He resides at 99 Wyatt Road, Garden City, N. Y., with his wife and 20 year old daughter.

John A. Murphy

John got his A.B. from Boston College, and his L.L.B. at Boston University. He practiced law in Massachusetts and Federal courts around Boston from 1928 to his joining the Bureau in 1930. He served at St. Louis, Washington, Trenton, Boston and

New York. In his last three offices he frequently was acting SAC. He resigned in 1938 to join Wayne Merrick in the Association of Casualty & Surety Executives. As an SAC in the Claims Bureau and as an aggressive investigator, he supervised the biggest New York City case of ambulance chasing, employing motion pictures for the first time in that type of case. He anticipated Pearl Harbor, getting into the ONI in 1940, where he remained until 1945, being released as a Commander. For the next two years he was SAC, Compliance Division, War Assets. In 1947 he became an Executive of Pinkerton's National Detective Agency, and is still directing its race track ramifications with the objective of giving the player a more even chance against the "odds" with which that sport is susceptible.

John is married with a teen age daughter. His Manhasset home boasts of the many results of John's handiwork and long night hours. His early summer vacations as Purser on Fall River Line boats got John started as a poker player who can enjoy the game for high or low stakes.

Because he aggressively sponsored the idea of a Society publication, he was appointed as the original Editor of the Grapevine. He is thoroughly familiar with Society affairs having participated in meetings of the policy makers both as Grapevine Editor and later as Chairman of the Executive Committee.

FIRST VICE PRESIDENT

Oscar A. Bowen, Sr.

Oscar Bowen was born November 23, 1886, Newport, Rhode Island. His father was a pilot along the Southern New England Coast and for two years after leaving high school he assisted his father in piloting incoming ocean vessels.

Oscar was not destined to follow the seas. We have often heard it said that most of the men in the Navy are from the midwest and in Oscar's case it is just the reverse, he went to Chicago, where he became associated with the Peoples Gas Light and Coke Company. Later he became Claim Agent for the Northwestern Gas Light and Coke Company. During this time he studied law at night and subsequently pursued various other college courses. He is presently supervisor of Industrial Engineers for the Peoples Gas Light and Coke Company in Chicago. He is a professional registered engineer and was recently honored by his company for his forty-two years of service with them.

In 1917, he was given leave of absence and entered the bureau, resigning therefrom in 1919.

Oscar has been one of the stalwarts in the Society's affairs in Chicago. He was Secretary during 1942 and served as Chairman of the Chicago Chapter during 1943. After his excellent work as Chairman in 1943 he was unanimously chosen as the Chapter Chairman in 1944.

Oscar likes to make model yachts and each fall he manages to do some deep sea fishing. It is not known if he ever catches any fish. He plays golf for the exercise and not for the score. We also have it on good authority he has another hobby that he never mentions and that is "eating."

Louis H. Fitch

Louis Fitch was born at Columbia Station (Lorain County), Ohio, on August 15, 1904. He attend Baldwin-Wallace College, graduating with B.S. degree in 1930, L.L.B. degree from Cleveland Law School in 1936 and later studied accounting at Fenn College and Cleveland College.

Married Helen Burk of Columbia Station in 1932. Children: John, age ten, and Margaret, age seven.

He served as Assistant Treasurer of Baldwin-Wallace College until 1942, when he resigned to enter the Bureau. He was assigned to the Louisville and Newark Field Divisions, returning to Baldwin-Wallace College in 1945 as Business Manager.

He was Director and Treasurer of Berea Chamber of Commerce, as well as Secretary of the Board of Trustees of the Berea Community Hospital.

He is presently engaged as Business Manager at Wittenberg College, Springfield, Ohio.

John L. Harrigan

Jack Harrigan was born at Portland, Maine on February 14, 1898. Jack spent his early childhood in Portland and was graduated from the Portland High School. He was a corporal in the First World War and in 1919 he received his A.B. degree from Holy Cross College at Worcester, Mass.

Upon being graduated from College John was engaged in the wool business for several years. However he later studied law at the Law School of the University of Georgetown and in June of 1929 he received his L.L.B. degree. He was admitted to the District of Columbia and the Maine Bars in April 1929 and 1931 respectively.

For a while Jack was with the Capitol Police Force and in June of 1929 he entered the Bureau. While with the Bureau he served in Chicago, Boston, Birmingham, New York City and in the Identification Division in Washington.

In October of 1932 he resigned from the Bureau and joined the Legal Staff of the Home Owners Loan Corp. and was SAC of the New York Office, Investigations Section for four years.

Jack then became the Assistant Chief Investigator on the staff of John Harlan Amen who was appointed the Special Prosecutor of rackets and official corruption in Brooklyn, N. Y.

With the event of World War II Jack again entered Government Service with the Office of Alien Property Custodian in New York City where he became Chief of the Special Service Section where he was charged with the duty of supervising investigations in all parts of the United States. Upon resigning from this position on August 1, 1944 he became Chief Investigator for the Massachusetts Claim Investigations Committee in Boston.

Jack is a charter member of the Society, he has been a member of and served as Chairman of the Executive Committee where he performed a first rate job. In addition to this Jack was the first Chairman of the Boston Chapter and has been an efficient and loyal advocate of the Society.

SECOND VICE PRESIDENT

Nicholas Alaga

Nicholas Alaga was born May 21, 1912, in Watsonville, California (90 miles south of San Francisco.) He received a Ph.B. degree from the University of Santa Clara 1934; L.L.B. Stanford University 1937. He served in the Bureau from October 1937-October 1947, being assigned in chronological order to the following field offices, viz: Boston, Milwaukee, Butte (what happened in Milwaukee, Nick?) San Francisco, Honolulu, back to San Francisco, back to Honolulu, Detroit, New York, Manila (as FBI Liaison Officer attached to Army's CIO—the most dangerous part of this assignment was eating in the Army mess), and San Francisco. His longest assignment was New York 1941-1945; the Bureau probably thought he was still in the Philippines. Engaged in practice of law in San Francisco since November 1947, associated with Hallinan, MacInnis and Zamloch, primarily doing trial work. Single; no children (we quote it as Nick put it down). Presently serving as Chairman, San Francisco Chapter Ex-FBI's.

Robert H. Hicks

Bob is a native of Staten Island, New York. He attended the University of Pennsylvania, and Fordham University School of Law. He was admitted to the New York Bar.

Bob served in the Bureau from September 1934 to March 1945, as Special Agent, Special Agent in Charge and Inspector. He was attached to the Chicago Field Office, and later to field offices in Philadelphia, Washington, D. C., Norfolk, Richmond, Cleveland and New York. From 1939 to 1943 he was SAC at the Academy at Quantico, Virginia. At the time of his resignation from the Bureau in 1945, Bob was in charge of the Norfolk Field Division.

He served as Counsel for the Reconstruction Finance Corporation from 1945 to 1947. He resigned to accept his present position as Secretary and Director of Roberts & Mander Corporation, Natboro, Pennsylvania; manufacturers of gas and electric ranges, and kitchen cabinets.

Bob is President of the Philadelphia Chapter of the Society at the present time.

John F. Sutton, Jr.

John F. Sutton, Jr. was born in Alpine, Texas, on January 26, 1891. He is a graduate of the San Angelo, Texas, High School and holds an LL.B. degree from the University of Texas (1941).

After a short association with a Texas law firm he entered the Bureau on March 2, 1942, serving in the Butte, St. Louis, Philadelphia and Allentown offices. He resigned from the Bureau in November, 1945.

Leaving the Bureau, John was associated for three years with the San Antonio Law firm of Brewer, Matthews, Nowlin & Macfarlane but on January 1, 1949 with two fellow Texans, he formed the law firm of Kerr, Gayer & Sutton, with offices at San Angelo, Texas.

John was one of the originators of the San Antonio Chapter of the Society. He is a member of the Tom Green County Bar Assn., Texas State Bar, American Bar Assn., Reserve Officers Assn (1st Lt. JAGC), San Angelo Country Club, Phi Delta Phi and Order of the Coif. In 1940 he was married to Miss Nancy Ewing of McAllen, Texas.

THIRD VICE PRESIDENT

Richard S. Gibbs

Dick was born in Ottumwa, Iowa on January 5, 1916. He received his B.A. and J.D. Degrees at the University of Iowa.

He was Law Clerk to Chief Justice Paul W. Richards of the Iowa Supreme Court, and Justice Wiley Rutledge, then Associate Justice on the Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia. He was a Special Attorney for the Anti-Trust Division.

Dick joined the Bureau in May, 1942 and resigned on November 30, 1945. He was attached to the St. Paul, Milwaukee and Salt Lake City Offices. In the latter office he was on the Japanese Squad, Dick also spent considerable time in the mountains of Utah and Western Colorado, on foot and horseback, attempting to roundup fugitives.

Dick is at present Secretary of the Wisconsin Chapter. He is practicing law as an Associate in the office of Quarles, Spence & Quarles, 828 North Broadway, Milwaukee. He was recently appointed Assistant Wisconsin Attorney for the Chicago, Northwestern R.R.

Leon Levin

Leon Levin is a native of Trenton, New Jersey, where he attended the graded and high schools. He received a Bachelor of Arts degree from Lehigh University in 1928 and a Bachelor of Law degree from George Washington University in 1931.

Entering the service of the Bureau in 1931, he put in two years in the old Identification Unit. In 1932 he was appointed a Special Agent and saw service in the New York, Philadelphia, Washington, Detroit, Cincinnati and San Francisco Field Offices. During his service with the Bureau he gained fame as a member of the FBI's first basketball team which won the Government Championship Emblem for both of the years that Leon was tossing them up. He resigned from the Bureau in 1942 and following Horace Greeley's advice—headed west.

After serving with the Reconstruction Finance Corp. and War Assets Administration long enough to find out that they do not let you take samples home he concurrently became a benedict and started a venture in a men's clothing manufacturing business. Early in 1949 he returned to the government service and is now writing investigative reports for the Inspector General, U. S. Air Forces. He resides in Los Angeles with his wife and two children. He is an active member of the Los Angeles Chapter of the Society.

Downey Rice

Downey Rice, ex-ace spy catcher is now enjoying a successful law practice in our Nation's capital. As a charter member of the very active Washington Chapter of our Society, he helped guide its activities in the early stages as Secretary and Chairman.

Downey's service with the Bureau began in 1934 when his athletic prowess helped bring home several basketball championships for the F.B.I. five. After his appointment as a Special Agent, he served in Omaha, Des Moines, Louisville, Boston, New York and Washington Field Offices. In New York where he was assigned from 1938 until 1945 he achieved immediate notoriety in the Vera Zorina extortion case when he mistakenly arrested newly arrived Agent Jim Malley at the pay off spot. He is still trying to explain this "boner."

Downey developed speaking acquaintances with numerous spies during his long tenure on the major case squad and his efforts contributed materially to the successful prosecutions in the Duquesne, Kurt Frederick Ludwig, Grace Buchanan-Dineen, Ernest Frederick Lehmitz, William Albrecht Von Haulter, Grois-Grote and other espionage cases. The high point of his career was the George John Dasch submarine saboteur case. Downey participated in the surveillances and arrests of subjects Burger, Thiele and Kerling in New York and then flew to Chicago to assist in the apprehensions of Haupt and Neubauer. It so happened that Downey and his inseparable companion and tail partner Willis Fisher knew subject Neubauer having seen him on several occasions while following one of the Duquesne subjects several years before. Neubauer had returned to Germany only to be sent back on the submarine. In Downey's interrogations of Haupt sufficient information was extracted to involve six other Chicago subjects on treason charges.

When Gimpel and Colepaugh the last two submarine borne saboteurs landed in this country late in 1944, Downey, like an old fire horse, jumped into the case figuring to make a speedy arrest. All that he could find out was where Gimpel had bought an overcoat. Realizing that he was losing his grip, he asked for a transfer to Miami and got Washington. Shortly thereafter he resigned to practice law.

Last year the United States Attorney for the District of Columbia secured his services as a consultant to a Special Grand Jury probing gambling activities in the metropolitan area of Washington. Downey's expert assistance and keen knowledge of investigative techniques led to the apprehension of 32 major subjects and their subsequent indictment for violation of the gambling statutes. Despite the added work of the Grand Jury investigation, Downey maintained his law office and found time to cooperate with many other former Agents who are now practicing law throughout the country helping to solve their legal problems.

Many of the Society members will remember the charming Ellen Smith, one of H. H. Clegg's front office girls. Ellen Smith is now Mrs. Downey Rice and the mother of two children, a boy 11 and a girl 7. Needless to say, Downey has a busy home life as well as a very happy one. Mrs. Rice, with her Bureau background, does not object too strenuously when Downey announces that he is going to New York to attend a quarterly meeting of the Society. Her policy is to object mildly while polishing up his ten-year key and helping pack his bag,

FOURTH VICE PRESIDENT

Lonnie H. Brashear

Lonnie was born on November 19, 1912 in Henderson, Ky. He received his A.B. degree from Evansville College (Old Moors-head College), Evansville, Indiana, and his L.L.B. from Wayne University, Detroit, Michigan. Since August 30, 1945 he and his brother, Bill, have been associated in the general practice of law at 1070 Penobscot Building, Detroit, Michigan.

Lonnie was in the F.B.I. from early November, 1940, to August 30, 1945 and during this period was assigned to Boston, New York City and the Bureau in that order. While at the Bureau he received the nickname of "Brittle-bones" Brashear, because of his propensity for breaking ankle bones in a six inch fall on the Volley ball court. He was a member of the original Japanese Alien Squad in New York City, and was active in the Nazi Party round-up which culminated in successful prosecution of the N.S.D.A.P. members in the Eastern and Southern Districts of New York.

He is a charter member of the Detroit Chapter of our organization and with the other original signees devoted considerable time to getting the chapter rolling in Detroit.

Lonnie and Rosalie, his wife, reside with their quiet, gentle offspring at Confusion, Inc., the name they give to their home (for some unknown reason) at 18260 Faust Road, Detroit, Michigan.

Arthur H. Crowl

On November 1,

1948 Art became associated with RCA-Victor with offices in Harrison, New Jersey.

A resident of Flushing, L. I., where he resides with his wife and children.

Art served on the Membership Committee and was Treasurer of the Society from 1947 to 1948.

Andrew J. Zimmerman

Andrew Jackson Zimmerman (Jack) was born in Carbondale, Illinois in 1904. He received his primary and high school education at the local schools and later matriculated at Southern Illinois University and the Walton school of Commerce in Chicago.

Jack entered the Bureau in 1934 and while many will remember him as SAC at several offices and as administrative assistant to the director he is best known to the public for his work on the Grand Coulee Dam Case. He left the Bureau in 1945 to become Director of the Department of Public Utilities of the State of Washington. In the past four years he has gained national fame in the regulatory field, sitting on many important committees for the National Association of Railroad and Utility Commission. Trading upon that fame, he is now practicing as a consultant on utility rates and practices in the communications field.

In the Zimmerman domicile in Seattle you will usually find Mrs. Z and the two children but finding Jack involves broadcasting on a national hook-up. He is concurrently experting on jobs in Baltimore and British Columbia. That gang of X-FBIs on the Pacific Coast are determined that some day Jack is going to be governor of Washington.

TREASURER

Henry W. Anderson

Henry W. Anderson, a Connecticut Yankee, was born in Milford, Connecticut (on Long Island Sound, midway between Bridgeport and New Haven) on May 23, 1915. Hank and/or Andy, he answers to both, was graduated from Brown University, Providence, Rhode Island, June, 1938. Shortly following graduation, he started his graduate studies by attending the summer session, 1938, at Columbia University. In the Fall of 1938, he was appointed to the Staff of Price, Waterhouse & Company, Public Accountants, New York City, and he remained with this firm until February, 1941 during which time he continued graduate work in the evening sessions at Columbia.

Hank resigned from Price, Waterhouse & Company to accept an appointment as a Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and took his Oath of Office for that position on March 3, 1941. While in the Bureau, he served in the Omaha, Nebraska and Chicago, Illinois Field Offices and was assigned to the Seat of Government as a supervisor from December, 1942 until he resigned from the Bureau to accept a Navy Commission in May, 1944.

Having been born and raised on the water, Hank always had a yen to join the Navy and see the world and he says that sitting at his desk in Washington accelerated his thinking in that direction in the Spring of 1944. Because of his accounting background, his Commission was in the Supply Corps and following a course of study at the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration, he was assigned to duty as the Supply and Disbursing Officer of the USS Ebert DE768. We are told that he really did see the world in the Navy. He made five (5) crossings of the Atlantic going to various ports in England and France and was also all through the Pacific. He was one of the early tourists to visit Yokohama and Tokyo, Japan, shortly after the Japanese surrender.

Hank was released to inactive duty in April, 1946 and after an extended vacation accepted a Special Agent's position with the Compliance Enforcement Division, War Assets Administration. He remained with this Agency until October, 1948, at which time he transferred over to the Department of Commerce, where he is now employed as a Special Agent of the Enforcement Staff, Office of International Trade, 55 Broadway, New York, N. Y.

Hank is married and is the proud father of a six year old girl and a 4 year old boy. He still prefers the country life to living in the big city and commutes daily to New York from his native town Milford, Connecticut. Hank's chief hobbies are boating and fishing both of which sports he is able to enjoy to the fullest from his vantage point on Long Island Sound.

A. Ernest Larsen

"Buddy" Larsen is 37 years of age and a resident of Bronx County, New York where he presently resides with his wife and two children. He is planning to move to Westchester and in all probability has already selected his home at this writing.

Bud attended New York local public schools and is a graduate of New York University with the degree of B.S. in Comm. He also attended Fordham University School of Law. Bud received his certificate as a Certified Public Accountant and before his entrance into the FBI in 1937 was engaged as a public accountant. He served as a Special Agent in Newark, Detroit, and New York, resigning in December 1945. Bud was supervisor of the Administrative section of the New York office and also was supervising agent of the Accounting section. Bud was one of the few agents that held a C.P.A. certificate upon entrance into the Bureau and he had rare ability and could handle well any assignment.

Bud again engaged in Public Accounting work upon his resignation from the Bureau and in 1947 became Assistant to the Manager of the General Claims Department of Railway Express Agency Inc.

Bud has been active in the Society and is well liked by all. A lot of fellows want to know what the "A" is at the start of "A. Ernest Larsen." Well we will keep you guessing. It is a nice name and we have always wondered why he does not use it. Perhaps he will some day.

Thomas M. McDade

Tom was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., and resides with his family in Rye, N. Y.

He is both an accountant and an attorney and served in the Bureau from 1934 to 1938. Unlike the young man who joined the Navy to see the world only to spend three years in the Brooklyn Navy Yard, Tom took part in two real shooting affairs in his first six months of Bureau service. That the shooting was for keeps is testified by the fact that five people were killed in these affrays. He survived these to engage in the practice of law in New York for a period of four years, when he was commissioned in the Army of the U. S. His overseas assignments included service in Australia, New Guinea, the Philippines and Japan. The reorganization of the Manila Police Department, in which Tom is an Inspector of Police, was his most interesting assignment.

Tom is presently Manager of Accounting, Budgets and Methods for General Foods Corporation in New York. An active Society member who has served on the Placement and Publications Committees during the past year, he now writes for a hobby, most recently appearing in Ellery Queen's Mystery Magazine as a contest prize winner.

SECRETARY

John Lewis Ames

Lew, as he is known to his friends, was born on July 15, 1912, at Norfolk, Virginia. He graduated in June, 1933 with an AB degree from Randolph-Macon College, Ashland, Virginia, and in June, 1937, with an LLB degree, from the University of Richmond Law School. He did some post graduate law work at New York University Law School. Lew was admitted to the Virginia bar in 1936 and to the New York bar in 1940.

Immediately following his graduation from law school, Lew was employed as an attorney by the Home Life Insurance Company in New York City and thereafter was associated with Tanner, Sillocks, and Friends, attorneys at law, in New York City. In 1941 he became house counsel to Ruthrauff & Ryan, Inc., and in 1942 he obtained a leave of absence from this position and entered the Bureau as a Special Agent. He served in the Bureau from August, 1942, to November, 1945, when he resigned and returned as secretary and counsel to Ruthrauff & Ryan, Inc., which position he still holds.

Lew's office is located in the Chrysler Building, 405 Lexington Avenue, New York 17, N. Y. and he has recently acquired a new home at 125 Rumson Road, Harbour Green, Massapequa, Lon'Island, where he resides with his wife Margaret and his two children: Margaret Lee aged three years and John Lewis, Jr., aged one and one-half years.

Unlike some of us, Lew did not do too much traveling in the Bureau. He served in the Washington Field Office in 1942 and 1943 and in the New York Field Office from 1943 to November, 1945 when he resigned.

Lew belongs to the following fraternities; Phi Kappa Sigma, Omicron Delta Kappa, and Tau Kappa Alpha. His principal interests apart from his work and family are college football, baseball, and basketball. He is a member of the National Association of Approved Basketball Officials and of the Eastern Intercollegiate Basketball Officials Association. He is a member of the New York County Lawyers Association and a member or officer of many other associations too numerous to mention here.

Lew served as a member of the Chapter Committee in 1947 and 1948 and has shown great interest in the affairs of the Society.

William F. Giesen

Bill Giesen is another native son of New York where he was born some thirty-three years ago. He attended the local public schools and Fordham University where he received his B.S. and L.L.B. degrees, with honor. While at Fordham, Bill was Captain of the Swimming team for two years and he was one of the best swimmers they ever had. He continued his athletic endeavors while connected with the New York A.C. and incidentally is a good golfer.

Bill was admitted to practice in 1939 and after a short association with a downtown law firm and as law secretary to Federal Judge John W. Clancy, he became associated with the firm of McCormick and Eckel. In 1941 he entered the Bureau as a Special Agent, serving in San Diego, San Francisco and New York until 1946. Ted Conroy took him with him to the Security Bureau where he was Counsel. Bill handled the various legal matters that arose and was very successful in his dealings with the New York State legislature, being responsible for certain special legislation affecting the Port of New York. Bill now is General Manager of the Maritime Association of the Port of New York.

Bill was married in 1941 to a lovely Miss Mary Gilligan and has three charming children. He is active in a number of clubs and associations including the Bronx County Bar Association, The Guild of Catholic Lawyers and the Knollwood Golf Club.

Bill has been active in the Society since 1946 and has been ever willing to do all in his power to make it more successful even going so far as personally furnishing entertainment. A good student, a good lawyer and business man, a good athlete and of all things a good guitar player.

James Romano

Delivered by Sir Stork Christmas eve 1902 in a little town outside of Naples, Italy. Arrived U. S. March 1909 and settled with family in Pelham, N. Y., where attended public schools.

After several unsuccessful tries during World War I to get in Uncle Sam's Navy, finally managed to convince them he was old enough and in February 1919 at 16 started a four year hitch in the Navy. Saw a bit of the world and a lot of China's interior for 3½ years on the Yangtse River Patrol. Discharged in 1923, tried a hitch ashore and lasted eight months. Then a couple of more years with the merchant marine and a three year hitch with the "Fighting 69th."

Entered Bureau Jan. 5, 1942 Newark, Philadelphia. Under Bureau auspices had chance to visit Italy (SIS) and the good fortune to visit with relatives hadn't seen in 35 years. V-J Day found him in Appenines Mountains and didn't know about it till returned to Milan a couple of days later. Interesting case assignments gave him chance to see most of Northern Italy and biggest thrill was audience with His Holiness the Pope.

Back in States in time for Christmas 1945 and resigned from Bureau March 1, 1946. Returned to N. Pelham Police Dept. as Acting Chief and retired with 21 years service.

After retirement accepted position with Frederick

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

Alfred B. Berry

Alfred B. Berry, a native New Yorker, born April 28, 1911 received the degree of Bachelor of Science in electrical engineering from Purdue University in 1935 and thereafter, while employed with the Consolidated Edison Company of New York, attended Fordham Law School and in 1940 received his degree.

Al's service in the F.B.I. covered the period January 1941 to April 1946 and included assignments at San Francisco, Washington and New York. At Washington, for a period of time, he was an Instructor in the Training Division and while assigned to the New York office, was Supervisor in charge of the Criminal Section, the position he held at the time of his resignation in 1946. He was a qualified firearms man and lectured considerably before police schools and public groups.

He was admitted to the New York State Bar while still in the F.B.I., and after his resignation, became associated with a firm of patent attorneys in New York. In 1948, he himself became a registered patent attorney. In May, 1948, he resigned to accept an appointment as Superintendent of the Security Division of the General Claim Department, Railway Express Agency, Inc.

Al, and his charming wife have two boys and live on suburban Long Island. He was formerly an active oarsman, but today his weekends are spent improving his house, mowing his lawn and occasionally, hacking his way out of the woods of one of the local golf courses.

Morse J. Conroy

A native of Ohio, age 40, married and father of two children residing in New Rochelle, N. Y.

After graduation from law school was admitted to the Ohio State Bar in 1932. Three years later in 1935 entered the Bureau to serve three years.

In 1938 accepted position as Home Office Inspector with Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, which position he presently holds.

Morse was a Captain with the Army Air Forces during the recent war serving as an intelligence officer.

During 1947 he served as Secretary of the Society and in 1948 was Society President.

John F. Elich

Jack was born the oldest of 11 children on September 27, 1904 in Pueblo, Colorado. He finished high school in Roundup, Montana, where the family had moved.

After completing high school, he bounced around the country, seeking his fortune. He spent a couple of years in the copper mines of Arizona and the coal mines of Wyoming. In 1924 he joined the United States Marine Corps. He really saw the world, South America, Honolulu, Guam, Australia, the Philippines and China.

When mustered out of the Marines as a Sergeant he went to Tacoma, Washington, where he married Frances Hugg. In 1930 he joined the Tacoma Police Force and served with this organization for 8 years. In 1933 he started to study law at night and in October, 1937 was made a Special Agent of the F.B.I.

Jack served in the Newark, Detroit, Milwaukee, Washington, San Antonio and Pittsburgh offices of the Bureau. While in Wisconsin he was Resident Agent in Eau Claire and in Texas he was Assistant Agent in Charge of the San Antonio Office.

Jack resigned from the Bureau in 1944 and became Security Director for all plants of the Sperry Gyroscope Company, Inc.

He is a member of the Masons, Elks, and Veterans of Foreign Wars. His hobbies are golf, photography and bowling.

Although one of the newer members of the Society he has displayed a keen interest in its affairs and has been a regular attendant at all the New York meetings.

He is the present Chairman of the Placement Committee.

Gilbert H. Meyer

Gil was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., and attended Brooklyn Public Schools and Boys High School. Entered Columbia College and received AB degree and continued at Columbia Law School and St. John's Brooklyn receiving his L.L.B. During these school years he did some newspaper work.

Subsequently admitted to New York State Bar and entered a New York law firm where he remained about three years.

In 1935 Gil was appointed Special Agent in the Bureau. His first office was Chicago which was a pretty lively spot at the time and remained about one year.

Transferred to New York City, Gil worked on many "specials" and in particular bank robbery cases. Three very interesting years were then spent in Miami. Prior to the establishment of resident agents in outlying areas Gil covered Cuba, Canal Zone and all points "south." Returned again to New York City for about one year to work on "specials" in espionage. Resigned from the Bureau in November 1941 to accept position as protection manager of one of New York's larger department stores.

His family consists of Mrs. Meyer, Gilbert, Jr. age 11, and Jane age 9. Presently residing at 351 E. Shore Road, Kings Point, L. I., N. Y.

His hobbies are hunting, fishing and photography.

Gil is presently Chairman of the Membership Committee of the Society and has served on the Committee for the past six years.

William James Rooney

Bill Rooney was born in New York City and has been a resident of "The Bronx" for all of his thirty eight years. Bill attended Fordham University where he received his A.B. and L.L.B. degrees in 1934 and 1936. He has also done graduate work in Federal Taxation at New York University.

Upon Bill's admission to the New York Bar in 1936, he was engaged in the general practice of law and entered the Bureau one year later as a Special Agent.

While in the Bureau, Bill served in Chicago (1937), Salt Lake (1937), Los Angeles (1937-8), Huntington (1938-9), and while assigned to Pittsburgh (1939-41).

was resident agent at Erie, Pennsylvania.

From 1942 to 1945, Bill was connected with the Army Air Forces Intelligence where he supervised investigative activities security matters, etc. As an Associate with the prominent law firm of Simpson Thacher and Bartlett from 1945 to 1948, Bill was engaged in general practice and in June 1948 he opened his own office at 217 Broadway, New York City. He is very active in professional, fraternal, social and Church organizations including the Bar Association of the City of New York, New York County Lawyers Association, Bronx County Bar Association, 4th Degree, Knights of Columbus. He is supervising a number of youth projects in his local community and has always been active in the Society. Bill was Secretary, is a member of the Publications Committee and is presently First Vice President of the Society and is always ready to contribute his time and talent toward its success.

Some may wonder why Bill always uses his full name. It appears that a classmate of his at Fordham, William John Rooney is also a lawyer and our Bill had been getting his mail and calls and of all things clients mixed up. He wants to stand on his own.

John W. Vincent

John Vincent is another of those unreconstructed Southerners who do so well in business in New York. Born and raised in Hampton, South Carolina, John is a true soft-spoken gentleman of the old school. And New York, which loves to raise its own voice, listens when he speaks.

John was educated near home in Furnham University in Greenville, taking AB and LLB degrees in 1929 and 1931. After a spell of local law practice he joined the Bureau and did a long tour of duty in the eventful years from 1933 to 1945. At Atlanta John was one of the most popular and understanding of SAC's in the Bureau. He was especially helpful to new agents who had yet to learn how to avoid writing memoranda explaining their actions.

Since 1945 he has been the New York representative of Southern Comfort Corp. which seems to be a beverage slightly stronger than Coca Cola and more sought after. As chairman of the Public Relations Committee of the Society, John has had articles about the Society appear in national magazines and newspapers and has even spoken over the radio about its activities.

John is presently the President of the Society.

TWO YEAR UNEXPIRED TERM OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEMBER WM. C. DICKSON

Edward E. Conroy, alias Ted Conroy, alias "The Utah Blimp"

"Ted" Conroy was born in Ogden, Utah, on October 3, 1895. He received his elementary and high school education in the public schools there. We have no record of his scholastic attainments, so assume that they were not much. His father, Edward M. Conroy, was an eminent physician, served as Mayor of Ogden and was well-known throughout the West. Ted graduated from Cornell in 1920. In 1919 he won the Intercollegiate lightweight wrestling championship of the United States, showing more energy and activity at that time than he later evidenced at various periods during his Bureau career.

Ted was a real hero of World War I. He was attached to the Fifth Marine Regiment, and was wounded in Belleau Woods in June, 1918. He was awarded the French Croix de Guerre and he is entitled to wear the Fouragere since his regiment was twice cited in French Army Orders. He also received the American Silver Star Cross with Oak Leaf Cluster and the Order of the Purple Heart.

Ted came into the Federal Bureau of Investigation as a Special Agent on December 28, 1922. During his Bureau career, he demonstrated the luck of the Irish, the charm of the Irish and their lovability, with exceptions. It is a rather hackneyed trite cliché to say that he has a "host of friends." He has several "hosts of friends" inside and outside of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Society of Former Special Agents. While in the Bureau, he displayed a marked investigative flair and outstanding success as an agent and administrative ability of a high order as an Agent in Charge. He had charge of many offices during his career. One of his first offices as a Special Agent was in Baltimore, where he associated with that other outstanding member of the Society, one Bill Seery. Upon leaving Baltimore and separating from Bill, Ted showed marked improvement. So did Bill. Time and space do not permit a full explanation. Ted was Agent in Charge of the New York Field Division during the latter part of World War II and supervised the investigation of many of the Bureau's most important cases while there.

He is a member of many law enforcement organizations, including the International Association of Chiefs of Police. He was awarded an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws by Seton Hall College in 1942.

Probably the outstanding success of his career was his marriage. His wife, who was a stenographer in the St. Louis office while Ted was Agent in Charge, was conceded to be the prettiest girl in the State of Missouri. Certain individuals have intimated that her "eyesight" was obviously poor, but they are probably prejudiced.

Ted was appointed the Executive Vice President of the Security Bureau, Inc. on February 10, 1947, after resigning from the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

He is a splendid investigator, an excellent administrator, and, best of all, a wonderful friend.

Vincent W. Gillen

Vince Gillen has never forgotten the Bureau bulletin issued about 1937 which started: "Due to the peripatetic activities of bank robbers . . ." He was so impressed by the word peripatetic that he soon left the Bureau. After five years as Inspector with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, followed by service in the Army Air Forces Intelligence, he turned to Personnel and Labor Relations as Assistant Personnel Manager of the Otis Elevator Company, New York. After three years there, he assumed his present position of Director of Personnel of Liggett Drug Company, New York, which operates over 170 retail drug stores from Maine to Ohio, as part of the Rexall Drug Company.

Vince was in the Bureau in 1935-36 and 37 but is not old enough to refer to them as the "good old days," having joined when a little below the minimum age. He worked in Chicago, Kansas City and Philadelphia.

He joined the Society in early 1938 and has attended almost every New York meeting since. He has served on the Membership Committee.

A graduate of Brooklyn Law School and a member of the New York Bar, he lives in the Bay Ridge section of Brooklyn with his wife and four children.

Howard V. Ross

Howard Ross is one of those fellows that when you meet him you like him immediately. He seems to be an easy going chap, full of life and full of fun. Life is really wonderful and it should be when you consider that he has a most charming wife and a beautiful little girl. Howard has a nice home in Bronxville Manor in Westchester. Incidentally he had just moved in when the snow really fell and he was stranded for a number of days. But he will tell you now that there is nothing like the country air.

Howard is just one of thousands who live and work in New York but are not native sons. He hails from St.

Joseph, Missouri, where he was born in 1914 and where he received his preliminary and higher education. He is a graduate of the University of Missouri, having received his L.L.B. in 1937.

Upon his admission to the Bar, Howard engaged in the practice of law at St. Joe until 1941 and entered the Bureau as a Special Agent in December, 1941, and served until September, 1944. While in the Bureau he was assigned to Birmingham and after a time was resident agent at Greenwood, Mississippi. In 1943 he was on Special to New York and later was assigned to that office.

Howard could not stay away from the practice of law for long and in 1944 became associated with the prominent law firm of Simpson, Thatcher & Bartlett where he is now a senior associate specializing in labor law. His legal ability has been definitely established and we are sure that it will not be long when he becomes a member of that excellent firm.

The State of New York had insisted upon Howard showing his knowledge of law. They refused to admit him to practice upon motion despite the fact that he had been admitted in Missouri for a number of years. He showed them by passing their bar examination on the first try.

Howard is very active in the Society and has never been known to miss a meeting or turn down an assignment. He is always willing to do more than his share. He is at present on the membership committee.

The practice of law leaves little time for extra-curricular activities. On week-ends he had played lots of soft ball and once in a while sits in at a game of poker. If you have not played poker with Howard you are really in for something. He is quick, lucky and always wins. And elections???

Hon. J. Edgar Hoover, Director
 Federal Bureau of Investigation
 U. S. Department of Justice
 Washington, D. C.

Society Former FBI Agent

Dear Mr. Hoover:

For a very considerable period of time consideration has been given by the Bureau and by many of those now out of the Bureau to the possibility of creating an organization of former agents that will warrant some degree of official FBI recognition. While it is believed fair to say that just about everyone appreciates the mutual advantages of such an organization, the mechanics of setting up the organization in order to obviate certain self-evident pitfalls has been a stumbling block.

Bearing the foregoing in mind, the following observations are being set forth with the thought perhaps they may provide a starting point for further discussions.

NOV 7 1949
RECORDED

Considerations deemed basic

029-100X

1. The organization must have the approval and sanction of the Bureau and should be called the FBI Reserve. Former agents of the Bureau, however loyal and devoted they may be, would like to have the feeling of a closer, official tie to the FBI.

2. The Reserve should have positive reasons for being, above and beyond fraternal and social considerations. These reasons, in my opinion, include, among others:

- (A) Constituting a qualified reserve of manpower for the Bureau to call upon as an emergency or other exigencies may require.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

November 11, 1949

- (B) Constituting an effective projection of the Bureau into spheres where, by reason of peculiar circumstances, the Bureau, as such may find it impolitic or unwise to function at any given time.
- (C) Constituting a body of former law enforcement officers, now employed in all walks of life, who are genuinely interested in improving the standing of law enforcement everywhere.
- (D) A mobilization for service.

3. Admission to membership in the Reserve must be by invitation rather than by application. Pride, I believe, is less offended by failure to receive an invitation than by rejection following application.

4. The Reserve must do the "policing" of its own membership.

5. An oath of allegiance to the ideals of the Bureau and the principles of high moral and professional conduct should be a prerequisite to membership.

Mechanics of establishing the organization

Some ten or twelve former agents regarded as qualified to launch such an organization should meet to do some preliminary thinking. This group should then address a letter to you outlining its proposal for an FBI Reserve. Assuming approval by the Bureau, a letter could then be sent by you to the formative committee indicating the Bureau's generally favorable disposition toward the proposal.

Copies of the letter to and from the Bureau could then be sent picked former agents throughout the country asking their reaction toward the formation and their joining such a Reserve. Assuming a favorable response, as I know will be the case, invitations to membership would then be sent by the formative or founding committee. Membership would be perfected upon acceptance of the invitation and execution of the required oath, together with payment of the prescribed dues.

November 11, 1949

After perfecting the organization through select members, subsequent invitations to membership could be sent out over a period of time.

Manifestly, the Bureau's principal concern will lie in the possible resentment that may be created among those former agents who do not receive invitations to join the FBI Reserve. Of course, where any degree of selectivity is exercised there will inevitably be some resentment. I believe, however, that the following factors minimize and virtually eliminate the possibility of actual resentment, save in the case of capricious individuals whose sensibilities suffer without real provocation:

- (1) The invitation to membership is extended by a group of men who sought the Bureau approval of a Reserve, obtained it, and are zealous to preserve its official recognition.
- (2) The Reserve has a positive purpose, contemplating actual, arduous duty if called upon. This consideration alone provides innumerable genuine bases for not extending an invitation; e.g., age, health, availability for extended tour of duty, financial capacity to perform a Reserve function without remuneration, etc. (The age limitation alone would eliminate a great many of the "vinegar vintage").

I believe that the "gamble" taken by the Bureau in founding and following through with the FBI Academy is far greater than would be true of the FBI Reserve. In the case of the Academy, any resentment created through expulsion or disapproval of an application following an investigation is experienced at the grass roots of law enforcement itself where Bureau men daily work. And, yet, I believe everyone agrees that the Academy is worth the gamble and has been an unqualified success.

While the advantages of a Reserve are legion, one sentiment I do feel should be mentioned. To those men who were in the Bureau before the war and who courageously stood by their guns in the Bureau's service all during the war, the FBI is their Army--their Navy--their Marine Corps. They feel and want to feel themselves veterans of the FBI. More than anything else, they want to preserve the comradeship of their Bureau associations. In my opinion, recalling the emotional considerations in the late years of the war, it required far more guts to stick with the Bureau than to take the easy way out, as some did, and join one of the uniformed services. Of course, it is easy for me to say this since I "stuck", but I believe I would feel this way in any event.

I don't mention this with the idea of suggesting that the Bureau owes such men recognition of a Reserve; for we all received far more from the Bureau in fundamental values than any of us ever gave. But I do feel that in sanctioning a Reserve the Bureau will be taking cognizance of a very fine and genuine loyalty.

Furthermore, today we have Reserve Officers organizations in the various services. Just the other day, it was suggested that I apply for a reserve commission. My answer to the suggestion was simply that, in the event of war, I wanted back in the FBI--if the FBI would have me. Many of us feel the same way. Indeed, most of us in our conversations still refer to you as "The Boss."

An FBI Reserve would do much to strengthen and render more meaningful the devotion of every loyal ex-agent. If we try it, and it proves a dud, I've yet to see any organization that cannot be permitted to pass into innocuous desuetude.

With highest esteem and warm personal regards,

Sincerely,

I am attaching hereto a letter dated November 11, 1949 from former Special Agent [redacted] when [redacted] was recently in to see me he discussed generally the desirability of the formation of a group of ex-Agents who could be close to the Bureau and with whom the Bureau would have cordial and friendly relations. He stated that there were quite a number of ex-Agents who shared this view and that the present association of ex-Agents does not meet the situation as many of the ex-Agents would like to have it do. I asked [redacted] to submit this matter in writing to me so that we might have the benefit of his ideas and suggestions. Along the same line I have also asked former Special Agent [redacted] to likewise furnish his views as he had previously made the same suggestion.

I would like to have this matter studied by the Executives Conference. I realize it has been previously considered and I have not acted favorably upon it. I think there is some merit, as well as some disadvantages, and I therefore would like to have it again reconsidered.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

In accordance with your request, I am enclosing a memorandum for your consideration which [redacted] and I have prepared in regard to the proposed FBI Reserve. In the event this general plan meets with your approval, we are confident that it will work out to the best interests of the FBI. We will be glad to be of any assistance possible.

With best wishes and kindest personal regards,

Sincerely, 650

MEMORANDUM:

It is suggested that the organization of former FBI agents be known as the "FBI Reserve". If the organization is to have the backing of the Bureau, it might just as well be known as the "FBI Reserve" and, as such, would command more respect and attract the more desirable type of member. Since an "FBI Reserve" organization should have a closer connection with the Bureau than an ordinary association of former agents, it is recommended that the element of contact with the Bureau be through a "Board of Planning". This "Board of Planning" would preferably be made up of Bureau executive personnel, and it is suggested that it consists of three (3) or more Assistant Directors of the FBI.

This "Board of Planning" would act in an advisory capacity to a "Board of Governors" of the "FBI Reserve". The "Board of Governors" should consist of approximately five (5) members of the "FBI Reserve".

It is suggested that the "Board of Governors" and the "Board of Planning" meet at frequent intervals in Washington for the purpose of conferring on the operations of the organization.

It will be the responsibility of the "Board of Governors" to consider all applications for the "FBI Reserve", to evaluate their eligibility and to reach a decision as to whether the the best interests of the FBI and the "FBI Reserve" would be served by admitting them to membership. It should be noted that the "FBI Reserve" must, by its nature, be more selective in admitting members than an association of former FBI agents. The "Board of Governors" will confer with the "Board of Planning" concerning available information on the eligibility of applicants for membership in the "FBI Reserve". After all information is available, it is the responsibility of the "Board of Governors" to accept or reject the applicant.

The "FBI Reserve's" relationship to the FBI would be somewhat of the same nature as the relationship of the FBI National Police Academy Associates.

Members of the "Board of Governors" could be appointed by the "Planning Board".

The "Board of Governors" will choose a nominating committee to nominate candidates for the offices of President, Vice-President, Treasurer, and Secretary. The membership of the "FBI Reserve" will select these officers by popular vote.

The President could be allowed to attend meetings of the "Board of Governors" in an ex officio capacity. However, the "Board of Governors" will be the policy-making and executive body of the "FBI Reserve" under the guidance of the "Planning Board". The functions of the President and other officers will be to carry out the plans, policies and decisions of the "Board of Governors".

An Executive Secretary with necessary clerical personnel would be employed by the organization in order that an active and progressive organizational program could be pursued. An annual meeting could be held in Washington, D. C. This meeting could be attended by officials of the FBI and members of the "FBI Reserve" could attend special lectures and spend a short time at Quantico.

The local chapters throughout the country could be set up according to field office districts. They could have monthly meetings to be attended by the local Special Agent in Charge of the FBI, and, in addition, there could be suitable social events throughout the year.

Frequent joint meetings, at least quarterly, could be held in Washington between the "Board of Planning" and the "Board of Governors".

The "Board of Governors" should be an active, aggressive, and energetic group so that the national organization will be effective.

Monthly publications, newsletters and miscellaneous literature could be sent out by the organization through the Executive Secretary. The information contained in this literature would be to a great degree obtained from the FBI.

The Rules, Regulations, By-Laws and other organizational details should be worked out by the "Board of Governors" and the "Board of Planning". At first, these two Boards could be represented by two small committees in order to set up the initial organization. For this reason no detailed organizational plan is being set forth at this time.

An active, aggressive organization would be always ready to call to the attention of the membership the various problems confronting the FBI in order that the membership could be of assistance.

In organizing and in administering an organization such as this, a number of problems will arise. With effective guidance by the "Planning Board", the advantages and benefits to the FBI will more than justify any temporary problems.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. TOLSON
MR. NICHOLS

(Society of Former F.B.I. Agents)

Today [redacted] called me from New York and stated that [redacted] Collier's Magazine had been in touch with him and was desirous of having a luncheon with [redacted] and myself when I am next in New York as [redacted] Collier's had in mind to do a personal story on me. I inquired of [redacted] as to the purport of the story in view of my rather unpleasant experience with Collier's in years past. He stated that this was [redacted] and that he had a high regard for the Bureau and therefore the story would be fair and objective. I told [redacted] that I did not expect to be in New York until after the first of the year and I would keep this in mind and try to arrange such a meeting.

[redacted] also stated that he and [redacted] had discussed at some length the possibility of forming some sort of an organization to which ex-Agents might belong and be at least informally associated and in contact with the Bureau. I told him that this matter had received considerable thought in the Bureau and basically I was in favor of the idea but there were a number of obstacles that I could not see how we could get around without doing more harm than good to the Bureau in developing such a program. He stated he and [redacted] would talk the matter over further and arrange to see me after the first of the year.

Very truly yours,

John Edgar Hoover
Director

The Executives Conference consisting of Messrs. Tolson, Glavin Harbo, Mohr, Rosen, Ladd, McGuire, N. H. McCabe, [redacted] Nease, and [redacted] considered the question of the Bureau's position towards an organization of former FBI Agents. The Conference was unanimously of the opinion that we should do something as they felt that much was being lost to the Bureau in not having a relatively close tie with former Agents of the Bureau who are definitely interested in this organization and who want to do everything they reasonably can in behalf of the FBI. Three views were suggested by the Conference.

1. The majority of the Conference, consisting of Messrs. Tolson, Glavin, Mohr, Nease, Ladd, [redacted] McCabe, and [redacted] recommended that those former Agents who have recently contacted the Director concerning the formation of an organization in the nature of an FBI Reserve be advised that they should meet as a group and consider in more detail the methods to accomplish a formation of a new organization and administration of such an organization when formed. This initial group consisting in the nature of a committee would consist of Messrs. [redacted] and possibly a few others who would, of course, be approved by the Bureau. When as a group they have formulated definite plans the Bureau would consider specifically to what extent it could render its cooperation or to what extent their proposals need be changed.

It was felt by some that although this new organization, if approved, would not be set up necessarily in competition with the former Agents society that within a relatively short period of time the former Agents of the Bureau who would join a new organization would consist of practically all of the society, who were acceptable as well as many other Agents who have refrained from joining the society because they recognized that the Bureau did not sanction that organization and there would be more or less an automatic, and possibly formal, dissolution of most of the chapters of the former Agents society.

2. Messrs. Harbo and [redacted] recommended that we suggest to some of the former Agents of the FBI, including both members and non-members of the society, that former Agents of the Bureau should enter into and participate in the functions of the former Agents society. In this manner they would do their own "house cleaning" and that eventually the society of former Agents would consist of former Agents and be headed by former Agents who were acceptable to the Bureau. They were of the opinion well over ninetyfive percent of the members of the former Agents society are basically loyal to the Bureau and that if the society felt that the Bureau was recognizing the organization they would do everything to make the organization acceptable to the Bureau.

3. Mr. Rosen was of the opinion that if the Bureau would communicate directly, maybe on a monthly basis, with former Agents who are acceptable to the Bureau that a great deal of good could be accomplished in this manner. The information to be sent to them would explain, for example, the Bureau's responsibilities in the loyalty program, the Atomic Energy program, and current unwarranted attacks against the Bureau such as that of the National Lawyers Guild. These former Agents with the knowledge of the true facts would be in a position to correct many erroneous impressions existing in the minds of some people concerning the FBI.

It was recognized that there may be some objections to most any plan that can be formulated. It was felt, however, that basically the advantages outweigh the disadvantages.

RECAPITULATION

1. Formation of a new organization - majority view
2. Indirect collaboration and recognition of present society of former Agents - Messrs. Harbo and [redacted]
3. Direct communication with former FBI Agents - Mr. Rosen.

Respectfully,
FOR THE CONFERENCE

The Executives Conference had previously considered the question of the organization of an FBI Reserve on January 30, 1950. The majority of the Conference recommended that Messrs. [redacted] and possibly a few others, be advised that they should meet as a group and consider in more detail the methods to accomplish a formation of a new organization. Subsequent to the consideration on January 30, by the Executives Conference, Messrs. [redacted] submitted a memorandum in regard to the proposed FBI Reserve. The Director felt that this should be studied in view of the recommendation made by the majority of the Executives Conference.

The Executives Conference, consisting of Messrs. Tolson, Glavin, Tracy, Harbo, Mohr, Ladd, Rosen, Nichols, [redacted] reviewed the suggestions in the memorandum of Messrs. [redacted] and unanimously recommended that Messrs. [redacted] be advised that they should meet with a committee representing the Bureau to consider in more detail the possibilities of the formation of such an organization. It was recommended that Messrs. Tracy, Nichols, and [redacted] represent the Bureau in discussing this matter with the former Agents.

On January 30, 1950, at the Executives Conference, Mr. Rosen was of the opinion that the Bureau should communicate directly, maybe on a monthly basis, with former Agents who are acceptable to the Bureau. The information to be sent to them would explain to them, for example, the Bureau's various responsibilities and current unwarranted attacks against the Bureau. The Director noted that Mr. Rosen's idea might be implemented by adding such names to our mailing list. He also suggested that maybe a special list might be prepared to send material that we do not send to those on the regular mailing list. At the present time all Agents whose resignations were accepted under favorable conditions and who are in good standing with the Bureau are placed on the mailing list. This procedure was instituted approximately three years ago.

It was the unanimous recommendation of the Executives Conference that this particular suggestion be held in abeyance until a final determination has been made concerning the formation of a new organization if it is finally determined that a new organization should be established. The Bureau might then want to make a special mailing list for members of this organization.

Respectfully,
FOR THE CONFERENCE

Former FBI Agents Assail Guild Charges

Former agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation yesterday defended their old outfit against what was termed a campaign of harassment and "outright lies."

Charles O. Blaisdell, national president of the Society of Former Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Inc., told President Truman in a telegram that the purpose of the campaign was to "undermine" the FBI.

Blaisdell singled out one of the critics of the FBI—the National Lawyers Guild, Inc.—and said that "many responsible persons" had charged it with being "a Communist front organization." The guild recently asked the President to order an investigation of the FBI.

1600 Men in Society

Blaisdell gave reporters copies of his telegram to Mr. Truman at a press conference in the office of Downey Rice, a Washington attorney, who is vice president of the society of former G-men. He said the society was made up of 1600 erstwhile FBI agents. About 40 percent of them, he said, are now practicing law in all parts of the country.

"It is of special interest," the telegram said, "that most of these recent attacks have centered around investigations by the FBI in loyalty and espionage cases. There is no doubt that many of the critics of the FBI, often unfortunately misinformed, are motivated by a sincere desire to render a public service. However, there are those who for reasons which do not include a patriotic devotion to American principles, desire to reduce the effectiveness of the FBI in security investigations."

The telegram denied the charge by the Lawyers Guild and others that the FBI had engaged in unauthorized use of wire taps.

Policy Approved by FDR

"The Attorney General," it continued, "has . . . stated that the FBI uses wire taps in national defense and kidnaping cases and then only upon his authorization. This policy was approved by the late President Roosevelt in 1941, and has been followed consistently by the Attorneys General since that time . . . If the FBI fails to avail itself of this method of obtaining information in either national defense or kidnaping cases, it would be derelict in its public duty."

While talking to former Agent [redacted] on another matter, he brought up his association with the Former Agents Society, of which organization [redacted]. Generally, he stated that the organization is now in the hands of an aggressive bunch of young men, most of whom had comparatively recently resigned from the Bureau; that they were honestly endeavoring to do a good job and are hopeful of assisting the Bureau in every way possible. He pretty definitely indicated that they are hopeful of eventually working more closely with the Bureau and receiving the Bureau's approval of their activities. He stated that he realized there had been at one time a great number of this Society belonging to the "I hate the Bureau" group but that they were endeavoring to get rid of these individuals and he stated that he also realized that there would probably always be some few in the organization which the Bureau would not approve of. He emphasized that they are certainly in the minority and not a controlling factor.

I made no comment to him along this line but did state I had noticed in ^{their} recent publication a picture had appeared of some kind of a testimonial dinner being given to former Agent Leon Turrou and I jacked [redacted] up about this since I know him quite well. He was extremely embarrassed, stating he could not understand how such a picture could have been published nor why anyone would want to attend such a dinner, and he stated that was the sort of thing that those in charge of the Society are trying to prevent and to get rid of.

They need have no expectation of getting closer relations with Bureau as long as they honor Turrou. Certainly we cannot afford to give any blessing to an outfit which promotes any agent dismissed with prejudice. N.

Dear Member:

At a recent meeting, the Executive Committee of the Society, by unanimous vote, passed a resolution declaring it to be the policy of the Society to enroll as members all qualified former Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

While the Membership Committee is charged with the administration of matters in connection with applications for membership, this committee alone is not, of course, in a position to know the identity of all those ex-agents eligible for membership. We believe that there are many former agents qualified for membership who have not applied solely because they do not know the procedure for applying and that if these men were contacted by a Society member they would apply for membership at once.

It is incumbent upon every member of the Society to do his share in going forward with this program. If each of us puts forth a little extra effort the Society will be immeasurably strengthened and we will all benefit.

To facilitate your task we are enclosing a blank application form which we trust you will have returned to us in the very near future by a qualified applicant for membership. We shall be very happy to send you additional application forms if you can use them.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE and AMERICAN LAWYERS GUILD

The October issue of Harpers for the year 1949 contained an article "Due Notice to the FBI" by Bernard DeVoto and all members are acquainted with recent newspaper dispatches relating that the American Lawyers Guild were attempting to obtain a citizens investigation of the Bureau. There is printed hereinafter communications which will bring members up to date on what the Society has been doing with respect to these two situations.

"Dear Mr. Blaisdell:

I am sending this communication as Chairman of the Washington Chapter with the approval of the executive committee of this chapter. It has recently come to our attention that Harper's Magazine has published what appears to us to be an entirely unwarranted and unjustified attack against the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The following is a brief resume of the controversy. The October issue of Harper's contained an article by Bernard DeVoto entitled "Due Notice to the FBI." This article severely criticized the Bureau for prying into the private lives and the thoughts of citizens in the conduct of its investigative function. Mr. DeVoto referred to Bureau agents as "college trained flatfeet," and states that the Bureau has been collecting and disseminating "a hash of gossip, rumor, slander, backbiting, malice, and drunken invention," etc. He concludes his article by stating that he will never again furnish any information of any type to the FBI and suggests that other citizens follow the same course of action. In the same October issue in the "Personal and Otherwise" column of the magazine it is stated that they agree with DeVoto's position and express the hope that everyone will follow DeVoto's advice and refuse to furnish information to the FBI.

Some ten days ago Director John Edgar Hoover issued a national press release in reply to this attack in Harper's Magazine. In the December issue of Harper's it is stated that the editorial policy of the magazine does not require it to agree with DeVoto or the editor of the "Personal and Otherwise" column, but it publishes a rebuttal letter by DeVoto which again criticizes the FBI.

We feel that these attacks on the Bureau are a mass of half-truths and misinformation which might well have a very harmful effect upon the future effectiveness of the Bureau as a law enforcement agency. We also feel that these articles constitute a vicious slur upon the men now in the FBI and are a reflection upon those of us who have served in the past.

It is, therefore, respectfully suggested that you review these articles and prepare an appropriate reply from the Society to Harper's, with the request that our reply be printed in the magazine or as an alternative that a press release in answer to this criticism be prepared by the Society and released through the wire services. This chapter does not believe that the Society should stand idly by and allow this type of attack to go unanswered. We feel strongly that such unfair criticism is detrimental to us and to the Bureau.

As former special agents we are familiar with the investigative methods of the FBI and are fully cognizant of the fact that the Bureau has gone to great lengths to conduct fair, impartial and thorough investigations in every type of case. We believe that as a completely independent organization of over sixteen hundred former agents our views will be given more than passing consideration by the public which has been misinformed by the distorted views of Mr. DeVoto.

Several of our members have considered communicating with Harper's in their personal capacity, but we feel that a critical reply by the national organization would be much more effective. We also believe that time is of the essence if a reply is to be made to these charges. For that reason we request that you advise us promptly as to the decision of yourself and the executive committee in this matter. The reason for this latter request is that if the national officers do not desire to reply, some of the members here intend, as I stated above, to make personal replies.

Sincerely,

(sgd) FRANCIS D. FLANAGAN,
Chairman, Washington Chapter"

According to Associated Press dispatches J. Edgar Hoover accused the Harper's magazine and DeVoto of publishing "half-truths, inaccuracies, distortions and misstatements" about the Bureau and quoted Mr. Hoover in his letter as follows: "I do not care to dignify Mr. DeVoto's compilation of half-truths, inaccuracies, distortions, and misstatements with a denial or an explanation. The editorial injunction of Harper's in urging Mr. DeVoto's readers to refuse 'in the future to answer the FBI's questions except in open court, under oath and before witnesses is amazing.' Would the editors of Harper's advocate that a citizen refuse to testify before the secret proceedings of a grand jury? If a citizen had knowledge of the whereabouts of a fugitive, would the editor urge him to refuse to advise the investigators? Would the editors deprive an applicant for a Government position who listed their name as a reference to their indorsement? Does the editorial admonition mean that Harper's advocates protecting a foreign agent against the security of the United States by not advising an investigator of this information. If the advocacy of such a course of action is to be taken seriously, that is exactly what Harper's does."

Note: In the column "Personal & Otherwise" of Harper's it invited readers to line up with DeVoto and refuse "to answer the FBI's questions except in open court, under oath and before witnesses." In a subsequent issue of the magazine it stated it's editorial policy did not require it to agree with DeVoto or the column editor however it did allow DeVoto a rebuttal letter.

President Blaisdell in behalf of the Society wrote Harper's Magazine the following letter:
"Editor Harper's Magazine:

Your attention is called to the article "Due Notice to the FBI," and your "Personal and Otherwise" column appearing in the October 1949, issue of Harper's magazine. Reference is also made to the letter of protest from J. Edgar Hoover and the rebuttal letter of Bernard DeVoto appearing in the December issue of Harper's.

The Society of Former Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation is a nationwide, non-political association of 1597 former agents of the FBI. Many important executives and administrators in American business and government service and numerous outstanding attorneys and accountants throughout the nation are members. The one great tie that binds these men of diverse business activities together is their common association with and loyalty to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

An esprit de corps was developed in the F.B.I. based upon the great mutual respect of one agent for the other and the realization that this governmental agency stood for outstanding personal conduct, and the fair, impartial and thorough investigation of all matters within its investigative jurisdiction. Without these and untold other prerequisites, a voluntary association of former agents would never have resulted.

We do not question the right of all periodicals to print freely any article submitted for publication. However, for an American magazine with the circularization of Harper's to publish such vicious and slanderous attacks on the Federal Bureau of Investigation and its personnel is without precedent. Have you so quickly forgotten that during the greatest war in history not one major act of sabotage was committed in the United States? Are you completely unaware of the civilian security measures and crime prevention methods that must be effected in these turbulent post war days? To whom, Mr. Editor, would you first turn for immediate assistance if your very own child was kidnapped and held as a hostage? Certainly, you must realize how the task of the F.B.I. would be increased if patriotic and courageous citizens give any cognizance to the scurulous suggestions of a literary malcontent.

We who have resigned from the F.B.I. and returned to civilian life take marked exception to these completely unwarranted thrusts. Such releases are uncalled for and your selection of insidious literary sabotage must be roundly condemned.

In the December issue of Harper's you maintain that your editorial policy does not necessarily agree with the views expressed by the author of "Due Notice to the FBI" or the comments of the editor of your "Personal and Otherwise" column. Yet you quickly permitted one of these obstructionists in letter form to repeat his attacks in the December issue. Perhaps you will print this letter in your periodical with the same degree of promptness accorded these antagonists of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Very truly yours,

(Sgd.) CHARLES O. BLAISDELL,

President, Society of Former Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Inc."

Under date of December 21, 1949 the following reply was received by the Society from the editorial offices of Harper's Magazine, New York, N. Y.

"Dear Mr. Blaisdell:

Thank you very much for your letter about the article "Due Notice to the FBI" and the letters which we printed and the Personal & Otherwise column in the December issue. Among the various points of view which have been expressed on this subject, yours has certainly very great importance. Since your letter comes rather late, we can't promise to publish it in the immediate future. Our January issue is already in print and February is now going to press. But we will turn over your letter to the Editor of the "Letters" column for inclusion at a later date if possible.

Sincerely,

(sgd) CATHARINE MEYER"

Mr. Hoover's letter of December 22, 1949 addressed to the President will be of interest to the members of the Society.

"Dear Mr. Blaisdell:

Your letter dated December 19, 1949 has been received and I appreciate very much your thoughtfulness in furnishing me a copy of your letter bearing the same date addressed to the Editor of Harper's Magazine.

It was most gratifying to note the expressions of support and confidence in this Bureau which you conveyed on behalf of the fellow members of your Society and I am grateful for your highly commendatory references to the manner in which the FBI is discharging its responsibilities.

I hope that the work of the Federal Bureau of Investigation will always be deserving of your complete approval.

Sincerely yours,

(sgd) J. EDGAR HOOVER."

On January 25, 1950 the National office of the Society in conjunction with the Washington Chapter, sent the following telegram to President Truman.

"President Harry S. Truman

White House

Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. President:

We have noted with alarm increased criticism in the public press of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. In the very recent past the National Lawyers Guild, which many responsible persons have stated is a Communist front organization, has requested you to order an investigation of that Bureau. We respectfully address this communication to you as a completely independent organization of over sixteen hundred men who formerly served as Special Agents of the FBI.

Our membership includes men in all walks of life. A substantial percentage of our members are active attorneys and we believe that our views might be of some interest to you.

As average Americans we have a genuine interest in the preservation of civil rights and as former law enforcement officers we have a keen appreciation of the constant need of protecting those sacred rights of our fellow Americans. However, we feel that our government also has the duty of protecting the security of our country. We believe that our government has the duty to use every moral and proper means authorized by proper authority to combat espionage, treason, and other traitorous subversive activities which imperil the present or future security of this nation. It is of special interest to note that most of these recent attacks have centered around investigations by the FBI, in loyalty and espionage cases. There is no doubt that many of the critics of the FBI, often unfortunately misinformed, are motivated by a sincere desire to render a public service. However, there are those who for reasons which do not include a patriotic devotion to American principles, desire to reduce the present effectiveness of the FBI in security investigations.

In recent weeks the FBI has been criticized for the use of wire taps in the conduct of espionage investigations. Many of these critics have left the erroneous impression with the general public that the FBI has been engaged in the unauthorized use of wire taps. That is not a fact. The Attorney General of the United States has very recently stated that the FBI uses wire taps in national defense and kidnapping cases and then only upon his authorization. This policy was approved by the late President Roosevelt in 1941, and has been followed consistently by the Attorneys General since that time. Under these circumstances, when the situation warranted, if the FBI failed to avail itself of this method of obtaining information in either national defense or kidnapping cases, it would be derelict in its public duty. The Joint Congressional Committee on the Investigation of the Pearl Harbor Attack, in its report to the Congress, after pointing out that Japanese diplomatic establishments on our mainland and Hawaii, had uncensored channels of communication with Tokyo up to the time of the attacks on Pearl Harbor, stated: "The situation should never again be permitted whereby the efforts of our government to combat forces inimical to our national security are hamstrung by restrictions of our own imposition which aid the enemy."

We heartily subscribe to these views of that committee.

We feel that recent criticism of the FBI's wire tapping activities has led to an entirely distorted conception in some quarters as to the extent of the wire tapping done by that agency. Many persons have been led to believe that the FBI has engaged in indiscriminate wire tapping to the detriment of many innocent persons. That also is not a fact. As Mr. J. Edgar Hoover recently stated publicly, the FBI had less than 170 telephone taps in operation and all of these were used in internal security investigations. When it is considered that the FBI has thousands of cases under investigation at all times that small number of wire taps is indicative of the fact that wire tapping has not been used indiscriminately by that agency.

Today the FBI stands as a symbol of integrity and efficiency in law enforcement. Interstate gangsterism and many types of vicious crimes, including kidnapping and bank robbery, have been sharply reduced as a result of the work of that agency. Through the police-training program of the FBI, police organizations at the state and local level have made unprecedented advances during the past two decades. The war record of the FBI is an excellent one. Not a single act of foreign inspired sabotage was committed in the United States during the last war, and many espionage agents and others intent upon wrecking our security were uncovered and brought to justice.

We deem it most regrettable that unwarranted attacks are being made on one of the most efficient agencies of our government. It is not improper to suggest that current criticism is emanating from the same individuals and groups who over many years have sought to undermine the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Such criticism only indicates a complete lack of concern for the fundamental security of this nation. We believe there never has been a time in the history of this Republic that greater vigilance is required to insure the internal security of America. Internationally we are engaged in a titanic struggle with great totalitarian forces of aggression, and national chaos would result should we be called upon to meet this challenge with an impotent FBI and a public disunited by the influences of subversive propaganda, sabotage, and espionage.

To those of us who have lived and worked in the FBI, charges of the character being impressed upon you are not merely unwarranted—they are outright lies. There is today no public servant more vitally concerned in preserving our fundamental civil rights than the Director of the FBI. Our members are proud of their past service with the FBI. We are proud of the fact that we were able to take some part in the relentless fight made against domestic lawlessness, and subversive activities. We are proud that we dispatched our duties without resorting to illegal tactics. And we are proud of the genuine confidence which the great bulk of the American people reposes in the FBI.

It is for these reasons that we are constrained to write you in this instance, as well as by reason of the further consideration that the FBI, occupying the position that it does in our governmental structure, is unable to defend itself from the unwarranted and malicious attacks to which it has been repeatedly subjected. It is our sincere conviction that you will not be swayed by the attacks of those whose primary purpose it is to discredit and harass the FBI, nor will you be influenced by the criticism of sincere but misinformed individuals and groups.

Respectfully yours,

(Sgd) CHARLES O. BLAISDELL, President,
Society of Former Special Agents of the FBI, Inc.
70 Pine Street, New York 5, N. Y."

Of interest to members will be the following responses to above telegram.

"Mr. Charles O. Blaisdell
President

Society of Former Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Inc.

70 Pine Street
New York 5, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Blaisdell:

Your letter of January 25, 1950, was delivered to me by Mr. Al Muzzey together with a copy of your release concerning the telegram which was directed to the President of the United States by the Society of Former Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Inc.

It is most encouraging to know that the officers and members of the Society approve of the manner in which the Bureau is discharging its responsibilities in matters affecting the internal security of our country.

You have my sincere thanks for the spirit of cooperation and support which has been manifested by your organization, and I hope that the work of the FBI will always be deserving of your complete approval.

Sincerely yours,

(Sgd) J. EDGAR HOOVER."

"Charles O. Blaisdell, President
Society of Former Special Agents of the FBI, Inc.
70 Pine Street—New York, N. Y.

Re Urtel to the President expressing concern over unjustified criticism of Federal Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice. Rest assured that complete government and public confidence in the Federal Bureau of Investigation will not be weakened in the slightest by unwarranted and malicious attacks. You may also rest assured that the government will not be swayed adversely to the interest of either the National Security or the Federal Bureau of Investigation by the attacks of those whose primary purpose is to weaken our security and discredit the FBI, nor by the criticism of sincere but misinformed individuals and groups. The interest and views of the Society of Former Special Agents of the FBI in this matter are sincerely appreciated.

(Sgd.) PEYTON FORD,

The Asst. to the Atty Genl."

Editor's note: In addition to the above Mr. Blaisdell informed us on February 14th that he held press conferences in Washington, D. C., at which time releases were made pertaining to the Society's communications relative to the National Lawyer's Guild. Mr. Blaisdell also has appeared on the radio twice in respect to the same subject.

On page A 1163 of the Congressional Record for Thursday, February 16, is set forth our wire to the President and Peyton Ford's reply.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE November, 1949

The following members of the Executive Committee were present: Messrs. Edward E. Conroy, Morse J. Conroy, John Vincent, Eugene Ward and Charles O. Blaisdell.

Chairman Blaisdell advised that the first order of business would be the selection of the various national committees and that in conjunction with such selection serious consideration should be given to the personnel placed on the committees, inasmuch as their function was of extreme importance to the organization as a whole.

The following Committees and personnel were named: The Nominating Committee: William F. Seery, New York; Gilbert H. Meyer, New York; Nicholas Alaga, San Francisco; Albert H. Johnson, Chicago; William James Rooney, New York, and Peter J. Nolan, Wilmington (alternate).

The Chapter Committee: Alfred B. Berry, New York; Gerald B. Tracy, New York; and Wayne Merrick, New York.

Mr. Berry was designated as Chairman of the Committee and directed to set up a special committee consisting of one representative from each Chapter.

The Publications Committee: Robert W. Dick, New Jersey, Chairman; Dwight H. Scott, New York; Harvey E. Rath, New Jersey; Ben Willis, New York; and Wesley E. Carter, New York; that such Committee select a member from each Chapter to serve as a member of the Committee.

The Public Relations Committee: Jack Keenan, New York, Chairman; Ralph D. Brown, New York and George P. Maginness, New York.

The Membership Committee: Howard V. Ross, New York, Chairman; A. Ernest Larsen, New York; William J. Losty, New York; Joseph D. Beach, New Orleans; Harry C. Deckert, St. Louis; and Vincent W. Gillen, New York (alternate).

The Placement Committee: John F. Elich, New York, Chairman; Joseph Horn, Peoria, Ill.; Harold C. Breuel, New York; and the said Committee would select or have each Chapter select a representative to serve on such Committee.

The Entertainment Committee: William D. Dunne, New York, Chairman; William B. Moran, New York.

Thereafter the Chairman read a letter from Mr. Sharp of the Washington Chapter concerning publication in the Grapevine of a letter sent to the Executive Committee last spring by the Executive Committee in the Washington Chapter. Following a general discussion among all members present, it was decided that Mr. Sharp's letter would be answered by a letter from Mr. Blaisdell, pointing out that the Executive Committee would be willing to print a short statement in the Grapevine but that there should be eliminated therefrom any specific reference to a particular project. It was also decided that the Executive Committee would have the right to change or rewrite a portion of such statement if they deemed it desirable to do so. Mr. Blaisdell advised that he would be present in Washington at the next Chapter meeting and would discuss with the members present the problem presented by such meeting and would discuss with the members present the problem presented by such letter.

Mr. Blaisdell then advised that the possibility of a Life Membership had been raised at a previous meeting of the Executive Committee and that such suggestion had originated in the field. Mr. Morse Conroy submitted a written report setting forth in brief detail the fact that actuarially this would not be sound from the standpoint of the Society. After discussion, and upon motion duly made and seconded by Messrs. Edward Conroy and John Vincent respectively, it was unanimously

RESOLVED that the report of Mr. Morse Conroy be accepted and made part of these minutes and that the matter of Life Membership be tabled; and it was FURTHER RESOLVED that a brief statement be put in the Grapevine setting forth the reasons why such suggestion had been tabled.

Mr. Blaisdell then read to the Committee a letter from Leslie E. Murphy of Kansas City suggesting that the organization print a lawyers register to be circulated among all members of the organization. Upon motion duly made and seconded it was RESOLVED that Mr. Murphy be advised that it was the attitude of the Executive Committee that if the national organization were to print a lawyers register, it would open the door for other requests to print similar registers for members of other industries represented among the membership.

Following the foregoing, a general discussion was had concerning the advisability of having the President or some other officer attend Chapter meetings throughout the country with the payment of traveling expenses being made by the national organization.

The Executive Committee has been considering very seriously the allocation of an expense allowance not to exceed $1000 annually for use by the President to afford him an opportunity to visit Chapters of the Society at places other than New York City; the expenses to be restricted to such travel and expenses thereto. The matter came up at the Annual Meeting and the Executive Committee in accordance with the discussion would appreciate having this matter brought up at the various Chapter meetings.

The question was brought up at the annual meeting that deceased members appear in the directory. The Executive Committee moved that all deceased members of the Society be listed immediately following the alphabetical listing. The listing to carry the name of the deceased, the dates of his service in the Bureau and the date of his death if known.

Motion by Morse J. Conroy, seconded by John W. Vincent that the books of account of the Society be audited as of December 1, 1949. The audit to be conducted by Art Crowl, the cost of such audit not to exceed $100. Mr. Crowl is also requested to report to the Executive Committee at its January meeting as to the proper suggested allocation and investment of Society funds.

January, 1950

The following members of the Committee were present: Messrs. E. E. Conroy, Morse J. Conroy, Henry Dolan, Gene Ward and Charles O. Blaisdell.

Mr. William Dunne, Chairman of the Entertainment Committee, gave a lengthy report concerning the survey he had made of the various places in the City of New York where the Society might hold its meetings. Following a general discussion among all members of the Committee present as to the pros and cons of the advisability of the best places to have the various meetings, the day of the week on which to hold them, and the substitution of a dinner dance for one of the quarterly meetings, it was, upon motion made by Mr. Ward and seconded by Mr. Dolan, unanimously

RESOLVED that the first quarterly meeting for 1950 be held on Thursday evening, February 16, at the Hotel Martinique, Broadway and 32 Street, New York City; and it was

FURTHER RESOLVED that the second quarterly meeting be held in the nature of a dinner dance on Saturday, May 13, at the Hotel Shelbourne, Lexington Avenue and 37 Street, New York City; and it was

FURTHER RESOLVED that the third quarterly meeting be held on Wednesday, September 20, at a place to be designated at a future date; and it was FURTHER RESOLVED that the annual meeting be held on Friday, November 17, at a place to be selected later.

Following the foregoing, Mr. Howard Ross, Chairman of the Membership Committee, reported on the number of pending applications for membership and requested the Committee to advise whether they wanted a concerted drive for new members or whether they desired to follow the usual course practiced in the past. Following a discussion it was RESOLVED that it shall be the purpose of the Society to secure the membership of as many ex-agents as possible through normal means, but without concerted drives and without lowering any of the standards set for membership.

Following the foregoing, Mr. Arthur Crowl presented to the Executive Committee a detailed auditor's report relating to the finances of the organization for the period ending November 30, 1949. Such report contained a full summary of the assets and liabilities of the organization, together with certain suggestions which Mr. Crowl deemed it advisable for the organization to put into practice. The Chairman advised that, in view of the length of such report, he felt final approval should be tabled until the next meeting of the Executive Committee in order to allow the members present adequate time to study the same. At the same time, the Chairman advised that Mr. Crowl had presented a bill for $100 for the work performed by him. The Chairman thought this sum was reasonable indeed and Mr. Blaisdell recommended to the Executive Committee that it authorize payment of such bill.

Mr. Blaisdell then gave an oral report concerning the annual meeting of the Washington Chapter, with other recent information. Subsequently, the Chairman read a letter from Mr. Francis D. Flanagan, Chairman of the Washington Chapter, wherein he enclosed an open letter to members of the Society setting forth the views of his Chapter concerning an organized program for the organization. In the letter of transmittal, Mr. Flanagan asked that the open letter be printed in the next issue of the "Grapevine." Upon motion made by Mr. E. E. Conroy and seconded by Mr. Ward, it was unanimously RESOLVED that the Editor of the "Grapevine" is hereby directed to print in the next issue of such publication the open letter from the Washington Chapter to members of the organization.

Open Letter To Members of the Society

December 22, 1949

Dear Fellow Members:

For some time there has been considerable discussion in the Washington Chapter concerning the advisability of expanding the purposes of the Society. This letter written at the direction of our local executive committee is addressed to all members of the Society to present this problem for their comments and suggestions.

Many of our members feel that the Society has now attained sufficient status nationwide to become a useful instrument for civic good. While preserving our present social and mutual aid purposes it is felt that these basic objectives can be strengthened by having the national organization and the local chapters or both espouse some worthwhile civic undertakings.

Several proposed courses of action including the following, have been suggested. A plaque or some other honorarium to be periodically awarded to those making outstanding contributions in the field of law enforcement; the raising of funds or other assistance for boys clubs or similar organizations which assist in combating juvenile delinquency; the establishment of a scholarship fund for the deserving children of deceased Society members; and the establishment of a fund for handling the school expenses of qualified and deserving police officers at the National Police Academy. Others also feel that the Society should issue public releases or otherwise publicize its position on such matters as unjustified public attacks against the Bureau, the activities of Communist groups, or other matters of interest to the Society.

It is the understanding of the Chapter that from time to time consideration has been given to expanding the purposes of the Society. However, we believe that this issue deserves further consideration by all our members and we therefore suggest that other members and chapters submit their views on this subject to the Grapevine or to the national headquarters, or both. It is felt that this is one way for the entire membership and our national officers to determine the wishes of the majority in this matter.

Very truly yours,

(sgd) FRANCIS D. FLANAGAN, Chairman,
Washington Chapter.

A Wonderful Thirteen Year Plan

Felix O. Cox our Southern correspondent under the date of February 8th advised he visited with Bill Rorer at Albany, Georgia and found Bill looking very fit. About two months ago Bill became the father of a boy, the first child we understand. In fact our correspondent reports the first in thirteen years and says Bill says he is going to have one every thirteen years. Felix being the father of fourteen children himself is worried that Bill is going to catch up with him on such a plan. Typical of all our correspondents he never bothers to get and give details such as name, birth date, and weight, which are always of interest to close friends.

Another Plan

Mr. & Mrs. Melvin H. Purvis announced the arrival of a son Christopher Perronneau Purvis on February 2, 1950.

Dinner Dance in May

At the February 1950 meeting of the Society it was announced there would be held a dinner dance at the Hotel Governor Clinton on May 13th, at a cost of $5.00 per person or $10.00 per couple. It is informal. We understand the Society must guarantee attendance of at least 200. It would therefore be a nice gesture if you could indicate to Bill Dunne if you are presently planning to be present.

Presidential Travel

At the annual meeting in November 1949 and the Executive Committee meeting of November 29, 1949, there was a discussion relative to the Society paying the expenses of the Society president to visit some of the more distant chapters. The subject is set out more fully in the minutes of the Executive Committee meeting and you may wish to refer thereto herein and express your views to the Secretary. Any member wishing to express himself pro or con on the subject will be provided space in the Grapevine if they desire to reach the general membership on what they think of the proposal.

Joe Sheeketski former Agent and at present Athletic Director and Football Coach, University of Nevada, hit the sport pages recently in a big way.

A former Notre Dame star backfield man, he is reported to have said that colleges cannot play top-flight college football teams with pennies. Joe admits the fellows don't play football for fun of playing. A good living, full tuition, railroad fare plus spending money of $50 a month is a sure way of getting a good football player to play for some other college or University. Joe would also like to see the "profs" give the players a little credit on their examination papers for the ability and intelligence displayed on the football field. He leaves a definite impression of the latter upon commenting on loss of his number one quarterback. It seems he was thrown out of the game when a professor or two found he had fouled an examination. Probably unnecessary roughing the questions or offside on an answer. Joe also spoke on competition of other schools and meeting same.

Suggestion for free Joe: How about establishing a U. S. Department of Football. The government can then set minimum price levels and subsidize all players. The Government has taken over almost everything else under such plans so why not football? With all the revenue pouring in each week end from September to January first each year, the government wouldn't need any income tax and you coaches would have more take home pay.

Testimonial Dinner for James McInerney

On April 25, 1950 there will be a testimonial dinner at the Mayflower Hotel, Washington, D. C., for James McInerney former agent and presently Assistant Attorney General in charge of the Criminal Division, U. S. Department of Justice. The dinner is sponsored by the Alumni of Fordham University and they recognizing the interest of former agents asked the Washington Chapter of the Society to participate with them in the sponsoring of the dinner. There are as many tickets available to the Society members as to the Alumni. The Society is presently anticipating representation for a hundred or more members. Inquiries for reservations should be made of Francis D. Flanagan, Chairman of the Washington Chapter, 3630 Whitehaven Parkway, N.W., Washington, D. C. or Carmine S. Bellino, 917-15th St., N.W., Washington, D. C.

SOCIETY FUNDS

BOB DICK

We understand there is approximately $17,000.00 in funds held by the Society. Usually when there has been an announcement of the financial condition of the Society there has been numerous inquiries from members raising the question about what we are going to do with all the money. Ever since, we have had anything to do with the publication of the Grapevine, we have from time to time advocated many things for the benefit of the Society, many of which the newer members of the Society are probably not familiar with. In keeping with the past we would like to make some comments about the funds on hand.

To review a little of the past, as editor of the Grapevine, I continually advocated increasing the membership, and personally inserted application blanks with Grapevines at time of mailing. I advocated formation of more and better chapters at a time when there were only five or six chapters in the Society. Advocated the increase in dues after they had been reduced for a short time. Another time, I wrote in the Grapevine something to the effect that it required capital to shine shoes in the park, and that we should build a reserve fund through the years for the Society.

If the group life insurance plan is voted by the membership we will have need for our present funds because I understand the Society will be required to pay the premium and in turn secure it's reimbursement from the members.

We suggest that consideration should be given to using the funds we now have on hand for purchasing a piece of property in New York for the National Headquarters, where we could establish our offices. Too long has the Society depended on Scully, Merrick, Frankel and Seery to provide office space for the Society. We believe that day has passed when we should accept free accommodations. We have sufficient funds to buy a piece of property which would house our files, paid secretary, and in addition provide a place where visiting members could stay when in New York. We believe that it could be worked out where it would carry itself in addition to providing a supplement to our treasury. Many other organizations no larger than our own have been able to do as much. Later we could have another place on the west coast, middle west and in the South.

It is our contention the Society has unlimited possibilities and we still say the dues are inadequate and there is no other organization as worth while that one can belong to for so little as five dollars per annum and get so much, as from the Society of Former Special Agents of the FBI, Inc. An associate membership in the International Association of Chiefs of Police costs ten dollars per annum. Think it over!

Francis D. Flannagan, former Special Agent and presently local President of the Society of Former Special Agents, called the writer this morning to advise that the telegram sent by the Society of Former Special Agents to President Truman defending the Bureau of charges made by [Redacted] and others, has been sent by the President to the Department of Justice. The Department has been instructed, according to Flannagan, to prepare an answer to the Society of Former Special Agents, which will go out over the President's signature.

Inasmuch as this letter is being prepared at this time it is felt that the Bureau should be advised.

Flannagan further advised that if the forthcoming answer is favorable the Society of Former Special Agents plan to publish the President's answer in the major newspapers throughout the country. He indicated he would discuss this matter with someone in the Bureau for the Bureau's O. K. before such a release was made.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. TOLSON

On March 21 Mr. Charles O. Blaisdell, former Special Agent of the Bureau, called to see me. Mr. Blaisdell is now practicing law in New York City and is President of the Ex-Agents Association. Mr. Blaisdell stated that he was hopeful that at least during his administration of the Ex-Agents Association and in years to come that that organization might become closer to the Bureau. He stated he realized that some years back there were elements in the Association who were not particularly friendly to the present Bureau administration but he believed these elements were now in the minority and the great majority of the Ex-Agents Association members were pre-FBI. He said, of course, he realized the Association would have to prove itself before the Bureau could even informally indicate its friendliness toward the Association.

I told Mr. Blaisdell that I of course realized there were some very excellent men in the Ex-Agents Association who were particularly friendly to the present administration of the Bureau, but there likewise were elements present in the Association, probably in the minority, who had a hostile attitude toward my administration. I told Mr. Blaisdell I was particularly surprised to note that in the current issue of The Grapevine there appeared a photograph of a group of Ex-Agents attending a luncheon for former Agent Turrou who had been dismissed from the Bureau with prejudice some years ago. I told Mr. Blaisdell I was cognizant of the fact that the heading of the photograph did not indicate the luncheon had been extended formally by the Ex-Agents Association but nevertheless it was a fact that the photograph appeared in the official organ of the Association and naturally I thought it was very bad judgment, if that Association even had any expectation of becoming closer to the Bureau, to carry photographs of a testimonial luncheon given for an Ex-Agent who had been dismissed with prejudice. Mr. Blaisdell stated that was an entirely unwarranted action, and that the photograph should never have been carried and he believes no such incident would ever recur in the future.

He stated that they were endeavoring not to take into membership any Agent whose record was not clear in the Bureau, but that they had no way or means of ascertaining what the record of an Ex-Agent was. I told him that of course this Bureau, at least at this time, was in no position to advise the Ex-Agents Association of how men left the service. I pointed out that dismissal with prejudice occurred in some cases but in other cases resignations were accepted even though the employee would not again be reemployed in the Bureau. He stated he realized this and it was this problem that was giving him some concern. Mr. Blaisdell's attitude was excellent and I believe he has a very sincere desire to administer the Ex-Agents Association, as long as he is President, in a manner that would be satisfactory to the Bureau, but of course I do not know what the future may hold when his term of office expires.

Very truly yours,

MEMORANDUM TO THE DIRECTOR

Re: Charles O. Blaisdell
Former Special Agent

X Society Former FBI Agents

The above former Special Agent dropped by my office this morning to say hello and stated that he is in town rather frequently in connection with his law practice and that he will particularly be in town on March 21 and would like very much to come in and say hello to you or take you to lunch if you find it convenient. He would appreciate us dropping him a note and letting him know whether or not it will be possible for him to see you on the 21st. He indicated he had nothing particular on his mind other than he would like to tell you briefly of the spontaneous reaction on the part of the various former Special Agents in connection with the recent smear campaign against the Bureau which resulted in the Former Special Agents Society sending a letter to the President, with which you are familiar, and later appearing briefly on the radio concerning the letter.

Blaisdell is president of the Former Agents Society. He indicated that he and others in the Society at this time are making a strong effort and devoting considerable of their time to developing this organization into a body that can accomplish something along the lines of the letter to the President. He stated that some of the older members who had been there since the inception of the Society have a feeling that it should be strictly social but that they are in the minority. The new men, who have left the Bureau in recent years, are strongly of the opinion that they should have a definite program and attempt to accomplish something. He remarked that those who talked the loudest in the organization about what the Society should do do the least work and he and others who have a sincere interest in it are attempting to really develop it into an outstanding organization and make something of it. He did not say so but inferred that they were interested in getting rid of the loud talkers and the drones. He stated that this matter is to be discussed at the next officers meeting of the Society, at which some decision is expected to be made. He remarked that the American Legion Americanization Committee is interested in working along with the Society in the various parts of the country carrying out their programs. He remarked that he hoped to discuss this with [redacted] since he knew [redacted] was thoroughly familiar with the Legion program. There is nothing definite concerning this at the present time as the membership is presently unvoted on.

(Enc.)

Concerning the recent letter sent to the President on behalf of the Bureau by the Society, Blaisdell remarked that he had prepared the letter on his own time and had come to Washington for the purpose of releasing it here and that former Agents [redacted] also members of the Society, had pitched in and worked diligently on the letter. He indicated that if you could see him and time permitted, he would like to personally advise you of these matters. I told Blaisdell that I was sure you would be glad to see him if you were in the city and time permitted and that we would drop him a note letting him know whether you could see him upon his next trip to Washington. I pointed out to him, of course, that your schedule is very uncertain, however.

I was favorably impressed with Blaisdell. He appears to be pretty much a live-wire and a go-getter and does appear to be sincerely interested in the welfare of the Bureau.

Respectfully,

G. A. Nease

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
JANUARY 25, 1950

COPY

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
JANUARY 25, 1950

CHARLES O. BLAISDELL, NATIONAL PRESIDENT OF THE SOCIETY OF FORMER SPECIAL AGENTS OF THE FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION, INC. ANNOUNCED THAT THE SOCIETY TODAY SENT THE FOLLOWING WIRE TO PRESIDENT TRUMAN:

"We have noted with alarm increased criticism in the public press of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. In the very recent past the National Lawyers Guild, Inc., which many responsible persons have stated is a Communist front organization, has requested you to order an investigation of that Bureau. We respectfully address this communication to you as a completely independent organization of over 1600 men who formerly served as Special Agents of the FBI.

"Our membership includes men in all walks of life. A substantial percentage of our members are active attorneys and we believe that our views might be of some interest to you.

"As average Americans we have a genuine interest in the preservation of civil rights and as former law enforcement officers we have a keen appreciation of the constant need of protecting those sacred rights of our fellow Americans. However, we feel that our Government also has a duty of protecting the security of our country. We believe that our Government has the duty to use every moral and proper means authorized by proper authority to combat espionage, treason, and other subversive activities which imperil the present or future security of this nation. It is of special interest to note that most of these recent attacks have centered around investigations by the FBI in loyalty and espionage cases. There is no doubt that many of the critics of the FBI, often unfortunately misinformed, are motivated by a sincere desire to render a public service. However, there are those who for reasons which do not include a patriotic devotion to American principles, desire to reduce the present effectiveness of the FBI in security investigations.

"In recent weeks the FBI has been criticized for the use of wire taps in the conduct of espionage investigation. Many of these critics have left the erroneous impression with the general public that the FBI has been engaged in the unauthorized use of wire taps. That is not a fact. The Attorney General of the United States has very recently stated that the FBI uses wire taps in national defense and kidnapping cases and then only upon his authorization. This policy was approved by the late President Roosevelt in 1941, and has been followed consistently by the Attorneys General since that time. Under these circumstances, when the situation warrants it, if the FBI fails to avail itself of this method of obtaining information in either national defense or kidnapping cases, it would be derelict in its public duty. The Joint Congressional Committee on the Investigation of the Pearl Harbor attack, in its report to the Congress, after pointing out that Japanese diplomatic establishments on our mainland and Hawaii had uncensored channels of communication with Tokyo up to the time of the attack on Pearl Harbor, stated:

'The situation should never again be permitted whereby the efforts of our Government to combat forces inimical to our national security are hamstrung by restrictions of our own imposition which aid the enemy.'

'We heartily subscribe to these views of that committee.

'We feel that recent criticism of the FBI's ~~wire tapping~~ activities has led to an entirely distorted conception in some quarters as to the extent of the wire tapping done by that agency. Many persons have been led to believe that the FBI has engaged in indiscriminate wire tapping to the detriment of many innocent persons. That also is not a fact. As Mr. J. Edgar Hoover recently stated publicly, the FBI has less than 170 telephone taps in operation and all of these were used in internal security investigations. When it is considered that the FBI has thousands of cases under investigation at all times, that small number of wire taps is indicative of the fact that wire tapping has not been used indiscriminately by that agency.

reduced as a result of the work of that agency. Through the police training program of the FBI, police organizations at the state and local level have made unprecedented advances during the past two decades. The war record of the FBI is an excellent one. Not a single act of foreign inspired sabotage was committed in the United States during the last war, and many espionage agents and others intent upon wrecking our security were uncovered and brought to justice.

"We deem it most regrettable that unwarranted attacks are being made on one of the most efficient agencies of our Government. It is not improper to suggest that current criticism is emanating from the same individuals and groups who over many years have sought to undermine The Federal Bureau of Investigation. Such criticism only indicates a complete lack of concern for the fundamental security of this nation. We believe there never has been a time in the history of this republic that greater vigilance is required to insure the internal security of America. Internationally we are engaged in a titanic struggle with great totalitarian forces of aggression and national chaos would result should we be called upon to meet this challenge with an impotent FBI and a public disunited by the influences of subversive propaganda, sabotage, and espionage.

"To those of us who have lived and worked in the FBI, charges of the character being impressed upon you are not merely unwarranted -- they are outright lies. There is today no public servant more vitally concerned in preserving our fundamental civil rights than the Director of the FBI.

COPY

"Our members are proud of their past service with the FBI. We are proud of the fact that we were able to take some part in the relentless fight made against domestic lawlessness and subversive activities. We are proud that we dispatched our duties without resorting to illegal tactics. And we are proud of the genuine confidence which the great bulk of the American people reposes in the FBI.

"It is for these reasons that we are constrained to write you in this instance, as well as by reason of the further consideration that the FBI, occupying the position that it does in our Governmental structure, is unable to defend itself from the unwarranted and malicious attacks to which it has been repeatedly subjected. It is our sincere conviction that you will not be swayed by the attacks of those whose primary purpose it is to discredit and harass the FBI, nor will you be influenced by the criticisms of sincere but misinformed individuals and groups."

By George Dixon

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—We have, in our country today, many questionable organizations which rend the air with noisy protestations of patriotism. But there's one association, which does no talking at all, in which mere membership is tantamount to a badge of loyalty.

Probably you have never heard of it, although it is a national organization with chapters in 28 principal cities. It is the Society of Former Special Agents of the FBI.

It has no tie-up with the Federal Bureau of Investigation, any more than a retired ballplayer has with his old team. But it is a very loyal alumni.

It also provides concrete answer to the question: "What happens to a G-man when he quits the service?" The answer is: "Almost anything."

The Society of Former Special Agents of the FBI has 1,652 members, as of a couple of nights ago when it convened in Washington to shoot John Dillinger all over again and blast a couple of snatchers. These members are in almost every walk of life (which is a cute phrase I just thought up because a lot of them are now too rich to do much walking.)

Three are distinguished members of Congress. One is a movie actor whose name used to be Joe Dosh but whose current cinema name I have forgotten. Upwards of a thousand are lawyers or accountants; four are bank presidents, while others are chiefs of police, racetrack protectors, an antique dealer, a casket-maker, and—I discovered at the dinner—one of my few dozen landlords.

No kidding. In the mob I spotted one of the owners of the place where I live, asked him what he was doing there, and was informed he used to chase Pretty Boy Floyd instead of intransigent tenants.

It just goes to show. Maybe the quiet, scholarly-looking fellow down the hall from you may have been the guy who turned the heat on Alvin Karpis.

The society started in a small way in New York in 1934 when a group of ex-agents began meeting at irregular intervals to cut up old touches. As coherent an explanation of this as I could obtain at the festivities was advanced by the president of the Washington chapter, Francis D. Flanagan, counsel for the Senate Investigating Committee, which has been known variously as the Truman Committee, Mead Committee, Brewster Committee, Ferguson Committee and now Hoey Committee.

"You know how it is," explained the eminent Mr. Flanagan. "Special agents get a lot closer to each other than people in most jobs. Think of the long days and nights we were together in 'plants', just sitting there looking at each other, waiting for a suspect to show."

The society grew rapidly during the war when special agents quit to become security heads of war industries. Now, without forcing the issue too much, the members are striving to make it more than a social society. They feel it can be of vital service to the nation.

"We feel," explained real estate tycoon Leonard Viner, "that it is a reserve of specially-trained men upon which the FBI may call in the event of a national emergency."

We had a lovely time at the party rehashing old kidnapings, machine-gunnings and other frolics. I also got the lowdown on how a couple of Assistant U. S. Attorneys General were able to coax confessions out of stubborn hoodlums in the Harlan, Ky., mine murders a decade ago.

I covered those killings and couldn't understand why the mugs caved in so suddenly. A bit of reminiscing unloosed the secret.

The thugs were solemnly informed that the electric scalp vibrator of Chief Assistant Attorney General Brien McMahon, now the distinguished senior Senator from Connecticut, was a lie detector machine.

The three congressmen members were back home politicking and sent regrets. They are Rep. Omar Burleson, of Texas; George H. Wilson, of Oklahoma, and Harold H. Velde, of Illinois. To keep things even all down the line, the first two are Democrats, the third a Republican.

Dear Mr. Judell:

Your letter dated February 15 has been received together with a copy of the letter directed by you on behalf of the Society of Former Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Inc., New Orleans Chapter, to the Honorable Hale Boggs, Member of Congress. I also note that you have very kindly directed identical letters to other members of the Congress representing the state of Louisiana.

You have my heartfelt appreciation, and that of my associates, for the commendatory references which you have made to the accomplishments of the FBI and my service as its Director. At a time when attacks are being leveled against this Bureau from sources whose motives demand careful scrutiny, it is highly encouraging to know that the members of your Chapter of the Society approve of the manner in which we are discharging our responsibilities. I was particularly heartened to note the objective manner in which you emphasized the role of the FBI in maintaining investigative coverage of criminal and subversive activities affecting the internal security of our country.

You have my sincere thanks for the offer of support extended on behalf of the members of your Society, and it is my earnest hope that the work of this Bureau will always be deserving of your unqualified approbation.

Sincerely yours,
J. Edgar Hoover

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I thought you might be interested in knowing that the New Orleans Chapter of the Society of Former Special Agents of the F.B.I., Inc. voted unanimously to send a personal letter, a copy of which is enclosed herewith, to each member of Congress from Louisiana. You will observe that this letter is similar in many respects to the communication which the national organization sent to President Truman recently. However, there is one fundamental difference. We feel that the F.B.I. should be permitted by law to tap telephone wires in all matters affecting national security and that Congress should pass adequate enabling legislation.

As justifiable and warranted as the bureau's present policy regarding wire tapping may be, we are of the opinion that the F.B.I., standing as it does for integrity and honor in law enforcement, should have the full power of the written law to sanction its operations and procedures. That is the reason we believe it essential to endorse a proposal to amend the present law regarding wire tapping.

The Chapter has authorized me to extend you and the bureau our wholehearted support in your relentless battle against the forces that seek to destroy our nation.

February 13, 1950

Honorable Hale Boggs
Member of Congress
House Office Building
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Boggs:

We are addressing this letter to you in your capacity as a representative of our State in Congress. The New Orleans Chapter of the Society of Former Special Agents of the F.B.I., Inc. is made up of the local members of our national organization of over 1600 men who formerly served as special agents of the F.B.I. We have in our membership men from all walks of life. A substantial percentage of our group is lawyers.

Because of our past affiliation with the F.B.I. we are ever mindful of the increasing dangers to our national security from forces both within and without our country. We are likewise vitally interested in seeing that our traditions of personal liberty and individual freedom are preserved and protected. Yet we recognize that our government has the duty of protecting the security of our nation so that we can enjoy those very liberties and freedom. We believe our government has an obligation to use every means sanctioned by proper authority to defend and protect us from the enemies who seek to destroy our nation. One of the valuable weapons in the fight against espionage and other traitorous subversive activities is wire tapping. As you know and we know our present law regarding wire tapping is inadequate and needs revision. We feel that Congress should pass legislation to authorize wire tapping in all matters affecting our national security. Appropriate restrictions and safeguards can be incorporated in the legislation to prevent the unwarranted use of wire taps. This progressive step should do much to dispel the cloud which has been placed over the F.B.I. by critics who would have you believe that the F.B.I. has been engaged in the unauthorized use of wire taps. This is not true.

ENCLOSURE

The Attorney General of the United States has very recently stated that the F.B.I. uses wire taps in national defense and kidnapping cases and then only upon his authorization. This policy was approved by the late President Roosevelt in 1941, and has been followed consistently by the Attorneys General since that time. Under these circumstances, when the situation warranted, if the F.B.I. failed to avail itself of this method of obtaining information in either national defense or kidnapping cases, it would be derelict in its public duty. The Joint Congressional Committee on the Investigation of the Pearl Harbor Attack, in its report to the Congress, after pointing out that Japanese diplomatic establishments on our mainland and Hawaii, had uncensored channels of communication with Tokyo up to the time of the attacks on Pearl Harbor, stated: "The situation should never again be permitted whereby the efforts of our government to combat forces inimical to our national security are hamstrung by restrictions of our own imposition which aid the enemy".

We heartily subscribe to these views of that committee.

We feel that recent criticism of the F.B.I.'s wire tapping activities has led to an entirely distorted conception in some quarters as to the extent of the wire tapping done by that agency. Many persons have been led to believe that the F.B.I. has engaged in indiscriminate wire tapping to the detriment of many innocent persons. That also is not a fact. As Mr. J. Edgar Hoover recently stated publicly, the F.B.I. has less than 170 telephone taps in operation and all of these were used in internal security investigations. When it is considered that the F.B.I. has thousands of cases under investigation at all times that small number of wire taps is indicative of the fact that wire tapping has not been used indiscriminately by that agency.

Today the F.B.I. stands as a symbol of integrity and efficiency in law enforcement. Interstate gangsterism and many types of vicious crimes, including kidnapping and bank robbery, have been sharply reduced as a result of the work of that agency. Through the police-training program of the F.B.I., police organizations at the state and local level have made unprecedented advances during the past two decades. The war record of the F.B.I. is an excellent one. Not a single act of foreign inspired sabotage was committed in the United States during the last war, and many espionage agents and others intent upon wrecking our security were uncovered and brought to justice.

We deem it most regrettable that unwarranted attacks are being made on one of the most efficient agencies of our government. It is not improper to suggest that current criticism is emanating from the same individuals and groups who over many years have sought to undermine the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Such criticism only indicates a complete lack of concern for the fundamental security of this nation. We believe there never has been a time in the history of this Republic that greater vigilance is needed to insure the internal security of America. We are facing attacks from totalitarian forces of aggression in many quarters of the world. National chaos would result should we be called upon to meet these challenges with an impotent F.B.I. and a public disunited by the influence of subversive propaganda, sabotage and espionage.

To those of us who have lived and worked in the F.B.I., charges of the character being impressed upon you are not merely unwarranted -- they are outright lies. There is today no public servant more vitally concerned in preserving our fundamental civil rights than the Director of the F.B.I. Our members are proud of their past service with the F.B.I. We are proud of the fact that we were able to take some part in the relentless fight made against domestic lawlessness, and subversive activities. We are proud that we dispatched our duties without resorting to illegal tactics. And we are proud of the genuine confidence which the great bulk of the American people has in the F.B.I.

We urge you to give this matter your personal attention and recommend your support of all measures to maintain and strengthen the F.B.I. as an efficient, fearless protector of our internal security.

Very truly yours,

Harold B. Judell

Dear Mr. Judell:

Thank you very much for your letter of February 13, with reference to the work of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

I fully agree with you that the FBI has done and is continuing to do splendid work in exposing criminals, especially in connection with our national security. I do not believe, however, that there is any serious threat to the proper functioning of the agency. As a matter of fact, as you probably observed from the press, Mr. J. Edgar Hoover has been appearing before our Senate Committee to request additional funds for his agency. He has made some startling revelations about the work of the FBI in connection with the National Security program. As a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, you may rest assured his request for additional funds will receive my full study and consideration.

With kindest regards, and again thanking you for your interest, I am

I believe that the work of the F.B.I. Agents, under the able direction of Honorable J. I advised Frip Flanagan the Director would be very glad for the Washington Chapter of the Society of Former SA's to hold a meeting with their sons at Quantico on May 20. They will go to Quantico in their own cars; their plan is to arrive at 10:00 A. M.

I told him we would arrange for a firearms demonstration. We could also have a Jujutsu demonstration for the boys; that they could have lunch at the Academy and it would be $1.10 per person. After lunch we would take them on a tour of the building. He was very enthusiastic about this and stated that he would let us know a week ahead of time as to the number. He subsequently called back to inquire as to whether former Special Agents who did not have boys of their own could bring a neighborhood boy. I told him this would be satisfactory as long as we kept it a stag affair.

Dear Allen:

Harold B. Judell, who is presently chairman of the local chapter of our Society of Former Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, addressed to you a letter under date of February 13th. I won't go into any detail in regard to the subject matter, because he has covered every phase that I could think of in a very excellent manner, I simply want to endorse the letter in its entirety.

So that perhaps you may understand a little more fully the sentiment of our members on this question, I would like to say that our full membership met and discussed in detail the matter of wire tapping, that has, in the last few weeks, been the subject of many newspaper articles. You understand, I am sure, that the members I speak of have all served as agents of the FBI. for various periods. Personally, I was an agent of this organization for nearly eleven years.

We believe that nothing would justify the enactment of legislation to hinder investigation of our F. B. I. in the matter of national security. It is the personal opinion of the writer that every true American, deep down in his heart, must agree that the matter of wire tapping, when necessary for the preservation of our government in its fight against subversive activities, is surely justified, and it is our hope that you, Senator Long, and all the members of the Louisiana delegation in Washington will support these views.

Personally, I have known J. Edgar Hoover for many years, and worked with him during World War I. I know him to be an outstanding American, and probably the most efficient director of the F.B.I. since its organization. I believe that any interference with Mr. Hoover, in his sincere desire to protect our country, and to unmask the enemies who are fighting from within our country, would be a national catastrophe. I beg of you, therefore, to do all in your power to cooperate with that splendid organization headed by Mr. Hoover.

Former SA ~~Frip~~ Flanagan, presently General Counsel with the Senate Investigating Committee, advised me that several members of the association of former Special Agents had indicated to him a desire to have a father and son affair and they wondered if they could go to Quantico some day, take the boys on a tour of our facilities there, have a firearms demonstration and possibly have a demonstration on jujutsu, have lunch and then return.

After the Director approved the idea Mr. Clegg advised that we would have In-Service classes at Quantico on Saturday May 20 and June 3. I advised Flanagan that we would be very glad to make arrangements for the tour on either of these two dates; that we would like to have ample notice as to the day they would be down in order that arrangements could be made for lunch. I told him that the normal charge for lunches would be all that would be involved.

As soon as they advise us when they would like to take this tour we can then work out a program. I think this has several very good possibilities.

At the request of former Special Agent James H. Kerr, Jr., President of the Houston Chapter, Society of Former Special Agents of the FBI, I attended a luncheon given by this Society on May 17, 1950 and gave a short talk.

It is requested this office be given credit for a speaking engagement.

This group of former Agents in Houston appears to be quite substantial and very friendly toward the Bureau. I feel they are a potential source of assistance to the Bureau in the event their various talents are needed.

There were approximately 30 at the luncheon. 17

 Mr. ~~Planagan~~ phoned me this morning. He stated they already have 94 persons signed up for the trip to Quantico on Saturday morning. They contemplate meeting at the Washington Monument at 8:45 AM and arriving at Quantico at 10:00 AM. There will probably be more and he will let me have the final figure tomorrow.

In line with our conversation I am planning on going down to Quantico on Saturday morning. I have already talked to and a special program has been arranged for them.

Honorable John Edgar Hoover
Director

Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

SOCIETY OF FORMER F.B.I.

I wish to extend the sincere thanks of our entire membership for your courtesy in making it possible for us to have our Father and Sons Day at Quantico last Saturday. The former agents, their sons, and young guests who were at Quantico will long remember that grand occasion.

The FBI Academy at Quantico revived many fond memories for those of us who have been in the Bureau. The opportunity to visit our old alma mater was more than a day of entertainment. It went a long way toward building closer friendship and understanding between the boys and their Dads, and helped to strengthen the bonds of loyalty which exist between the Bureau and its former agents. Since Saturday I have had occasion to discuss this matter with many of the Chapter members and they are unanimous in their agreement that this was one of the finest affairs ever sponsored by the organization.

It would be appreciated if you will extend our appreciation to Assistant Director Nichols and [redacted] and the members of his staff who did a magnificent job in making the day a real success. I sincerely hope there will be other occasions when the Society may assist in fostering the common interests which exist between the FBI and those of us who were privileged to have served with you in the past.

Sincerely,
JUN 7 1950

SUBJECT:

Reference is made to the attached letter from the Houston Office dated May 18, 1950, wherein SAC Lorton states that he attended and gave a short talk at a luncheon of the Houston Chapter of the Society of Former Special Agents of the FBI.

This is the first advice the Bureau has had that the SAC intended to speak before this organization and Lorton did not clear the matter with the Bureau first. Accordingly, Mr. McGuire spoke with him on the phone and instructed that in the future in every instance he clear these matters with the Bureau. Lorton stated that [redacted] [redacted] and a former Special Agent, is very influential in Houston and that he met [redacted] on the way to lunch and joined him and found that they were going to meet with the Former Society of Special Agents. Lorton states there were approximately 30 former agents at the luncheon and he was introduced to the group inasmuch as he is new as SAC in that area, and that he only spoke for two to three minutes, and that the whole matter was more in the nature of an introduction. Lorton was advised that none the less the Bureau specifically wanted him in every instance to obtain Bureau authority before he attends or arranges to make any appearances before the Society of Former Special Agents.

MICHIGAN CHAPTER*Security, Ex-Agents*

Recently, Mr. FRANCIS PARKER, former Special Agent of this Bureau, called at the Detroit Division in person to advise that he had addressed letters to the Honorable G. MENNEN WILLIAMS, Governor of the State of Michigan, and the Honorable ALBERT E. COBO, Mayor of the City of Detroit, in which he has offered the services of the Michigan Chapter of the ~~Ex-Agents~~ Association during the current emergency.

Mr. PARKER advised that he signed these letters in his official capacity as President of the Michigan Chapter of this association. He said his action was predicated upon a resolution passed recently by the Michigan Chapter. In addition, Mr. PARKER pointed out that the organization contemplates assisting the mayor and the governor primarily in an advisory capacity.

Mr. PARKER stated that it is not anticipated at this time that any members of the Michigan Chapter of the Ex-Agents Organization will make any public addresses nor is it contemplated that anything will be said or done which will in any way embarrass the Bureau.

This is for the Bureau's information. Unless advised to the contrary, however, no action is contemplated by this office.

Society for the Bureau
MEMORANDUM FOR THE DIRECTOR

Former Special Agent Charles Blaisdell, who is presently practicing law in New York and is the President of the Former Agents Society, called me today. You will recall having had a personal interview with him some weeks ago. Blaisdell stated that he will be in Washington next Tuesday and Wednesday and, if possible, would like to come in and see you for a few minutes or talk to someone that you might designate. He stated he has received numerous inquiries from various chapters of the Former Agents Society wanting to know what the Society is doing and planning along the lines of cooperation with the Bureau in connection with the present national emergency. He stated that it has come to his attention that several members of the Society are interested in coming back to the Bureau if the Bureau would be interested in having them. He understands, of course, that all such individuals need do is file an application if they are interested in coming back to the Bureau. The purpose of his interview down here next week would be to get some positive answer which he might definitely give the members of the society as to what the Society can do to aid the Bureau. I explained your absence to him and told him I was certain you would designate someone to discuss the matter with him and he indicated he would call at the Director's Office next Wednesday morning at ten o'clock for this purpose.

At the same time, Mr. Blaisdell advised that in the past you have been invited on one or two occasions to be the honor guest at the annual dinner which is held in New York by that organization. He stated there has been a tremendous demand by the members of the Society that every effort be made to get you to attend their annual dinner, which will be held around the middle of November, and address the Society at that time. Blaisdell stated that they are particularly anxious for you to be able to do this in view of their tremendous admiration for you and in view of the national emergency. He also pointed out that he thought this would go a long way toward bringing about the elimination of some of the unfavorable aspects of the Society which have been distasteful to this Bureau in the past. I told Blaisdell that certainly I would tell you that they were interested in having you attend their banquet and then, of course, if they desire to extend to you an invitation, that was up to them. I advised that I did know that it had been necessary for you to decline to accept any such engagements at this time and for a long time past in view of the tremendous pressure of work but I was sure if the invitation was extended to you you would give it your thorough consideration. No action is required in this regard at the present time.

As you know, Blaisdell appears to be a very sincere former Agent and I believe a great admirer of the Bureau and it is my understanding he has made a sincere effort to get rid of the undesirable element of the Former Agents Society and develop it into a sound organization.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that when Blaisdell calls at your office next Wednesday morning, he be referred to one of the Assistant Directors, preferably Mr. Glavin, and unless advised to the contrary this will be done. I have spoken to Mr. Glavin re. this.

Reference is made to Mr. Nease's memorandum of August 11 to the Director concerning the above-mentioned former Special Agent who was desirous of discussing certain matters concerning the Former Agents Society with a representative of the Bureau at the time he was in Washington. Blaisdell called at my office as previously arranged on the morning of Wednesday, August 16. Mr. Blaisdell pointed out to me that he had received a number of requests from members of the Former Agents Society as to whether the Society could be of any assistance to the Bureau in the present critical situation. He stated that he knew personally a number of members of the Society who would be most happy to assist the Bureau in any way possible at this time.

I pointed out to Mr. Blaisdell that the Bureau was not making any approach to any outside organization, requesting that its members consider employment in the Bureau. I pointed out further to him that in the event any former Special Agents presently members of the Society were desirous of being considered for reappointment as Agents in the Bureau, the Director would be most happy to consider their applications for reinstatement as submitted and that each case would be decided on its own merits. I pointed out to Mr. Blaisdell that we were not going to the Society recruiting its members and that no block appointments would be made by the Bureau. I explained to him very plainly the fact that there were some members of the Agents Society who would not under any consideration be considered for reappointment in the Bureau's service. He stated that he realized this; that he did want to make known to the Director and the Bureau the fact that a number of members of the Society were willing and anxious to be of assistance to the Bureau at this or at any other period of emergency.

He pointed out that in the event there are bombings or any attack upon the country at any time that he knows the members of the Society will place themselves at the Director's disposal. They could move very quickly and any call or contact with Blaisdell, the President of the Society in New York, would result in information being spread to the members of the Society so that they could present themselves for duty when the Bureau felt such was necessary. I expressed the Director's appreciation to Mr. Blaisdell for this offer, again pointing out to him that at the present time the work of the Bureau was being performed by regular Special Agent personnel.

Memorandum for the Director

*They will have to

Blaisdell also pointed out that if at any time there was any problem that could be handled informally for the Bureau by either himself or by the Society, he would appreciate being advised concerning it, and the Director could rest assured that the matter would be handled without any fanfare or publicity.

He went into some detail concerning the possibility of the Bureau furnishing the officers of the Society information as to whether applicants for membership in the Society had left the Bureau in the Bureau's good graces. He stated that he and the other officers of the Society were endeavoring in every way possible to bring about a closer relationship and understanding between the Bureau and the Society, and that, insofar as the present officers and executive committee were concerned, no former Agent who was not in the good graces of the Bureau would be considered for membership in the Society if these facts were known to the Society before membership was voted upon. I pointed out to Blaisdell that frankly if I were asked for an opinion as to whether information should be furnished to the Society regarding applicants for membership in the Society, I would recommend that such information be not furnished since it would set a dangerous precedent and would probably involve the Bureau in controversy and correspondence with certain disgruntled former Special Agents. I pointed out to Blaisdell that it would appear to me that it would be relatively simple for his membership committee to find out whether a man resigned voluntarily or was dismissed or discharged, since I presumed that some evidence of separation from the Bureau, such as, a photostatic copy of the letter of acceptance of the resignation, must necessarily be furnished with the application for membership in the Society. It appears that such is not done. I did not follow up on this point, but it does appear to me that the membership committee should have given consideration to such documents in the past.

Mr. Blaisdell further pointed out to me that he had received inquiries from a number of members of the Society as to whether they could be utilized by the intelligence services of the armed forces. Mr. Blaisdell stated that he was wondering whether the Bureau would have any objections to members of the Society considering appointments in the military intelligence and naval intelligence services. I told Mr. Blaisdell that, of course, these men are no longer in the Bureau and what they do on their own is of no concern to the Bureau and the Bureau was not in any position to tell them they should or should not endeavor to secure such appointments.

Blaisdell also commented concerning the possibility of the Director addressing the members of the Society at their annual dinner. I expressed the Director's regrets, pointing out that his commitments would not permit his acceptance of such an invitation. Blaisdell was wondering whether the Director would have any objection to another representative from the Seat of Government addressing the members of the Society at their annual banquet or whether SAC Scheidt of the New York Division could make such an address. I pointed out to Blaisdell that, as he undoubtedly knew, the Bureau was tremendously busy at this time and I doubted whether officials at the Seat of Government would have time to fulfil such an engagement. He did want me to mention this matter to the Director however. I told him I would.

Recommend we tell Blaisdell no on this. W. J. P. M. Jaque '14.

He also was high in his praise of the Father and Son Day of which the Director had approved for members of the Society at Quantico this past spring. He was hopeful that there could be get-togethers between present Bureau Agents and former Agents in the various divisional territories in the field. He stated that there are local chapters of the Society in many cities in the country and he was hopeful that at some time in the not too distant future Agents in Charge of our various divisional offices would be able to appear at luncheons held by these chapters and perhaps say a few words at those luncheons.

Blaisdell was highly commendatory of the Director during his visit with me and he pointed out that he was very hopeful that during the term of Presidency he could do something to bring the Society and the Bureau closer together; that insofar as the majority of the members of the Society are concerned, they are entirely loyal to the Director and the Bureau, and he feels that the members of the Society would be willing to volunteer to assist the Bureau in any future emergency.

I thanked Mr. Blaisdell for his interest and courtesy in dropping by the Bureau and told him that I would pass on to the Director his various comments.

Former Special Agent [redacted] called me this afternoon and he stated that the above-captioned Society would have its national elections this November and a motion is up to change the name to Ex-FBI Association. The proposed name was submitted by former SAC [redacted] [redacted] stated that the Society has a charter from New York State which has the name as indicated in the above caption and that if the motion presently before the Society is approved, it will be necessary to have the charter changed.

[redacted] stated the purpose of his call to me was that he understood that the Bureau had an antipathy against the use of FBI in the name of the Society. He said he was looking for some guidance in the event that was true in order to propose a proper name for the Society. He stated that he along with a number of individuals are very desirous of making the necessary changes in the Society to eventually have it recognized by the Bureau. He also advised that it was the intention of certain individuals in the Society, including himself, to eventually gain sufficient control to oust some of those individuals who are opposed to the Bureau and have been in the past. He didn't mention any names and neither did I. [redacted] is familiar with the incantion of the Society and some of the bad elements which are in it.

[redacted] stated unless he was advised to the contrary by me or the Bureau that he and the group which he represented were going to propose that the name of the Society be changed to the "Society of Former Special Agents, Inc." and leave out entirely the initials FBI or the words Federal Bureau of Investigation

I told [redacted] I could see no objection to the name of the Society proposed by him and if there was any further information I could furnish him along this line I would communicate with him. He said unless he heard from me to the contrary he was going ahead and propose the new name for the Society as indicated.

SOCIETY FORMER SPECIAL AGENTS
OF THE
FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION
INC.

ROOM 1025, 70 PINE ST., NEW YORK 5, N. Y.

FOR PRESIDENT

Robert W. Dick

Bob Dick is a native of the state of Iowa and was admitted to the Iowa Bar in 1927, after attending the Universities of South Dakota and George Washington Law School. He presently resides with his wife and two children in West Orange, N. J., commuting to his work in New York.

Bob is employed with the Claims Bureau of the Association of Casualty & Surety Companies where he has been assistant to the Manager of the Claims Bureau directing their investigations nationwide.

He served four years in the Bureau and became a member of the Society during the first year of its existence and has been an active member ever since. Bob served one year on the Membership Committee and later was elected to serve three years (1945-1948) as a member of the Executive Committee. He has given unstintingly of his time and effort to further the best interests of the Society. He participated in the designing and selection of the insignia for the pin, ring and key adopted by the Society. He was the earliest advocate of the Group Life Insurance Plan for the Society, which is now under consideration by the members. Bob recognized that from the earliest days of the Society there had been a number of members, who were interested in group life insurance for the members. This proposal had always been rejected as not possible. Typical of his desire to bring to the members what they wanted and furthering the interests of the Society, Bob interested Jerry Tracy in the subject and it was through their combined efforts that the proposal to write such insurance was placed before the Executive Committee for consideration and appointment of an Insurance Committee.

In addition to having been prominently active and having participated in all of the affairs of the Society he has since 1943, a period of seven years, been Editor of the Grapevine.

Henry P. Dolan

He served in the Bureau 1933-1936 and saw duty at Pittsburgh and New York offices. He entered Bureau as an accountant, but spent all of his service on general assignments.

Henry is married and the father of four children.

Active in Society affairs and well acquainted with its history and traditions. He has held the offices of Vice President and Secretary. He has also served on Placement and Nominating Committees and is presently a member of the Executive Committee.

Since leaving Bureau has been Assistant to the President of the famous raid on "Little Bohemia." Needless to say, ident of Ox Fibre Brush Co., Inc.; Chief Investigator, Army Air Forces, Intelligence Section and Office of Legislative Services; Treasurer and Controller of Wright Aeronautical Corp.; at present is Director of Budgets, on the staff of the President, Curtiss-Wright Corp.

ENCLOSURE

Thomas M. McDade

Tom was born in Brooklyn, N. Y. and resides with his family in Rye, N. Y.

He is both an accountant and an attorney and served in the Bureau from 1934 to 1938. Unlike the young man who joined the Navy to see the world only to spend three years in the Brooklyn Navy Yard, Tom took part in two real shooting affairs in his first six months of Bureau service. That the shooting was for keeps is testified by the fact that five people were killed in these affrays. He survived these to engage in the practice of law in New York for a period of four years, when he was commissioned in the Army of the U. S. His overseas assignments included service in Australia, New Guinea, the Philippines and Japan. The reorganization of the Manila Police Department, in which Tom is an Inspector of Police, was his most interesting assignment.

Tom is presently Asst. Comptroller for General Foods Corporation in New York. An active Society member who has served on the Placement and Publication Committees. He is presently serving as Treasurer of the Society. He writes for a hobby, most recently appearing in Ellery Queen's Mystery Magazine as a contest prize winner.

FOR FIRST VICE PRESIDENT

Carmine S. Bellino

Carmine hardly needs any introduction to those former Agents who served in the Bureau during the decade prior to 1945. His work, particularly in the accounting and bankruptcy field, both as an investigator and later as a supervisor and instructor, is almost a legend in the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Carmine was born in Elizabeth, New Jersey in 1905 and after graduating from New York University in 1928 he became associated with various accounting firms. He has spent his entire adult life in one phase or another of accounting work and is a Certified Public Accountant, both in New Jersey and the District of Columbia. At the present time he has his own CPA offices in Washington, D. C. and Elizabeth, N. J.

He joined the Bureau in March 1934 and in the spring of that year was assigned to the Chicago office. Carmine, together with Al Muzzey, has the distinction of having arrived as new Agents in the Chicago office on the day

S.A.C. Purvis failed to recognize the great latent possibilities of these two agents on their first day in his office and failed to take them on the raid. Who knows but that Muzzey and Bellino might have made things different up there that night?

From 1934 to 1939 Carmine worked not only in the Chicago field office, but was assigned to New York and Newark. Among the better known cases on which he worked were the Insull case and the case of the Morro Castle. He also spent considerable time on white slave assignments and worked on that series of cases which ended up with the now famous raids at Atlantic City.

From 1939 to 1945 he was bankruptcy and accounting supervisor of Bureau headquarters and became one of the outstanding authorities in that field in the Bureau. Many agents who entered the Bureau after that time recall Carmine as the man who patiently but diligently attempted to instruct them in the mysteries of bankruptcy, bank fraud, and similar matters.

After eleven years of distinguished service in the Bureau he resigned to become Assistant Chief of the Investigative Unit at the Reconstruction Finance Corporation under another well-known agent, Mr. Paul Cotter. After he was on that job for about a year, the bulk of the work was transferred to the Compliance Unit of the War Assets Administration under the direction of now Brig. Gen. Joseph E. Carroll. Carmine continued on as Assistant Director of Compliance at War Assets until he resigned in October 1946 to engage in the private practice of his profession.

Since 1946 he has been actively engaged as a CPA and received nationwide recognition for his work as accounting consultant with the Senate War Investigation Committee and its successor the Senate Investigations Subcommittee. In that capacity Carmine did a great deal of the work leading to the expose of former Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers, and more recently in connection with the five percenter probe which led to the indictment of John F. Maragon.

Carmine and his lovely wife reside with their five children in Bethesda, Maryland. What is written above is merely a chronological, factual statement of Carmine's career. Words are entirely inadequate to give any real description of Carmine. He has always been a prodigious and industrious worker and a loyal and true friend to many people. He might best be described in a thumbnail description as "a selfless person who spends all his time and energy helping others." One real indication of his popularity is the fact that Carmine is the unanimous choice of the Washington Chapter for the candidacy of a national office in the Society.

John A. Lynch

John A. Lynch, incumbent Chairman of the Chicago Chapter of the Society, was born and raised in Pittsburgh and educated in the parochial elementary and high schools. He attended Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, Maryland upon graduation from high school, leaving there in 1934 to attend the University of Pittsburgh, where he graduated with a B.S. degree in 1938. During the time he was in school, Jack was employed as an accountant with a public accounting firm in Pittsburgh, later assuming a position - as assistant cost accountant with the U. S. Gypsum at Oakmont, Pa. He proceeded from this position to the Income Tax Unit, Bureau of Internal Revenue, and remained with that organization in its Chicago office for approximately three years, at which time he accepted an appointment from the Bureau. His first assignment with the Bureau was in 1940 at Detroit. From Detroit Jack was reassigned to Chicago, where he remained until 1946, when he accepted a partnership in the national certified public accounting firm of Barnes and Company. After one year as resident partner, Jack resigned to establish his own accounting firm in Chicago and has been actively engaged in that profession since.

He is presently the father of four children, and resides in his own "mortgaged" home at Lake Forest, Illinois.

Everett W. Brown

Born in Mt. Erie, Illinois (10 miles from Fairfield and the Shelton Boys) where he attended grade school through the 6th grade. In 1921 he moved to Long Beach, California with his parents where he finished grade school and thereafter graduated from Long Beach Poly High School.

Received a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Southern California in June of 1931 and an L.L.B. degree from Southwestern Law School, Los Angeles in 1935. While attending the University of Southern California he was a member of three outstanding football teams (National Champions in '29) coached by the late Howard Harding Jones.

In October, '36 he received an appointment as a Special Agent of the Bureau and was thereafter assigned to Bureau offices in Omaha, Neb., Des Moines, Iowa, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, Pittsburgh, Pa., and Los Angeles, California. Was never an SAC, Supervisor or Number One Man but was temporarily sitting on the desk at Pittsburgh for Sam McKee when one Agent demolished a new Ford Sedan near Erie, Pa. and practically eliminated himself from ever again practicing law in the State of New York.

In November '40 he resigned from the Bureau to accept the position of Principal Investigator, Intelligence Section, U. S. Army Air Force.

In April, '42 he resigned from the latter mentioned position to become Director of Plant Protection, Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Drydock Corporation (later became Todd Shipbuilding Corporation), San Pedro, California where he remained until August, '46.

Upon leaving Todd Shipbuilding Corporation, he entered the field of private investigations and presently operates his own office in Los Angeles and Hollywood, California.

He is past Chairman of the Los Angeles Chapter of the Society and resides in North Hollywood, California with his wife and two children.

Raymond Lee Tollett

Raymond Lee Tollett was born on a farm near Temple, Oklahoma, on December 9, 1907, which was a few weeks after Oklahoma was admitted to statehood. When just two years of age, he established residence in Wichita Falls, Texas, where he finished high school in 1924 and business college in 1925. Before reaching high school, he started to work and has been continuously employed since 1919. After graduation from high school as valedictorian, he finished business college by attending evening classes. Thereafter he found a stenographic-bookkeeping job with an oil company. Except for the period that he served in the Bureau from September 1934 to March 1937, he has been continuously employed by various oil companies.

After finishing night law school, he was admitted to the Texas State Bar in February 1932. In December 1933, he passed the American Institute Accountants' examination to become a certified public accountant. Since June 1940, he has been president and general manager of Cosden Petroleum Corporation with his office and place of residence in Big Spring, Texas. He is a charter member of the Society and has been able to attend a number of the New York meetings. He travels considerably and his business takes him to New York several times each year.

Ray first married in 1929. By his first marriage he has a grown daughter who is married, but as yet he has no prospects of being a grandfather. In fact, by his second marriage he has a son who was born in December 1948, and his wife tells him that he may expect another heir in September of 1950. Some folks have remarked that, "There is many a good tune in an old violin."

He has no serious hobbies, although numismatics engage him for an hour or so occasionally. He can ride well but has become allergic to horses. He hunts and fishes quite a lot and is a miserable golf player. He is addicted to all minor vices, but has for many years been a Lay Reader in the Protestant Episcopal Church.

John F. Elich

After completing high school, he bounced around the country, seeking his fortune. He spent a couple of years in the copper mines of Arizona and the coal mines of Wyoming. In 1924 he joined the United States Marine Corps. He really saw the world, South America, Honolulu, Guam, Australia, the Philippines and China. When mustered out of the Marines as a Sergeant he went to Tacoma, Washington, where he married Frances Hugg. In 1930 he joined the Tacoma Police Force and served with this organization for 8 years. In 1933 he started to study law at night in October, 1937 was made a Special Agent of the F.B.I.

Jack served in the Newark, Detroit, Milwaukee, Washington, San Antonio and Pittsburgh offices of the Bureau. While in Wisconsin he was Resident Agent in Eau Claire and in Texas he was Assistant Agent in Charge of the San Antonio Office.

Jack resigned from the Bureau in 1944 and became Security Director for all plants of the Sperry Gyroscope Company, Inc. He is presently with American Cyanimid Company.

He is a member of the Masons, Elks, and Veterans of Foreign Wars. His hobbies are golf, photography and bowling.

Jack has displayed a keen interest in the affairs of the Society and has been a regular attendant at all the New York meetings.

He is the present Chairman of the Placement Committee.

John G. Keenan

Jack was born a mile away from Ebbets Field, "Home of the Dodgers." Brooklyn, U. S. A.

Jack spent his childhood in Brooklyn and attended Brooklyn Preparatory School where he defended, on the athletic field, the fair name of Brooklyn against all invaders, especially from Manhattan Island. His defense was so staunch that Fordham University made arrangements to have him on their side of the bridge. Here he was an active participant in various sports and played four years on the college football team during the era of Coach Frank Cavanaugh. "The Iron Major," who was known for his great defensive teams. He graduated in 1934 with a B.A. degree and a high scholastic average.

Immediately upon his graduation Jack entered St. John's University School of Law and received his LL.B. degree in 1937. He was admitted to the Bar of the State of New York in the same year. Upon his admittance to the Bar, Jack became associated with the Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit System of the City of New York as a fledgling attorney. In a short time he rose to the position of trial counsel for the Transit Division of New York City, defending them against numerous lawsuits.

Jack was appointed a Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in 1941. His work in the Bureau consisted of handling internal security cases, and he was assigned to the Philadelphia and New York Offices. In between these offices he had a lengthy "stretch" as a supervisor at the S.O.G. In 1945, Jack resigned from the Bureau and entered his own law practice. He is now a partner in the law firm of Alexander & Keenan.

Jack is also President of American Business Consultants, Inc., the organization which publishes the weekly newsletter, COUNTERATTACK, facts to combat Communism. In this worthy activity, Jack is associated with several other former agents.

Jack has long been active in the Society's affairs and has done an excellent job as Chairman of Public Relations for the Society and was influential in obtaining press notices on the stand of the Society in defense of the Bureau against the recent smear by the Commies.

He has moved from his "Prep" days of defending Brooklyn to jump wholeheartedly into the bigger fight of defending America.

They say that the best offense is a good defense and, under that logic, Jack has been well trained.

W. Harry Widener

FOR EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

Charles O. Blaisdell

According to the birth records for the City of Brooklyn, New York, the legal career of Charles O. Blaisdell officially began on the 27th day of November 1915.

Charlie spent his childhood in Brooklyn, and in true Brooklynite tradition became an ardent baseball fan. He attended Brooklyn Friends School and upon graduation entered Dartmouth College, in Hanover, New Hampshire. Here he was an active participant in various sports and an enthusiastic member of the college football team. He was liked and admired by his fellow classmates for his sincerity, friendship, and all-around ability. He graduated in 1937 with a B.S. degree and a high scholastic standing.

Immediately following his graduation, Charlie entered Columbia University Law School, where he earnestly commenced preparation for his law career. His L.L.B. degree received in 1941.

Charlie was admitted to the bar of the State of New York on April 10, 1942, which admission occurred shortly after his appointment as a Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. His work in the Bureau varied from the handling of internal security cases during the war years to conducting general criminal investigations, and he was assigned to the Grand Rapids, Philadelphia and New York offices. In 1945 Charlie resigned from the Bureau in order to establish his own law practice. In April 1941 married Alla Herkstroter whom he had known since childhood.

Although at present the major portion of his time is devoted to his family and practice, he is still an ardent sports fan and takes an active interest in world events in general.

Howard V. Ross

Howard Ross is one of those fellows that when you meet him you like him immediately. He seems to be an easy going chap, full of life and full of fun. Life is really wonderful and it should be when you consider that he has a most charming wife and a beautiful little girl. Howard has a nice home in Bronxville Manor in Westchester.

Howard is just one of thousands who live and work in New York but are not native sons. He hails from St. Joseph, Missouri, where he was born in 1914 and where he received his preliminary and higher education. He is a graduate of the University of Missouri having received his L.L.B. in 1937.

Howard could not stay away from the practice of law for long and in 1944 became associated with the prominent law firm of Simpson, Thatcher & Bartlett where he is now a senior associate specializing in labor law. His legal ability has been definitely established and we are sure that it will not be long when he becomes a member of that excellent firm.

The State of New York had insisted upon Howard showing his knowledge of law. They refused to admit him to practice upon motion despite the fact that he had been admitted in Missouri for a number of years. He showed them by passing their bar examination on the first try.

My dear Mr. Hoover:

As Chairman of the Michigan Chapter of the Ex-Agents Society, I am directing this letter to you to extend the confidences of the Michigan group in the face of the recent book published by Max Lowenthal.

We here in Detroit are wondering if there is any action we can conceivably take at this time and you will be pleased to note we have directed a letter to Malcolm Bingay, Managing Editor of the Detroit Free Press, thanking him for the confidences expressed in you and the Bureau in a recent editorial.

I would again like to point out, as we have in the past, that if there is any possible assistance we may give you or the Bureau, you have only to say the word and we will be ready to act.

I am sending you an inclosure which is a copy of a release made Saturday, December 2, by United Press from the New York office and I am sure you can judge from its contents that we are still extremely interested in your welfare.

Very truly yours,

(RELEASE SATURDAY)

---TIME OUT!---

THIS IS (ANNOUNCER'S NAME), CALLING "TIME OUT":---
TIME OUT FROM THE WORLD'S BIG WORRIES. TIME OUT FROM THE HEAVY HEADLINES.

TIME OUT FOR A STORY FROM THE MAIN STREETS AND BYWAYS OF THE NATION---AS PREPARED TODAY BY ARTHUR HIGBEE OF THE DETROIT BUREAU OF UNITED PRESS RADIO.

OLD GRADS

JUST ABOUT EVERY HIGH SCHOOL AND COLLEGE IN THE UNITED STATES HAS ITS ALUMNI ORGANIZATION---A BUNCH OF OLD GRADS WHO LIKE TO GET TOGETHER NOW AND THEN TO HASH OVER OLD TIMES AND MAYBE SEE WHAT CAN BE DONE ABOUT GETTING A NEW LIBRARY OF A WINNING FOOTBALL TEAM.

ONE OF THE MOST LOYAL---AND LEAST KNOWN---ALUMNI GROUPS OF ALL IS THE "SOCIETY OF FORMER SPECIAL AGENTS OF THE FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION, INCORPORATED"---IN OTHER WORDS, MEN WHO HAVE GRADUATED FROM THE F-B-I INTO BETTER-PAYING, IF SOMEWHAT MORE HUMDRUM JOBS.

THE F-B-I ALUMNI GROUP HAS 16-HUNDRED MEMBERS SCATTERED ACROSS THE UNITED STATES AND IN 15 FOREIGN COUNTRIES. NATIONAL HEADQUARTERS IS IN NEW YORK. LIKE MANY OTHER ALUMNI OUTFITS, THE EX-G-MEN HAVE THEIR OWN PUBLICATION. THEY CALL IT---APPROPRIATELY ENOUGH---"THE TRADEWIND."

THE AIMS OF THE SOCIETY ARE ALSO LIKE THOSE OF ANY OTHER ALUMNI GROUP---TO KEEP IN TOUCH WITH EACH OTHER AND WITH THEIR ALMA MATER---AND TO HELP EACH OTHER AND THE COMMUNITY.

BUT F-B-I MEN IS RATHER SPECIALIZED. EX-AGENTS OFTEN GET TIPS FROM THEIR FORMER UNDERGROUND CONTACTS. THESE ARE IMMEDIATELY PASSED ON TO THE F-B-I ITSELF FOR ACTION. RIGHT NOW, THE F-B-I GRADUATES ARE OFFERING THEIR YEARS OF EXPERIENCE TO LOCAL CIVIL DEFENSE OFFICIALS.

A TYPICAL F-B-I ALUMNI GROUP IS THE MICHIGAN CHAPTER, WHICH HAS 62 MEMBERS AND WHICH MEETS ONCE A MONTH IN DETROIT TO SHARE DINNER AND HEAR A SPEAKER. AFTER THE MEETING THE FORMER AGENTS USUALLY RELAX FOR A FEW DRINKS AND A ROUND OF POKER.

ONE BIG CONCERN OF THE DETROIT GROUP RIGHT NOW IS CONTROL OF THEMSELVES. THE EX-F-B-I AGENTS SAY THEY'D LIKE TO SEE THE GOVERNMENT TAKE A STRONGER HAND WITH COMMUNISTS.

THAT'S ABOUT THE ONLY AIM OF THE ORGANIZATION THAT HAS ANYTHING TO DO WITH POLITICS. F-B-I MEN---LIKE ARMY MEN---USUALLY STEER CLEAR OF PARTISAN POLITICS. AND THE HABIT STICKS EVEN WHEN THEY'RE NO LONGER WORKING FOR THE GOVERNMENT.

MOST OF THE MEMBERS OF THE DETROIT GROUP ARE IN PUBLIC RELATIONS, OR PERSONNEL WORK, OR LEGAL ACTIVITIES.

FORMER AGENT JOHN BUGAS IS NOW THE FORD MOTOR COMPANY VICE PRESIDENT IN CHARGE OF INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS. THE PRESIDENT OF THE DETROIT F-B-I ALUMNI---FRANK PARKER---IS NOW HANDLING PUBLICITY FOR THE MICHIGAN BREWERS ASSOCIATION.

SOME SPECIAL AGENTS WANDER PRETTY FAR AFIELD AFTER THEY LEAVE THE F-B-I.

FOR EXAMPLE, ONE OF THE MICHIGAN MEMBERS IS RUNNING A TOURIST CAMP. OTHERS ARE ATHLETIC COACHES. PERHAPS NONE OF THEM HAS GOTTEN SO COMPLETELY AWAY FROM IT ALL AS THE FORMER G-MAN WHO IS NOW A BEACHCOMBER IN THE VIRGIN ISLANDS.

EX-SPECIAL AGENTS SAY THERE ARE TWO MAIN REASONS FOR LEAVING THE F-B-I. ONE IS THAT A MAN WITH QUALIFICATIONS IT TAKES TO BE A SPECIAL AGENT CAN USUALLY MAKE MORE MONEY IN PRIVATE INDUSTRY. ANOTHER IS THAT WHEN YOU'RE IN THE F-B-I YOU JUST DON'T HAVE ANYTHING RESEMBLING A PERMANENT HOME. YOU NEVER KNOW WHEN YOU'RE GOING TO BE TRANSFERRED TWO THOUSAND MILES AWAY.

FOR SOME REASON, EX-F-B-I MEN USUALLY RAISE LARGE FAMILIES. MILTON TOYD---NOW THE PURCHASING AGENT FOR A BREWING COMPANY IN DETROIT---HAS SEVEN CHILDREN. THE DYNAMIC DIRECTOR OF THE MIAMI CRIME COMMISSION---DANNY SULLIVAN---HAS 11.

PARKER---THE DETROIT PRESIDENT---SAYS ONE OF THE MAIN BONDS THAT KEEPS F-B-I MEN TOGETHER EVEN AFTER THEY'VE TAKEN OUTSIDE JOBS IS THEIR LOYALTY TO ONE MAN---J. EDGAR HOOVER, THE F-B-I DIRECTOR.

"THE'S ONE BIG REASON THAT MOST OF US STAYED ON THE JOB EVEN WHEN THE GOING WAS ROUGHEST," PARKER SAYS. "AND ALL OF US WILL BE LOYAL TO HIM UNTIL OUR DYING DAY."

Society Former FBI Agents

The Executives Conference, consisting of Messrs. Tolson, [redacted] Belmont, Mohr, Harbo, Clegg, Ladd, Rosen, Glavin, Quinn Tamm and Nichols, considered the proposal advanced by several former Agents for the creation of an organization which would have as its basic purpose the defense of the Bureau, the providing of the Bureau with a reserve, the briefing of former Agents as to problems confronting the Bureau, and creating a link of communication between former Agents, whose basic loyalties are inherent in the Bureau, and the Bureau itself.

b6

The Conference was advised in detail regarding the proposal, which is set forth in greater detail in the attached memorandum. It may be observed at this point that the proposals were discussed by Messrs. [redacted] with Messrs. Tracy, [redacted] and Nichols.

029-131

The idea of the former Agents in the creation of an organization, which they will call either "The FBI Reserve" or "The FBI Reserve Association," is that the governing body of such a group would be a board of governors, consisting of seven people, which would be a self-perpetuating body and would constitute the legislative body for the organization. It was contemplated that this group would incorporate in the District of Columbia; that in the incorporation a specific proviso would be set forth in the charter pointing out that the organization would be dissolved at any time in the future should the FBI withdraw the use of its name. In this connection, Mr. Mohr made the very excellent observation that probably it would be better to have phraseology to the effect that the organization would be dissolved by a majority vote of the board of governors.

The former Agents would set definite standards for admission to membership and, in fact, membership would be by invitation from the board of governors and not by application and would require unanimous action. Basically, invitations would be extended to former Agents who had served a minimum of two years in the Bureau and resigned in good standing. In selecting persons to whom invitations would be sent, the following factors would be taken into consideration, any one of which would be sufficient grounds to negate the invitation: The record of the individual while in the Bureau; the nature of his experience; his character and reputation after leaving the Bureau; his current activities, occupation and standing in his community; his availability for service considering such factors as age, health, nature of employment together with such other factors as may be pertinent along with capacity to make contributions to the purposes of the organization. There would be a specific proviso to the effect that membership in the organization is a privilege to be withdrawn at any time by the board of governors, that conduct of members would have to be exemplary and consistent with the policies of the organization and the Bureau as well.

It was the considered judgment of the former Agents that while they would want the active cooperation of representatives of the Bureau in the planning stages and after the organization is created, for official purposes this would be on an informal basis, and that the board of governors would take full and complete responsibility for the actions of the organization. It was their considered judgment that while no doubt charges could be made, in fact no criticism could be attached to the FBI or the Director for the actions of this organization. The three former Agents, in discussing this matter, observed that with such an organization, with a paid executive secretary, with a channel of communications, with local chapters, that they could render a great service in bulwarking the Bureau; that there would arise situations wherein they could step in and do a job which the Bureau could not do officially; that they had no doubt that there would be instances wherein individuals with a peculiar attitude toward the Bureau and whose actions were not compatible with the Bureau could be straightened out by the actions of the former Agents.

For example, [redacted] observed that he had no doubt but that a group of former Agents could have straightened out [redacted] even during the days when he was campaigning for Congress, and certainly he could have been straightened out and kept from making some of the wild statements he has made since he has been in Congress.

Messrs. Tolson, Belmont, Mohr and Harbo are opposed to the creation of any such organization. Their basic objection is predicated upon the following reasons:

1. Should the board of governors refuse to invite any former Special Agent to affiliate with the organization, then this former Agent would entertain a hostile view toward the Bureau and the Director and would blame the Director for his not being appointed.
2. Members of this organization would misuse their affiliation with the organization and capitalize for personal gain and for personal reasons upon the name and reputation of the organization and its affiliation with the Bureau.

3. The Bureau would lose more than it would gain by such an organization; that many former Agents are now rendering a vital service to the Bureau who probably could not become members of the reserve and thus would become prejudiced to the Bureau.

1. Such an organization would provide a channel of communication and a means whereby the loyalty of former Agents could be kept alive and utilized for the best interests of the Bureau, it being observed that numerous former Agents want to help but don't know what to do.

2. The contemplated organization would negate unfavorable criticism toward the Director and the Bureau on the part of individuals who failed to receive invitations as they would be opposed by the former Agents themselves. Since it would be a privilege to belong to such an organization, any person not selected would be most reluctant to make an issue out of this.

The former Agents in discussing the matter previously observed that whenever an individual was dismissed from the Bureau's service there was a possibility of creating hostility. If this view were carried to its logical conclusion, applicants to the Bureau who are rejected could become hostile, which has not been the case.

3. The organization would prohibit the use of insignia or membership cards. The broad, basic principles of the organization would provide for the proper use of affiliation with the organization. Any capitalizing upon affiliation with the organization would be unethical and subject one to dismissal from the organization. In fact, it was contemplated they would sign, in accepting the invitation, a document which would contain phraseology that would prohibit the improper use of the name of the organization or capitalizing upon the Bureau.

It was further observed that former Agents could do this anyway if they were so inclined, i. e., the proclivities of Messrs. Kerley and Velde, who have not been shrinking violets when it came to throwing the Bureau's name around.

4. Such an organization would provide the Bureau with a trained reserve who would be readily accessible, readily available, who could be called for emergency service. In this connection, the former Agents observed that there would be no point in creating such an organization unless it could be utilized to further the Bureau's interests. Certainly, it would be to the Bureau's advantage to have several thousand former Agents who would be readily available in case of great emergency, who could be called on the phone and told what to do and would know how to go about doing it.

Obviously, such a procedure would be received enthusiastically by the public, who would approve the Director's foresight in making provision for such an auxiliary in the event of extreme emergency. An organization such as contemplated would within a very short period of time completely eradicate the disadvantages occasioned by the current Society of Former Special Agents.

5. It was the unanimous belief, even of those opposing the idea, that if we were to have such an organization there could be no better time for its creation than the present. It was further observed, by the former Agents as well as those voting on behalf of the creation of such an organization, that there is not a single activity in the Bureau that was not launched in the face of potential criticism. Surely, former Agents who served with credit in the Bureau can be trusted to the extent of equally giving a good account of themselves as has been the case with graduates of the National Academy, and no thinking former Special Agent could reconcile an adverse view on the idea while at the same time the Bureau promotes the FBI National Associates. Some 14 years of experience with the National Associates have not brought on any problems that were insurmountable or that reflected discredit to the Bureau.

Should the majority view be approved a program of implementing the idea will be prepared.

Respectfully,
For the Conference

"FBI RESERVE" OR FBI RESERVE ASSOCIATION

*file

I. PURPOSE

1. It is to serve as a trained reserve or auxiliary in time of emergency.
2. It will provide a method whereby experienced, loyal, former Agents dedicated to the purposes of the FBI will serve a common cause.
3. It provides a means whereby former Agents may, in a more intelligent manner, discharge their responsibilities as citizens.
4. In achieving the above purposes it will be something more than a social organization. The FBI National Academy Associates establishes a precedence for an organization as above outlined.

II. ORGANIZATION

1. There shall be a Board of Governors consisting of 7 members who were formerly Special Agents of the FBI. This Board of Governors shall constitute the activating committee for this proposed organization. The present 3 former Agents, Messrs. Tom Donegan, Spencer Drayton, and Ed Morgan, will appoint 4 more members to the Board after, of course, appropriate clearance with the Bureau. Members will be selected bearing in mind the geographical location of the members to insure that there is a reasonable distribution throughout the United States. Former Agents mentioned as possibilities for appointment were:

had Ray Whitley
John Bugas
Al Berens
P. Kitchen

2. The initial Board of Governors would serve for a period of two years after which a new member would be selected each year by the unanimous action of the Board of Governors. This would in effect mean that the original Board of 7 would designate among themselves the period for which they are to serve, one would be for 7 years, 1 for 6 years, 1 for 5 years, etc. There would then be a new member coming coming on the Board each year and an old member leaving.

3. The organization would be incorporated in the District of Columbia.
4. The headquarters of the organization would be Washington, D. C. Any local chapters deemed necessary would follow generally the territory covered by a particular field office. Local chapters would be approved and chartered by the Board of Governors.
5. A constitution and by-laws would be drafted in considerable detail by the Board of Governors after consultation with designated Bureau officials.
6. The Board of Governors would be the legislative and governing body.
7. The Board of Governors initially would select the officers consisting of president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer. An executive secretary would be employed on a full time basis. After the first year, the Board of Governors would appoint a nominating committee. The candidates chosen by the nominating committee for officers would be submitted to the membership for a vote.
8. The Board of Governors would meet at Washington. During the initial stages of developing the organization frequent meetings will probably be necessary.
9. The charter would include a provision that the organization can be dissolved at any time in the future by the FBI withdrawing the use of its name. Messrs. Donegan, Drayton, and Morgan unanimously indicated that at any time when the Director felt there was no longer any need for such an organization that it would be immediately dissolved.

III. MEMBERSHIP

1. Membership would be by invitation to former FBI Agents from the Board of Governors.
2. Invitations may be issued by the Board of Governors to former Special Agents of the FBI having a minimum of two years of service in the FBI and resignation in good standing. In addition the Board of Governors would consider the following:
 - a - Character of record while in FBI
 - b - Nature of experience in the FBI
 - c - Character and reputation after leaving FBI

- d - Current activities, occupation and standing in the community
 - e - Availability for service considering such factors as health, age, nature of present employment, and such other causes as may be pertinent.
 - f - Apparent capacity to make effective contributions to the purposes of the organization.
3. Initiation fee and annual dues would be determined according to the necessary requirements for the proper administration of the organization.
 4. Membership in the organization shall be a privilege and may be withdrawn at any time by the Board of Governors when the activity of a member is incommensurate with best interests of the FBI or the FBI Reserve.
 5. There shall be no membership cards or insignia.

IV. ACTIVITIES

1. In order to more effectively realize the purposes of the organization liaison shall be maintained with the Bureau as deemed necessary and advisable. (After the organization becomes established it is anticipated SACs may be invited to attend local meetings; meetings and contacts will be somewhat in the nature of the relationship existing between the FBI and the FBI National Academy; meetings might be held in Washington of the entire membership with arrangements made to go to Quantico.)
2. A periodical would be sent to members from the national headquarters of the reserve. The frequency of these periodicals would be determined by experience. These could be restricted to members only and treated on a confidential basis, if deemed necessary.

NOTE:

The above basic principles of the new organization were suggestions made by Messrs. Donegan, Drayton, and Morgan, who met at the Bureau on Wednesday, March 8, 1950, and presented their suggestions to Messrs. Nichols, Tracy, and Carlson.

Messrs. Donegan, Drayton, and Moregn were unanimously of the opinion that the organization can perform a very valuable function in a very effective manner for the FBI. They were confident that any details such as the drafting of a constitution, by-laws, incorporation, selection of members, could all be worked out most satisfactorily. They all felt that with approximately 4,000 or 5,000 former Special Agents of the FBI, the vast majority of whom are loyal and enthusiastic supporters of the FBI, that much good could be accomplished with a closer relationship existing. They were also confident that in any type of emergency these men could be relied upon for immediate and effective service. They felt that the organization should grow as rapidly as possible and include a substantial number of these former Agents who could meet the requirements and pass all of the items to be considered prior to invitation to membership.

This is to advise that I am in receipt of a letter from ROBERT W. DICK, President of the above captioned society, advising me that he is sending me a copy of the 1951 directory of members of this society.

This is being brought to the Bureau's attention since apparently copies of this directory are being sent to all Special Agents in Charge. In the event the Bureau does not receive any copies of this directory and would be interested in receiving the copy sent here, I should be glad to forward it to the Bureau. Otherwise it will be destroyed.

I received your communication of January 25, 1951, and it was thoughtful of you to advise that you received my photograph.

Your suggestion concerning a "reserve" force for the Bureau during times of emergency is appreciated, but I wish to point out that we are not authorized to maintain such reserves.

b6

Our work, although it has been greatly increased by the critical world situation, is being performed by regularly appointed Special Agents. Of course, if any present member of the Society of Former Special Agents is desirous of consideration for re-appointment I will consider his application and in each instance decision would be made strictly on individual merit.

Thank you for your kind good wishes and I hope sometime we will have the opportunity meeting again.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Thank-you ever so much for your letter and photograph which arrived recently. I greatly appreciate your doing this for me.

We recently had a meeting of the Phila. chapter of the X FBI Society. Society of former F.B.I. Agents [redacted] was the speaker of the evening before about 22 X-agents. The thought was expressed by him and others that it would be a wonderful thing if there could be some liason between the Bureau and the Society. However, the Army, Navy etc all have their "reserves" and it would be advantageous for the Bureau, I think, if some contact could be maintained and thus keep the X-agents enthusiasm for the Bureau alive.

A noted liberal examines the record of the FBI and finds "a fervid insistence on protecting the rights of individuals"

Why I No Longer Fear the FBI

By Morris L. Ernst

Counsel for the American Civil Liberties Union; author of "The First Freedom," "America's Primer," etc.

STILL remember my start of surprise when I read in the paper one morning in 1939 that J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, had asked the U. S. Attorney General not to endorse a law that would legalize a free use of wire-tapping. Why was Mr. Hoover opposing a law which would make his own work much easier? His own words, published soon afterward, gave me the answer: "I do not wish to be the head of an organization of potential blackmailers."

I had been hearing criticisms that the FBI was made up of "witch-hunters" hounding loyal citizens out of their jobs on the flimsiest sort of rumor; that they tapped telephone wires indiscriminately, learning everybody's private business.

Ever since I read that newspaper item I have been studying the FBI.

I would like to record here what I have learned.

As a liberal with a long record of aggressive fighting for the preservation of personal liberties, I am inclined to view all law-enforcement officers with a wary eye. And not without reason: too many times they break the law in the performance of their duties.

I grew up in New York where there was often a wanton disregard for the rights and dignity of human beings. Large numbers of newcomers to American freedom let the cops bulldoze them. In their native lands they had been used to police brutalities, and in their new home they did not know that the laws protected them.

Such disregard of individual rights, expanded on a national scale, seemed to me a positive danger, for national police have almost invariably abused their power. It was therefore utterly confounding to me to discover that our federal police agency was doing its work with a fervid insistence on respecting the rights and privileges of individuals.

When a skeptical person like myself reads that of all the trials in which the FBI was involved last year 97 percent ended in conviction, he is likely to have cynical reservations. And when he learns that 94 percent of the convictions were based on pleas of guilty, he is bound to ask: "How were these confessions obtained?"

Nazi and Communist courts have taught us that a plea of guilty may prove nothing more than that a man's will can be broken. One rarely hears such charges against the FBI. In our courts of appeal — where accusations are heard of unfair treatment and violations of Constitutional rights — the charge is almost never raised against the FBI.

However, I did not rely on this indication alone, nor even on my study of case reports. I wrote articles in which I asked readers to send me any evidence they might have that the FBI had violated a person's Constitutional rights. My scoreboard shows a remarkable absence of such accusations. On the contrary, all the evidence indicates that the FBI as a matter of unvarying policy has played fair with criminals and suspects.

This record is of profound importance because events in recent years have brought the FBI into quasipolitical problems. Here the danger to personal liberties could easily become acute. The necessity for inquiring into political activities and associations is a new thing in our country. We began this nation with a great gamble in our hearts — the conviction that, if all opposing viewpoints were allowed free expression, truth in the end would win out.

The progress of our country has so far justified our forefathers' faith in the potency of truth. But in the last 20 years a new enemy — and a complex problem — has arisen to confuse us. New political movements, by underhanded methods, seek to by-pass the honest competition of ideas. We face an invisible underground where Fascists and Communists work furtively and zealously against our freedom and our ideas of decency.

Something had to be done about that, and the FBI had to do it. What was its task? To bring the facts up from underground so that all the people can know what is being plotted.

It is natural that loyalty investigations should give us qualms. We shudder to authorize wire-tapping and other forms of spying. But they seem necessary if we are to preserve our freedom. They have been forced upon us by the underground.

I am unwilling to ignore the danger of the Communist movement in the United States just because the Reds seem few in number. I saw my friend Jan Masaryk, Czechoslovakia's democratic Foreign Minister, in Prague not long before he came to his end. I know intimately the story of Quisling. I know how helpless democratic forces can be, if they do not protect their people against the secret discipline, the abominably careful scheming of totalitarian minorities.

WHY I NO LONGER FEAR THE FBI

The Communists could never win an election in the United States. They do not expect to do so. The Communist program, like the Ku Klux Klan, can grow only by stealth in dark cellars. J. Edgar Hoover was right when he stood firmly against a plan to outlaw the Communist Party when the first public outcry was made against the Communists. Why drive more of them underground? All that such an act could ever outlaw would be a name. The next day the same revolutionists would turn up under a new title.

Until Congress is wise enough to pass laws which force open operation of all mass movements, we shall have to protect ourselves against secretly organized attack. We can bring all subversive outfits into the open by requiring all mass movements to report to the Government the essential facts about themselves — the names of all their officials, the money they take in and from whom it comes, and how it is spent.

I suggest that the McCarran bill recently passed by Congress will not work because the Communists will either put their organizations underground or abandon them to start other organizations for the same purposes under other names.

The requirement to disclose essential facts is no invasion of privacy. The President's Committee on Civil Rights unanimously recommended that such laws be passed; represented on the committee are members of the AFL, the CIO and various minority groups. No decent organization hesitates to identify itself; why should any other kind of organization be protected?

Even without such laws, the FBI has handled delicate problems well. On Pearl Harbor Day the bureau was able to advise the Attorney General of the basis for authorizing the arrest of some 16,000 persons. A few of the 16,000 became my clients. I defended them before hearing boards and was able to help free some of them. In every case there were fair hearings, with every consideration being shown to the defense.

And although I was the lawyer for certain acquitted suspects, I must admit that Mr. Hoover had a justification in picking up my clients; there was cause for suspicion, and no injustice was done.

One Jewish refugee was picked up because she had entertained one of Hitler's most potent underground spies. But it was easy for me to produce conclusive evidence that my client did not know her guest was a Nazi. She was set free — but the authorities had been right to bring her in for questioning.

Largely as a result of the trials of Judith Coplon and Valentin Gubitchev, there has been publicity and much argument about "listening in," but both sides seem to overlook the real purpose of FBI wire-tapping and its actual extent.

One of the greatest liberals said in 1941: "I do not believe it [wire-tapping] should be used to prevent domestic crimes, with possibly one exception — kidnaping and extortion in the Federal sense. There is, however, one field in which, given the conditions in the world today, wire-tapping is very much in the public interest. This nation is arming for national defense. It is the duty of our people to take every step to protect themselves. I have no compunction in saying that wire-tapping should be used against those persons, not citizens of the United States, and those few citizens who are traitors to their country, who today are engaged in espionage or sabotage against the United States."

This statement was made by President Franklin D. Roosevelt. In fact he established the policy which has since been adhered to by the Attorneys General. Note, however, that FBI agents never undertake wire-tapping on their own authority; permission must first be obtained from the Attorney General. Furthermore, wire-tapping evidence cannot be used in federal courts. Its only value to the FBI is in opening up leads for inquiry.

The loyalty-investigation program has created a misconception about the FBI's function. Every American should understand that the FBI does not try Government employes. It merely serves various Government bodies as a reporting agency. When a reporting agency has the power to edit, it can make anyone appear a devil or a hero. But the FBI does not edit. It gathers the facts about a federal employe and turns over its findings to the head of the department. And that is all it does, or can do, except that it frequently is able to save a suspect in his job when rumor is doing its best to get him fired. J. Edgar Hoover cannot fire a single person. His reports do not even contain recommendations. The FBI turns in all the evidence it finds — including unverified tips, rumors, gossip — everything. It adds comments and evaluation of their accuracy, and there its responsibility ends. It is up to the heads of administrative agencies to act.

It would be folly to ignore rumors, or even anonymous messages; an unsigned note was instrumental in sending the notorious General Meyers* to prison. Ditto for thousands of less spectacular examples. To abandon that policy would be to assign to Hoover's assistants the duty, and the power, to screen the reports. I should be very much disturbed if police agents were permitted to withhold evidence on their judgment of its value. Far better the present system: the complete reports go to the responsible official; every-

This organization which has been in existence since 1937, represents approximately 2,000 former Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Recently, there was a scurrilous attack on the work of that Bureau in a book entitled "The Federal Bureau of Investigation". We understand every member of Congress was furnished with a free copy of this book by the publisher and/or the author.

The members of this Society consider the book not only an attack on the Federal Bureau of Investigation and its Director, Mr. Hoover, but also an attack on our entire membership, all of whom have formerly been associated with the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The allegations and insinuations in the book that ex-F. B. I. Agents are labor spies are unwarranted, unjust and without any basis in fact. In fact, the vast majority of our membership are either practicing attorneys or certified public accountants. The remainder hold responsible positions in Industry and the Government. Several former Agents are members of the judiciary and others are members of Congress. All our members having been Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation certainly have first-hand knowledge about the work of the Bureau, and we wish to record our objections to this book in the strongest possible terms.

The book was presented to the public as an objective work and in the interests of national security. We are sure if you have examined the book, you will have found that it is neither. You have probably noted the author's tricky placement of material out of context and that he has compiled nothing but derogatory remarks. The author has failed to make any mention of the Bureau for the 14 year period between 1924 and 1938, and its outstanding achievements in that particular period.

We could comment upon the book at length but realize that the charge of prejudice could always be levelled at us because of our prior association with the Federal Bureau of Investigation. It is for that reason that we wish to bring forcibly to your attention the attached article appearing in the December 1950 issue of "Reader's Digest" by Morris L. Ernst, Counsel, American Civil Liberties Union.

We have made no effort to determine when Mr. Ernst prepared his article for the "Reader's Digest" but are confident that it was a mere coincidence that it appeared in print about the time of the publication of the book, "The Federal Bureau of Investigation". We are sure Mr. Ernst is free of prejudice and that his article is a complete refutation of the attack made in the book upon the Bureau. You will note Mr. Ernst states he has been studying the Bureau since 1939. When one who has dedicated himself to the preservation of personal liberties to the extent that Mr. Ernst has, gives his approval to the operation of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, you can be sure that such approbation was not lightly given.

Dear Mr. Dick:

I sincerely appreciate receiving your communication of January 23, 1951, together with a copy of your letter of January 22, 1951.

I had the pleasure of reading the extension of remarks by the Honorable Mike Mansfield on the floor of the House of Representatives on last Thursday. At that time he incorporated into the Congressional Record your letter of the 22nd and the article "Why I No Longer Fear the FBI" by Morris L. Ernst. I want to congratulate you for your most effective and far-reaching efforts on our behalf. Your fellow members of the Society of Former Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Inc., are in an excellent position to know of the numerous inaccuracies, distortions and half-truths which appeared in Lowenthal's publication. The so-called "objective" study is indeed only an attempt to discredit our organization and was prompted by an ulterior motive.

Please extend to the members of your society my sincere thanks for the stalwart defense and excellent judgment in following the course of action set forth in your communication.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

My dear Mr. Hoover:

I want you to know that the Society, through its Public Relations and Executive Committees gave considerable consideration to the book entitled "The Federal Bureau of Investigation" by Max Lowenthal. It was our considered opinion that the several columnists and book reviews appearing in the daily papers had done a very good job in behalf of the Bureau. Every indication was that the book would not be widely read and we, therefore, deemed it unwise to communicate with the publishers or to make a public release of any kind because such a release would possibly attract more attention to the book.

RECORDING
JAN 24 1951

It is our understanding that a copy of this book was furnished to every member of Congress, and we have today mailed to each member of the House of Representatives, the United States Senate, the Attorney General and the President of the United States a letter as is enclosed. Each member of the Society is being furnished with a copy of this letter, and we are publishing an article prepared by Tom McDade in the "Grapevine", which will appear in the next couple of weeks. You will, of course, be furnished with a copy of the "Grapevine", and I believe that you will find that Mr. McDade has treated the book very effectively. The purpose of publishing this article in the "Grapevine" is to better inform our membership, so that in case any member of the Society should attempt a discussion of the book by Mr. Lowenthal, they will be informed.

The Society believes that the action taken by it will meet with your approval, and it has been a pleasure to have your assistance to the Bureau and yourself.

Very truly yours,
